MARINES WILL BE RUSHED TO END NICARAGUA FRAY

United States Orders 1600 More South on Eve of New Battle; Latimer Says "No Need"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A force of 1600 additional American marines is under orders to go to Nicaragua to put an end to bloodshed and disorder in that country. Two hundred men aboard the cruiser Trenton are to be rushed from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Corinto. Another 200 will proceed from San Diego, Cal. A full regiment, 1200 strong, is scheduled to sail from the United States aboard the naval transport Henderson.

The outcome of an impending battle between Liberal and Conservative forces at Matagalpa probably will decide the exact use Rear-Admiral Latimer will make of the additional forces to be placed at his disposal. The Washington government does not know in detail the number of troops facing each other at Matagalpa, but disclosure today of the orders which will increase American marine detachments in Nicaragua fourfold indicates the grave doubt entertained by President Coolidge and his advisers that the Matagalpa battle can be averted.

EXPLANATION LACKING

No explanation was made at the State and Navy Departments of the immediate reason for sending additional marines to Nicaragua. The 200 men to be sent from Guantanamo to Corinto will supplement 400 marines now insuring order at Managua, capital of the Diaz government.

They also will be available to keep open the Corinto-Managua railroad, in the event that Admiral Latimer decides to employ his reinforcements for the establishment of neutral zones at Matagalpa or elsewhere in a further effort to smother the Liberal attack on the Diaz government.

It also was announced today that the remaining 2500 marines serving as portoffice mail guards have been withdrawn. They will assemble at the Quantico (Va.) and San Diego naval bases.

SEAPLANES ON DUTY

Orders to the marine detachment at San Diego to embark for Nicaragua were disclosed yesterday, simultaneously with the announcement that a division of six naval seaplanes also had been assigned to duty at Corinto. The transport Henderson still is at Philadelphia, but was expected to sail by tomorrow for Newport, R. I., to take aboard 800 bluejacket recruits for the fleet at Guantanamo.

Secretary Wilbur said today that on her way south from Newport the ship will pick up 1000 marines at Quantico, Va., and 200 more at the Parris Island (S. C.) station. Whether she will proceed first to Guantanamo to transfer the bluejackets to the fleet or go directly to Nicaragua, probably via the Panama Canal to Corinto, was not disclosed.

Some State Department officials today expressed the opinion that these additional naval forces will be sufficient to cope with any eventuality in Nicaragua. They believe that it will not be possible for the Liberal claimant to the Presidency, Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, to prevent the clash at Matagalpa, even if he were prepared to enter into peace negotiations with the Diaz faction.

These officials see signs that the

FARM BILL VOTE WINS

M'Nary Measure Passes House

Goes to Coolidge With Opinion Divided as to Veto Possibility

Provides Disposal of Surplus Crops and Imposition of Equalization Fee

...mittee and Chairman McNary of the Senate Agriculture Committee, is de...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill was passed tonight by the House in exactly the form approved by the Senate. The vote was 214 to 178, a margin of thirty-six votes.

It now goes directly to President Coolidge with Congressional opinion divided over whether he will veto the measure or permit it to become a law.

The bill proposes creation of a Federal farm board with power to levy an equalization fee on six basic agricultural commodities for the purpose of controlling surpluses.

By passing the measure, the House in less than twelve months reversed its position, having, by a vote of 212 to 167 last spring rejected a bill embodying the same general provisions. Two years ago it also voted down a bill by the same name with similar provisions.

The Senate, by passing the bill, 47 to 39, last week, also reversed its position, having rejected the equalization-fee plan this year.

THREE ITEMS CUT

Inclusion of tobacco and rice and the elimination of cattle as basic farm commodities was credited generally for the increase in strength mustered by the bill. The basic commodities in the measure as it goes to the President are swine, wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and rice.

The House took up the bill today with little expectation of a final vote before tomorrow. By holding a majority on the floor at all times, however, the McNary-Haugen supporters kept legislative machinery proceeding at a rapid pace and rejected one after another the more than 100 amendments offered by opponents.

Just before the bill came up for final passage tonight, after nine hours' continuous session, Representative Aswell, Democrat, Louisiana, offered his relief proposal as a substitute, but it was shelved on a roll-call vote, 214 to 175.

OTHERS VOTED DOWN

At the outset of today's session his bill had been rejected, 160 to 144, and then the Curtis-Crisp farm measure was turned down, 177 to 156. Without record votes two other substitutes were defeated, one a farm debenture plan sponsored by Representative Jones, Democr..., Texas. The other, offered by Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland, was the Curtis-Aswell national commodity measure, rejected last year.

Disposing of these attempted substitutions, Chairman Haugen of the Agriculture Committee, pressed his bill toward a vote. No dinner recess was taken, although Representative Tilson, the Republican leader, proposed adjournment. His motion was defeated, 196 to 170, and reading of the bill for amendments continued into the night.

The measure, framed jointly by Chairman Haugen of the House com-

Colorado High Water Coming

Emergency Levees Thrown Up to Protect Imperial Valley Ranches

Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Joins Appeal to Congress for Aid

CALEXICO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Teams, tools and men are being rushed to the Imperial Valley river front today to throw up emergency levees to protect the district against a flash flood that is reported coming down the Colorado as a result of recent rains. Reports from Denver last night announced that a 85,000-foot flood discharge is due at the Imperial heading from the upper drainage basin in four days. In addition to this a big head of flood water is reported to be coming down the Gila from Arizona. This water will enter the main stream just above Yuma and Imperial Valley. Engineers anticipate that the combined discharge from the two streams may reach 75,000 second feet. The peak of the main flood that broke through Imperial Valley levees last June was 72,000 second feet.

The discharge at Yuma increased 25,300 cubic feet in the twenty-four hours previous to the reading today by the United States Reclamation Service, today's figure being 35,800 cubic feet against 10,500 cubic feet yesterday. The river rose 4.2 feet.

This temporary high water is insignificant compared with the flood which may be expected in May and June, when the great snow pack on the Colorado River watershed melts and starts the river on its annual rampage.

The directors of the Calexico Chamber of Commerce today adopted resolutions appealing to Congress for funds for emergency flood protection against the June rise. The chamber also wired Riverside asking that its Chamber of Commerce take similar action.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, largest and most influential commercial organization in California, yesterday joined the long list of associations, business firms and individuals demanding immediate action to prevent the inundation of Imperial Valley when the snows along the Colorado melt in early summer.

The Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, which has a large farm membership and close affiliation with the co-operative marketing association of the county, also telegraphed Washington a demand for emergency legislation, as did the Affiliated Improvement Associations of Los Angeles City and County, an organization representing approximately 300,000 taxpayers.

Other organizations which took similar action included the Calexico Chamber of Commerce, a Brawley citizens' committee, the San Bernardino County Federation of Women's Clubs, the Norwalk Chamber of Commerce, the Norwalk Forum Club, the South Los Angeles Boosters' Club, the Republican Study Club, the Republican Round Table Club of Los Angeles County, the Wednesday Morning Club, the Hollywood Aero Club and the Whittier Women's Club, together with many individuals.

FOUR HELD IN FLOOD TRAP

Family on Island Faces Death As Water Rises; Worst of Arizona Storm Over

PHOENIX, Feb. 17. (AP)—Trapped by the raging Salt River, four persons awaited probable death on a little island about a mile from here late this afternoon. It was reliably reported that a two-foot rise was coming down the river which would wash over the island.

An attempt to rescue the marooned family—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes and two children—failed when an all-steel boat piloted by the Holmes' 17-year-old son, Milton, was swept past the island by the torrent. Milton Holmes and two companions, William and James Pike, made land safely. Another attempt at rescue was to be made late today.

ARIZONA STORM ENDS
BUT RIVERS STILL RISING

PHOENIX, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) The general storm has broken in Arizona, with sunshine reported today from all points save Flagstaff, where snow was falling. The Gila, Verde, Agua Fria and Hassayampa still are raging torrents, with Salt River held back by the Roosevelt dam. With the streams combined at the Gillespie dam, that structure is reported seven feet under water, with some apprehension concerning possible damage down the Gila, which is adding very materially to the flow of the Colorado at Yuma. The Verde flow in the Salt River channel rose five feet today at the Central-avenue bridge and was about a mile wide.

A large family was marooned on a river island several miles below, but is reported by the Sheriff's office to

MOVE TO PROTECT VALLEY

Amendment Now Considered to Swing-Johnson Bill for Emergency and Conference Discusses Floods

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Although apparently coming too late to have any effect upon Colorado River legislation at this session of Congress an amendment to the Swing-Johnson bill to permit emergency protection of Imperial Valley during the period of constructing the proposed Boulder Dam is under consideration here by the bill's proponents.

Under conditions existing in the House and Senate such amendment will not be acceptable to those opposing enactment of the bill, and unless presented independently and as a supplement to the permanent work proposed, will result only in relegating emergency legislation to the same hopeless position in which the Swing-Johnson bill itself has landed.

The critical nature of the situation facing Imperial Valley was discussed at length today at a conference attended by W. M. Carr of Pasadena of the Boulder Dam Association, W. B. Mathews, chief counsel for the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light; Ralph Criswell, Los Angeles Councilman; Charles L. Childers, attorney for the Imperial Valley Irrigation District; Mayor Bacon of San Diego, Mark Rose, director of the Imperial Irrigation District, and J. C. Allison, civil engineer of El Centro, who presented maps and photographs showing the present condition of the river.

FEARS OVERFLOW

It was contended by Mr. Allison that there is great probability of a serious overflow of the river within four months if extensive protective measures are not taken at once. Mr. Allison, who assisted in stopping the disastrous flood of 1906-07 and who has been engaged in flood-control operations on the Lower Colorado continuously for more than twenty years, estimated that the initial cost of strengthening the levee system to meet the first stages of the flood will approximate $200,000 and that a much larger sum should be made available for maintenance of levees through the flood period.

Although Mr. Allison indicated his unwillingness to venture upon a prediction as to the total sum that he believes will be required to adequately care for the flood situation during the period that must elapse before any permanent construction can affect the river's flood flow, it is understood that engineering experts are agreed that the cost will not be less than from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000.

RICH WOMEN WRITE SONG AND WORDS

Mrs. Edith McCormick and Mrs. Freer of Gold Coast Court Muses

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick of Chicago, long a patron of the world of music, again has stepped to the other side of the musical footlights. She has written the words for a new song by Eleanor Everest Freer, "I Write Not to Thee, Dearest."

Mrs. Freer and Mrs. McCormick are among the most prominent of the wealthy supporters of music in Chicago and particularly of the Chicago Civic Opera Company. They are Gold Coast neighbors, also.

Mrs. Freer has composed many musical works, perhaps the best known being a volume of forty-four songs from the Portuguese, a song circle for medium voices. It has been described as "colossal work," by musical authorities. Mrs. McCormick wrote the words for another Freer lyric.

The words for "I Write Not to Thee, Dearest," are:

"I write not to thee, dearest,
I write to what thou art,
For the brightness of thy face, dearest,
Blinds thee from my heart.
I write not of thee, dearest,
I write of what thou art.
For the radiance of thy soul, dearest,
Obscures thee from my heart.
The fairest dew of God-made morn,
Is frail enough to be the tears
That fall from my eyes, dearest,
Because I cannot see."

SHIP FEARED LOST AT SEA WITH CREW

Disabled Freighter and Craft Attempting Aid Fail to Answer Radio Calls

MANILA, Feb. 16. (AP)—Fear that the Shipping Board freighter Elkton had been lost with all hands on board was expressed here today by the Admiral Line, operators of the vessel.

The Elkton, disabled in a heavy sea, sent out wireless calls for aid, giving her position as 200 miles west of Iloilo, in the Philippines. The American steamer Liberator responded to the call of distress, and rushed through the night to the side of the Elkton.

Attempts early today to reach either steamer by radio failed.

The steamer Liberator, another shipping board vessel, which responded to the distres call of the Elkton, messaged that it had searched the entire area given by the latter ship as its location without finding either the stricken freighter or open boats to which the crew might have taken.

The Elkton carried a crew of 36 men and was en route from the Visayan Islands, Phillippines, to Honolulu, with a cargo of sugar. Earlier in the day the vessel was reported to be in serious difficulties, wallowing disabled with a gale blowing.

The Elkton was of 6318 tons and was built in 1919 at Seattle. The Liberator, which stood by to aid her, also is a United States Shipping Board vessel, of 7080 tons.

Subzero Wave Heading for Middle West as Utah Snowslides Kill Four

PLEASANT HILL (La.) Feb. 17. (AP) Eleven are dead, one is missing and two are not expected to live as a result of a tornado which struck a mile and a half south of here at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The dead are Mrs. D. D. Hicks, Kay Hicks, Verdie Ashby, Opal Ashby, Lamar Ashby, Larry Ashby, two small Ashby children, Ruth Bisdell, Mrs. W. J. Brown and Hibert Oates, Jr.

Miss Ruth Free is missing and is believed dead, following the destruction of her home. Her father, Cull Free, is in a critical condition and is expected to die. An unidentified man will die also, it is believed.

The Masonic Temple here was turned into a makeshift hospital as the dead and dying were rushed to this city.

Through the efforts of the Shreveport Times, special nurses, doctors and ambulances from the North Louisiana Sanatorium were sent to Pleasant Hill. Morticians sent two ambulances and provided transportation for the nurses.

Meager information tonight described the tornado as having cut a swath half a mile wide, wrecking houses, barns and other structures.

ST. JOSEPH (La.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Seven negroes were killed here tonight when a tornado struck the Lilia Mat plantation on Lake Bruin near here. Twenty-one were reported injured. Most of the plantation houses along the lake were demolished.

COLD WAVE EXTENDS INTO MIDDLE WEST

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—The cold wave which, swept out of the Far Northwest yesterday to bring four deaths in the mountain country invaded the Middle West and Southwest tonight, bringing sleet, snow and cold.

Temperatures dropped rapidly throughout the Southwest, replacing springlike weather with blooming flowers with that of midwinter. Indications are that the cold will extend wall into Texas.

Rain turned to sleet and snow in parts of Kansas and Missouri and in Kansas City a drop in temperature from 55 deg. at 11 a.m. to below freezing tonight was recorded. Zero weather is predicted for parts of Kansas.

A strong cold northwest wind accompanied the dropping mercury.

SOUTHWEST SUFFERS

The cold wave reached Colorado today and extended into New Mexico, where the mercury fell to 32 deg. this afternoon. Snow blanketed most of Western Colorado and was due in the eastern part of the State tonight.

Many places in Montana and Wyoming suffered subzero temperatures, Havre reporting 34 deg. below zero. Sheridan had zero weather.

Five snowslides on the main line of the Great Northern Railroad between Glacier Park Station in Montana which delayed trains seventeen hours were cleared after work had been halted by a raging blizzard.

Snowslides which swept mining communities near Price, Utah, were responsible for three deaths. Slides occurred on both sides of Indian Summit, blocking traffic into the Utah Basin.

TELEPATHY TRIED BY RADIO

Results of Experiment in Thought Transference Secret of Psychical Society

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—What has been learned by a great wireless telepathy experiment carried out last night when Sir Oliver Lodge, noted scientist, exhorted radio millions of listeners-in to "think hard," is as yet the secret of the Psychical Research Society, which conducted the experiment. This society has been engaged for many years in investigating all occult phenomena and has the support of many eminent persons, including the Earl of Balfour, who always has been keenly interested in such manifestations.

Briefly, an effort was made in last night's experiment to have the "thinkers-in" determine by means of the thought wave the thoughts with relation to certain objects in the minds of a group of men locked in a padded room.

THROUGH PEEP HOLE

Sir Oliver saw these objects through a peephole, and with the others concentrated his thoughts on them, and sought to have thinkers-in receive similar impressions. Notes of these impressions were to be taken and forwarded to the society.

Today's mail brought the society an avalanche of communications, recording impressions ranging over a variety of subjects, from the portrait of Mona Lisa to one of Edward VII, and from a spaniel dog to a cauliflower.

Sir Oliver mentioned last night that the men in the padded room were looking at a playing card and asked, "What card is it?" In response to this every card in the pack including the joker, was named by the "thinkers-in."

FIVE OBJECTS

Announcement was made tonight of the five objects on which the thinkers-in were invited to concentrate. They were first, a playing card, the two of clubs, printed green on a black card. Second, a picture of a human skull on the ground with two birds, one perched on top of the skull and the other looking around to the right. Third, a strongly scented bunch of lilacs; fourth, a playing card, nine of hearts, red on a black card; fifth, a grotesque mask intended to produce a feeling of amusement among the aged.

Whether any of the manifold impressions of the thinkers-in agreed with the thoughts of those carrying on the experiment will be known only when the psychical society has completed its investigations.

CHAMBER TELEGRAM

The board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday directed President McGarry of the chamber to telegraph President Coolidge, Secretary of the Interior Work, Senator Shortridge, Senator Johnson, Representative Fredericks and Representative Lineberger, calling their attention to the seriousness of the Colorado River situation and asking that government aid be provided before the present session of Congress ends. The directors declared they have information that the snowfall in the Colorado watershed is abnormally heavy, causing a serious menace. Their telegram, as dispatched by President McGarry, read:

Our information is that abnormally heavy snowfall in watershed of Colorado River creates most serious menace to Imperial Valley, when run-off comes in spring. We respectfully urge that government aid be provided to meet this emergency before adjournment of present Congress.

Farms and homes and lives of worthy citizens will be endangered if this is neglected. Nothing should be allowed to stand in way of legislative enactment to provide necessary protection from possible floods in river.

[Signed]
LOS ANGELES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
D. F. McGarry, President.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU

The Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, largest farm bureau in the State, with a membership of more than 2000 engaged in agricultural pursuits, and close association with all of the co-operative exchanges in the county, declares the present condition intolerable in telegraphic dispatches sent to Senator Shortridge, Senator Johnson and Representative Fredericks. The messages read:

Los Angeles County Farm Bureau urgently requests your full support to obtain emergency relief measures for Imperial Valley. Position intolerable.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY FARM BUREAU

AFFILIATED ASSOCIATIONS

Resolutions of the Affiliated Improvement Associations, calling for immediate action for emergency Colorado River work, were telegraphed yesterday to the California Congressional delegation at Washington. The Affiliated Improvement Associations of the City and County of Los Angeles is an organization representing 100 local improvement associations, and, according to figures of the Traffic Commission, represents about 300,000 taxpayers. Its offices are at 354 South Spring street. The resolutions read as follows:

Whereas, the Colorado River watershed is covered with the heaviest snowfall since 1905, and as a result there is great danger that at the season of melting, the flood waters resulting therefrom will inundate the Imperial Valley and may cause loss of life and much damage to property and growing crops through the entire extent of the valley, impoverishing hundreds of those engaged in agricultural pursuits, and depriving Los Angeles and other cities in California of the benefit derived from this very important back country, and,

Whereas, such a flood would not only be a great detriment to the State of California, but a national calamity, bringing destruction to one of the nation's greatest agricultural districts, and

Whereas, there is no legislation now pending in Congress to take care of this emergency, and

Whereas, some provision must be made for immediate relief for Imperial Valley against flood dangers, and,

Whereas, there are but two short weeks left for action by Congress upon this matter before adjournment to March 4, 1927.

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Affiliated Improvement Associations of the city and county of Los Angeles, consisting of approximately 100 local improvement associations, through its board of directors in regular session assembled, does hereby petition the honorable members of Congress to take immediate action and make an emergency appropriation to provide for levees and other works of construction necessary and suitable to protect the Imperial Valley against such disaster.

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be telegraphed to representatives at Washington.

Affiliated Improvement Associations of the city and county of Los Angeles.

[Signed]
FRED J. SPRING, President.
L. A. LATTERNER, Secretary.

BRAWLEY CITIZENS

From Brawley, one of the Imperial Valley cities which would be menaced by a break in the Colorado River levees, the following message was sent to President Coolidge, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Representative Swing by H. K. Holtzinger, chairman of a citizens' committee:

At a meeting held at the Methodist church this evening attended by representative citizens of this community it was unanimously requested that appreciation be expressed of the efforts now being made to obtain an appropriation for Colorado River flood control. However, we feel emphatically that this effort should not interfere with Boulder Dam legislation, wich is the permanent need of this valley.

[Signed]
H. K. HOLTZINGER, Chairman.

SAN BERNERDINO CLUBS

The San Bernardino County Federation of Women's Clubs, through its executive board, sent the following appeal to Senator Johnson:

[Signed]
MARY E. PRITCHARD, President.

FROM NORWALK

The Norwalk Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent a message to Senator Shortridge, which read as follows:

[Signed]
W. A. JOHNSON, President.

The Norwalk Forum Club addressed a message to Senator Johnson, also declaring the danger so great as to require immediate action. This message read:

We urge you to use your influence in having Congress take immediate action to safeguard the Imperial Valley from the serious menace that will come with the June overflow of the Colorado River. Immediate action is the only thing that will save the valley from ruin.

[Signed]
L. B. LEWIS, President.

BOOSTERS' CLUB

The South Los Angeles Boosters' Club, a consolidation of six civic organizations south of Florence avenue and north of Gardena, claiming a membership of more than 1000 voters, yesterday sent from its headquarters at 10115 Beach street, the following message to Senator Shortridge:

Colorado flood waters are at the writing of this message endangering life and property in Southern California. We urge our representatives in Washington to brook no delay in removing this menace.

[Signed]
THE SOUTH LOS ANGELES BOOSTERS' CLUB,
Berle D. Maxson, secretary.

REPUBLICAN STUDY CLUB

The Republican Study Club of Los Angeles telegraphed the following resolution to Senator Shortridge at Washington:

The Republican Round Table of Los Angeles county, whose membership includes the presidents of all Federated Republican Clubs of Los Angeles county, representing a membership of 2000 women, respectfully urge Congress to pass an emergency appropriation to reinforce the levees of the Colorado River in order to protect the Imperial Valley from impending floods.

[Signed]
MRS. G. EDWARD WINN, President.

HOLLYWOOD AERO CLUB

Based on recent observation by airplane of Lieut. Earl T. Vance, along the Colorado, during a flight from the Canadian border at Montana through the southern Rockies, the Hollywood Aero Club yesterday dispatched a telegram to Representative Fredericks declaring the situation serious and calling for immediate action, to protect lives and property. The message read:

One of our aviators has just arrived in Los Angeles after making a tour of Imperial Valley, having checked the various land levels and watersheds from the west bank of the Colorado River west as far as the San Bernardino Mountains and from high altitudes obtained a picture of what might happen should the banks of the Colorado River give away at any point east of Imperial Valley.

He reports nothing could possibly arrest the flood of water that would pour into the valley from the river should the river banks suddenly break. This would mean the loss of gardens, orchards, settlements and towns representing millions of dollars in investments and years of labor. There is also little doubt that there would be a considerable number of lives lost.

We urge that an emergency appropriation be enacted for the purpose of building levees and other flood control works at once.

HOLLYWOOD AERO CLUB,
Roger J. Adams, President.

WEDNESDAY MORNING CLUB

The Wednesday Morning Club sent this appeal to Senator Shortridge:

The Wednesday Morning Club, representing 192 Los Angeles women, appeals to you for immediate action on an emergency appropriation for flood protection for Imperial Valley.

[Signed]
LOS ANGELES WEDNESDAY MORNING CLUB,
Mrs. H. L. Snow, President.

WHITTIER WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of Whittier sent an appeal to Senator Shortridge as follows:

The Woman's Club of Whittier urgently requests that you do all in your power to obtain an emergency appropriation for immediate protection and control against flood in the Imperial Valley.

[Signed]
WOMAN'S CLUB OF WHITTIER, Mrs. R. B. Woodward, President.

IRRIGATION HEAD DENIES DANGER OF LEVEE BREAK

BRAWLEY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Flatly denying there is ground for the assertion that Imperial Valley is menaced by flood dangers this spring any more than in preceding years, Earl C. Pound, president of the Imperial Irrigation District Board, and chairman of the Colorado River Commission representing California, today declared that any effort of Californians to obtain emergency flood appropriations from Congress this session should concentrate on the Swing-Johnson bill, asking that an amendment be made to it authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to spend such moneys as are necessary to protect the lower valleys of the Colorado during erection of the Boulder Canyon dam, providing the legislation is passed.

Pound points out that the levee system along the Colorado River is in good shape and is ready for any emergency.

Mrs. Bernhardt Jakobsen, district chairman of the conservative committee of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, yesterday received the following telegram from Earl C. Pound, chairman of the Imperial Irrigation District Board, in response to a letter she wrote asking Pound's views on emergency flood-control measures:

Your letter received. We feel best help to Imperial Valley would be to urge amendment to Swing-Johnson bill providing appropriation for flood protection to be expended immediately by Secretary of the Interior rather than making new fight for emergency measure which would not have a ghost of show at this late date. Should whole Swing-Johnson measure fail, Imperial Irrigation District with aid of Mexican landowners fully organized and capable of handling situation this season. Suggest you throw all your force available behind amendment.

EARL C. POUND, President Imperial Irrigation District.

RIVER LECTURE TODAY

"Alternative Plans of the Colorado River Development" will be discussed by Dr. Reuel L. Olson, professor of law at the University of Southern California, before members of the Chancery Club at a luncheon meeting to be held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club today. This will be the second of a series of three lectures by Dr. Olson before this group of attorneys.

WAYS PLANNED TO AID VALLEY

Committee within the next two or three days approves or disapproves the request for consideration of the Swing-Johnson measure, advocates of the bill have redoubled their efforts to obtain favorable committee action.

Chairman Snell today announced that the committee probably would dispose of the bill early next week but he did not indicate what disposition would be made. Because of the frank admission by Senator Johnson and other proponents of the measure that little opportunity remains for passage there is some doubt that the committee will recommend favorably.

Because of the short time remaining in which to consider legislation it will be possible for a single Senator to block passage of any bill merely by taking advantage of filibustering tactics. Senator Ashurst of Arizona has publicly announced that he proposes to take advantage of every parliamentary privilege in his determination to defeat the Swing-Jhonson bill. There are other opposition Senators, including Senator King of Utah, who have indicated their intention of "talking the bill to death" if the necessity should arise.

Hence approval ofthe measure by Rence approval of the measure by pose and may in fact prevent enactment of imperatively needed emergency legislation.

BLIND PLAYERS WIN AUDIENCE

Sightless Girls Give Three Shows in New York

Move About Stage With Ease and Abandon

Marlowe and Sothern Offer Congratulations

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—There was drama a-plenty on the stage of the Booth Theater this afternoon when a troupe of blind actresses from the Lighthouse danced and made love, flirted, drooped in the agony of thirst on a parched desert and rushed between the swords of fighting lovers with all the abandon of ingenues who know the sight as well as the sound of a much pleased audience.

But it is safe to assume that the thrill of the applause which first swept the house afforded no more delight to the young adventurers than came in the little entre'act, when Miss Julia Marlowe and Edward Sothern rose from their seats in the fourth row and betook themselves back stage to congratulate the cast.

Then it was that lips which had spoken the lines staunchly across the spaces of an unknown stage quivered a bit as they murmured. "Oh, Miss Marlowe, it's so wonderful to see you!"

And eyes that could not see, blinked away excited tears as the most beautiful voice on the American stage spoke out of the darkness little phrases about how clearly she had heard every word, and how much she had admired their work.

Mr. Sothern adopted a gay Lothario mood, loaking the little Irish maid in the first playlet about her accent, and threatening to go her one better in his next play.

The only evidence to the audience that the players were sightless lay in the fact that bits of carpet had been stretched from across the stage in the paths to be trodden by the blind actresses.

Long rehearsal made them almost perfect in their journeyings across the stage, though once or twice the fact that the Booth Theater stage is larger than the one at the Lighthouse led an excited performer to stop a step too soon. The alert senses of the blind enabled her to drift from the speech of her companions just where each was located, so any error of distance was instantly rectified.

The three plays were "Jazz and Minuet," with a cast consisting of Hazel H. Crossley, Mabel Heidener, Lillian Hillman, Frank Carrington and Vinton Haworth. In the second play, "Mirage," the blind girl actresses were Mary Bic an, Anna Beach, Margaret Foley and Sara Rae. Rose Resnick and Ruth Askonas played the last number, "Manikin and Minikin."

Thomas S. McLane, treasurer of the New York Association for the Blind, which conducts the Lighthouse at 111 East Fiftieth street, made a brief speech between the first and second acts. The proceeds of the matinees today and tomorrow are to be devoted, he explained, to the publication of The Searchlight, the only magazine for blind children in this country which is distributed free.

Miss Billie Burke is scheduled to speak tomorrow afternoon from the stage.

MORE MARINES ORDERED SOUTH

Liberal military leaders have usurped whatever authority over military operations Dr. Sacasa formerly exercised.

There is no question that the Washington government regards the situation at Matagalpa as critical. The fact that the transport Henderson has not been diverted from her trip to pick up bluejackets at Newport and ordered direct to Quantico to embark marines is believed, however, to indicate that the sending of an additional regiment to Nicaragua is a precautionary step.

Announcement of the orders moving large reinforcements toward Nicaragua came with some surprise because of the statement made by Admiral Latimer today at Panama, en route to Corinto from his conference with Dr. Sacasa, that he saw no need at this time for additional marines. There was nothing to indicate that new orders have been sent to the admiral regarding disposition he is to make of these additional forces.

LATIMER SAYS HE NEEDS NO MORE MARINES

PANAMA, Feb. 17. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Latimer, in charge of the special United States service squadron in Nicaraguan waters, said today he had not requested additional marines.

"There is really no need for them as there already is a sufficient number of marines and bluejackets in Nicaragua to fulfil the requirements," he said.

Rear-Admiral Latimer arrived here on his way to Corinto, on the west coast of Nicaragua, from conferences at Puerto Cabezas, on the east coast, with the Liberal President, Juan B. Sacasa. He characterized his talks with the Liberal chieftain as "having no particular significance." He said the situation had not changed as a consequence of the meetings.

INTERVENTION TO BECOME REALITY SOON

[Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune]

MANAGUA (Nic.) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Rear-Admiral Latimer on the flagship Milwaukee, will arrive at Corinto Saturday, intending to guard the Pacific Railroad with marines, which will include the cities along the route, such as Corinto, Chinandegas, Leon, Masaya and Granada, as well as Managua, which is being guarded at present. This means intervention, for the railroad is owned entirely by the Nicaraguan government and managed by natives, although J. G. White of New York nominally manages the road.

Conversations have been going on between American Minister Eberhardt and President Diaz for the last few days toward a plan for American protection, similar to that in Haiti, but they have not been successful so far.

SAN DIEGO MARINES ORDERED TO NICARAGUA

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Movements of warships out of San Diego for the Atlantic Coast maneuvers, which began yesterday with the sailing of the tender Holland, and part of her brood of submarines, was complicated today, by rush orders from the Navy Department to divert two of the destroyer tenders, the Melville and Altair, to Corinto, Nicaragua, with a marine expeditionary force.

The Altair sailed at 6 a.m., but it had got less than twenty-five miles off Point Loma when it was recalled by radio and ordered to assist the Melville in loading a squadron of six marine corps planes and equipment for Corinto. The Altair returned to the harbor at noon.

The Nicaraguan expeditionary aviation force from San Diego will consist of eight officers, eighty enlisted men and six De Haviland observation planes.

The tender Melville did not leave the harbor, but was ordered to go alongside the Broadway dock and load supplies for the Nicaraguan expedition.

Officers at the marine base said that if the Melville is to take 200 marines from here the men will have to come from some other place than the local marine barracks. There are only 100 men available at the base for urgent duty in connection with the operation of the post and to detach them would mean the temporary decommissioning of the post, officers said. Both the Altair and the Melville are expected to sail for Corinto tomorrow.

which there are as yet no enemy troops, had paid $600,000 monthly to Chang Tsung-Chang, military governor of Shantung, for aid in case of need.

Pressed by the Cantonese in Chehiang, Sun was said to have urgently appealed to Chang for soldiers, but the latter was holding his men north of Nanking. It was asserted that Chang, once thrown out of control of Kiangsu province by Sun, was awaiting the opportunity to seize that province if Sun were defeated in the present drive of the Cantonese.

LEAGUE GETS CHINA'S PROTEST AGAINST TROOPS

GENEVA, Feb. 17. (AP)—Peking's communication demanding withdrawal of British troops en route to Shanghai reached the secretariat of the League of Nations today.

Acknowledging its receipt, the secretary-general, Sir Eric Drummond, wrote to Chu Chao-Hsin, Chinese lated among members of the League. Chu was silent on this point in his communication. He left for Rome after forwarding the note.

FATEFUL DECISIONS PENDING IN LONDON

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Serious decisions are in the balance tonight over the Chinese situation. The Cabinet council met in the House of Commons to consider the latest news from China, where, with two Cantonese armies marching on Shanghai, affairs again reached an acute stage and where military developments are likely to have a powerful influence over the diplomatic issue.

The nature of the latest advices received by the British government has not been revealed. The government adopts the position that the negotiations between Charge O'Malley and Foreign Minister Chen at Hankow are only in a state of suspense, and that even signature of the agreement could not be considered an impossible development.

The general view among officials, however, is that it is more likely the Ministers may be required ere long to take a fateful decision, whether to break off the parleys in the face of the constant delays.

The Hankow negotiations came to an impasse owing to the fact that the Cantonese Foreign Minister demanded that he be recognized as spokesman for the whole of China and that the future status of all British interests in China be settled during the Hankow negotiations. The Cabinet, however, will announce no decision pending receipt of full information from British Minister Miles Lampson.

AMERICAN MINISHER HONORED BY PEKING

PEKING, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The vernacular press says the Peking government, at the request of the Foreign Office, is conferring an order of merit upon American Minister John Van A. MacMurray for the encouragement of a continuation of friendly feeling between America and China.

The press also features the Chinese peace movement inaugurated by the northern militarists through the retired leaders in Peking, which contemplates a joint appeal by Gen. Chang Tso-Lin and the Cantonese for the cessation of hostilities followed by a conference for a settlement of the outstanding questions arising from the British expedition to Shanghai, which unless skillfully handled, may result in war with Great Britain, eventually involving the entire world. Therefore, in order to restrain Great Britain it is necessary for the Chinese factions to bury the hatchet.

Chao Fo, legal adviser to Gen. Chang, says the latter is eager to get together with the Cantonese, prodelegate, inquiring whether his government wishes the document circulated and overthrown. Chao asserts neither the north nor south is able to get on without the other, and he also says Gen. Chang is willing to forego his Presidential ambition in order to obtain peace.

Glasgow Debates Whether Visit of King and Queen Worth £15,000

LONDON, Feb. 17.—A debate arose in the Glasgow City Council this afternoon as to whether the proposed visit of King George and Queen Mary next July would be worth the money. The more hospitable members of the Council carried the day by 55 votes to 42.

munities and blocked trains. Snowslides in the Eureka district isolated that town by blocking highways and railroads and two Denver and Rio Grande passenger trains were held up in deep drifts on the Continental Divide at Osier and between Chama and Cumbres. Two rotary plows were working to clear the tracks.

The storm in the Durango district, which began almost a week ago, was the worst in years. Several feet of snow covered the region.

Citizens near Silverton prepared to flee if endangered by numerous snowslides there.

Snowslides in the La Plata Mountains, seventeen miles northwest of Durango, carried away several buildings of the Lady Eleanor mine. Sixty employees narrowly escaped death. Buildings at the Matterhorn mine, fifteen miles south of Telluride, likewise were buried by slides.

FOUR KILLED BY UTAH SNOWSLIDES

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Snowslides which cost four lives and the worst cloudburst in the history of the region visited were Utah's share of the great storm which is sweeping the Pacific Coast leaving death and ruin in its wake.

The four dead were victims of separate snowslides which swept mining communities in the Price region, five others were injured, two probably fatally.

The dead are Gus Goodart, 65 years of age, Uatuda, Utah; Moroni Mower, 30, Latuda, Utah; Dan Grundvig, 40, Watts, Utah, and John Stevens of Price.

The snowslides were part of a series on both sides of Indian Summit, which blocked all traffic into the Unitas Basin over the Castle Gate Duchesne road and paralyzed mail service.

Three government mail trucks endeavoring to get through to the people of the basin with mail and provisions, a stage and a small coupe were caught in the avalanche in which Stevens was killed.

Snowslides in the north were matched in Southern Utah by cloudbursts of unprecedented severity. Roads between St. George and Cedar City were washed out and a new two-mile construction grade was destroyed.

No relief from the present situation is in sight, according to J. Cecil Alter, United States weather observer in Salt Lake City.

SUBZERO WAVE MOVING ON CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—A cold wave originating in Alaska is bound for Chicago today and is expected to send the mercury tumbling to a possibility of 10 deg. below zero Saturday, according to a special announcement issued at noon today by Assistant District Forecaster O. A. Donnel. By tomorrow a drop to 15 deg. above is likely, with a rapid decrease almost hourly until tomorrow night, when zero probably will be registered. The fall will continue "with a probability of 5 delow and a possibility of 10 delow Saturday," according to Mr. Donnel.

The map shows very severe weather in its store for Chicago Saturday," predicted the meteorologist. "The cold wave originated in Alaska three days ago, swept through parts of Canada and is approaching Chicago. It will be considerably below zero Saturday. As a conservative estimate, based on the present map readings, the temperature will decline to probably 5 deg. below and possibly 10 below. The latter, of course, is an outside figure. Readings indicate it will be about 15 above by 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. Thereafter the temperature will fall rapidly."

DENSE FOG GRIPS VICINITY OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A dense, ground-gripping fog enshrouded New York today, tying up shipping and delaying ferry service. Street lamps were kept burning long after their usual hours and motorists were forced to turn on their headlights.

Four coastwiahe ships due to arrive at Quarantine early today virtually were lost in the fog, but were not in danger. The ships are the Royal Mail steam packet Araguaya and the Furness-Bermuda liner Fort St. George, both from Bermuda; the Munson liner Marango, from the West Indies, and the Red Cross liner Nerrisa, from St. John's, N. F.

The Weather Bureau reported that the fog extended as far inland as Scranton, Pa., and northward over the southern New England States.

Two ferryboats collided with barges in the fog, but no one was injured, although for a time there was considerable uneasiness among the passengers.

FORTY BELOW IN ALBERTA PROVINCE

CALGARY (Alta.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Practically the entire province of Alberta was in an icy grip today. At Medicine Hat 40 deg. below zero was reported. The mercury dipped to 25 below in the Calgary district and hovered around 25 to 40 below in the Lethbridge vicinity. Thermometers ranged from 30 to 38 below in the northern section.

Press Meeting Scores Printing of 'Sewer' News

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—If some prophet had told the fathers of this republic, as they were sharpening their pencils preparatory to writing the clause about free speech, of some of the deeds the 1927 typewriter would do in the name of that clause, those ancient gentlemen, says Fred Landis, brother of the judge, would have ordered all editors daily to "go to quarantine before they go to press."

Mr. Landis, himself a newspaper man on the Pharos-Tribune of Logansport, Ind., sent forth this indictment during the closing session of the fortieth annual meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association.

Mr. Landis hurled criticism at "those metropolitan papers which run a sewer from some of the New York courtrooms to the family fireside."

have been brought off in boats. Much of Riverside Park is under water and damage has been done several building material plants near by.

Water behind the Roosevelt dam is rising at the rate of 100,000 acre feet a day and gross storage is expected of at least 1,000,000 acre feet, insuring irrigation of the Salt River Valley for several years.

All highway communication with California has been cut, but it is expected that the Blythe route will be open soon, on subsidence of the Hassayampa River at Wickenburg, where the State bridge is down. Serious breaks have been made in the State bridges on the Yuma route at Agua Fria and Hassayampa. Stage connection has been re-established northward and eastward from this city.

The Santa Fe has reopened its Prescott line, with repair of two bridges, and has had no interruption of its service to Los Angeles via Parker. The latter route today and this evening is being used by eight detoured westbound Southern Pacific trains, several of them turned back at Yuma, with a flow of eastbound trains also coming in from detour at Colton. At noon five Southern Pacific main-line trains were being transferred at the Union Station to the Santa Fe tracks.

signed to promote orderly marketing of basic crops by the control and disposition of surpluses.

It would set up a Federal farm board of twelve members, to be selected by the President from a list of thirty-six names supplied by farm organizations. Whenever it appeared a surplus existed in any of the basic crops, the board might declare an "operating period," buy in a crop until its surplus had disappeared and feed the surplus into world markets.

The measure provides for a $250,000,000 revolving fund for the board's operations. Any loss incurred in the board's activities would be assessed against the producers through imposition of an equalization fee.

The board also would be empowered to make loans to co-operatives with a view to strengthening them to supplement the work of the board.

ty-five Issues Involved in Wild Outburst of Speculation

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A wild wave of speculation in the stock shares on the New York Stock Exchange today sent over two-score individual issues to record prices in years and raised the average of the railroad shares to the highest level since 1910. Transactions, which only surprise less than 20 million shares, or approximately one-half of the total issues listed on the exchange; today's transactions in that group exceeded 1,000,000 shares, or approximately one-half of the day's business.

BROKER RUMORS

Much demand for the railroad shares was attributed by brokers as due largely to the flood of merger rumors circulated after the recent announcement that three eastern railroad systems had acquired control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Western Maryland railroads. None of the rumors was confirmed as yet, including reports that the Pennsylvania Railroad was to acquire the Lackawanna and Wabash railroads. The name of the other high-priced railroad stock with large unfilled orders assumably was that of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which is said to be conferring on a plan to permit the road's competitors, which involves new traffic set-ups, but no details have been made public. Wall street hears reports that the Pennsylvania and L. F. Loree have established a community of interest, and it would occasion little surprise if Mr. Loree's Lehigh Valley holdings eventually were transferred to the Pennsylvania.

STOCK TRANSFER

While Baltimore and Ohio officials have stated that they have had no negotiations with the Alien Property Custodian, who recently transferred a large block of common and preferred stock to the bank of the Manhattan Company for some unnamed cohiant, it is assumed in Wall street that these shares, in part at least, constitute a portion of the purchase made by the B. & O., in increasing its holdings in the Western Maryland to something over 35 per cent of the outstanding stock.

Among the many issues to establish new peak prices in today's market were Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Erie, Norfolk and Western, Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Wabash common and preferred "A," Rock Island, Northern Pacific, Texas and Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Chicago and Northwestern, Kansas City Southern and "Katy" preferred. The gains ranged from one to six points.

FUN FINALE FOR FLYING FISTS

"Fighting Sixty-ninth" Congress Enjoys Paradoxical Aftermath to Clashes as Speaker Receives Set of Boxing Gloves as Gift

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The recent fistic lapses of some members of Congress have produced a paradoxical aftermath.

Instead of tightening the tension that always plagues the closing days of a session, fights and rumors of fights have mellowed the preadjournment interlude with levity.

House members in particular are getting an unusual "kick" out of the process of laughing off the sobriquet of "the Fighting Sixty-ninth" Congress, a nom de guerre that traveled a lilting path of merriment today about committee rooms and corridors.

Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee, which has before it two resolutions to prescribe a code of ethics for members who use their fists, said today he had set no date for a hearing because he was reluctant to expose his committee to the "dangers" that might be entailed.

"You can say for me," he said, "that when the army provides adequate protection for the committee, we will take up the resolutions."

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader, appeared concerned that the newspapers gave front-page space to yesterday's debate on the resolutions. The McFadden branch banking bill, passed yesterday by the Senate, was of more importance, he said, but got less attention. In less serious vein he pointed out that both resolutions were sponsored by Democrats, and appeared suggestive of a Democratic appeal for the boxing vote in 1928.

Boxing gloves from the town where Tunney won from Dempsey were presented today to Speaker Longworth. They were the gift of Representative Welsh of Pennsylvania, whose career includes a prize-ring chapter. He in turn had received the gloves from the Twenty-fourth Ward Republican Club of Philadelphia, with this note:

"Kindly make good use of these, for, according to reports, they are a necessity in the halls of Congress."

WOMAN HELD WEAKER SEX IN DECISION

Court Rules Wife First to Die in Sea Tragedy and State Shares in Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—In the absence of any proof to the contrary woman may be presumed to be the weaker sex.

That theory had dignified court approval today when Superior Judge Graham awarded one-half of the $2800 estate of Capt. Charles Sexon to his widow's brother, John O'Hare, and the balance to the State of California.

Capt. Sexon and his wife Della were on the sailing ship Alta, which left here for San Diego in February, 1923, and was never heard from again. Capt. Sexon has no blood relatives and O'Hare is closest of kin.

Had the court assumed that Mrs. Sexon died last, O'Hare would have received the full estate. But, however, his honor went by the theory that woman being the weaker sex, Mrs. Sexon must have met death first.

Entanglement Increased Over Hillegass Body

ST. JOHNSVILLE (N. Y.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Identity and final disposition of the body exhumed from a potter's grave and sent to Berkeley, Cal., as the body of Dr. George Hillegass, noted surgeon and heir to a fortune, was further complicated today as Mrs. Peter Wagner sought return of the body to St. Johnsville in the belief that the body is that of her brother, George Hillegass.

Attorney William J. Grangle, acting for Mrs. Wagner, believes a mistake in identity has been made. Grangle, as supervisor of St. Johnsville, ordered Hillegass to Utica General Hospital for treatment. Grangle expects to communicate with Fred C. Peterson, Oakland lawyer, who identified the body as that of Dr. Hillegass and removed it to Berkeley.

FIGHT OPENS ON NEW SHIPPING BOARD PLAN

PROPOSAL TO MERGE ARMY, NAVY AND TRANSPORT SERVICE OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Strong opposition to the proposal of the Shipping Board that the Army, Navy and Panama transport services be merged under control of the board developed today at a conference in the offices of Brig.-Gen. H. C. Smither, chief co-ordinator of the government.

Admiral Eberle, chief of naval operations, declaring his opposition to any form of control of transports that would remove the vessels from military supervision, said that in such emergencies as the present Nicaraguan and Chinese situations, merchant ships impressed into service could not perform the special duties being carried on by naval transports and auxiliary vessels. Maj.-Gen. Cheatham, army quartermaster-general, said he would oppose removal of the services from military control.

The Shipping Board proposal contemplated giving business now carried on Army, Navy and Panama transport services, to private shipping interests. Admiral Eberle said privately owned ships are now used whenever possible.

Commissioner Benson of the Shipping Board, who formerly was chief of naval operations, agreed that military control is the only feasible form in regard to naval transports and auxiliary vessels which operate with the fleet or in maneuvers.

Pointing out that the conferees agreed that the merchant marine should be encouraged as much as possible, Gen. Smither said that under no circumstances should the transport system be so weakened that ships would not be available in an emergency.

CRISIS NEAR IN BRITAIN

Cabinet Split on Soviet Break

Chamberlain's Fall Nearly Caused by Die-Hards Opposing Russia

Premier Baldwin's Stand Will Finally Decide Ministry's Action

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The serious split which is looming in the British Cabinet over the question of the breaking of relations with Russia almost came to a head at yesterday's meeting when Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, was on the brink of resigning as a result of pressure by the diehards, who are insistent on breaking off relations with the soviet.

As far as can be learned, a majority of the Cabinet is in favor of breaking off relations, but Prime Minister Baldwin, who has the last word, is not yet convinced and is sitting on the fence. The leaders of the anti-Russian faction are Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Birkenhead, Secretary of State for the India government, and Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary.

The meeting took the form of a series of questions and answers between the two factions, resolving itself into half a dozen points.

LOCARNO SPIRIT PERILED

As the first point, Sir Austen pointed out the danger to the Locarno spirit in Europe and that there are no chances of getting Moscow to join the League of Nations. This was simply laughed at by the opposition.

Second: The break would throw Moscow and Germany together again. This link between the Germans and soviets is so close that the break could not make is and closer, it was said.

Third: The British government would be deprived of a useful source of information if the British mission at Moscow was withdrawn. To this it was said that the information supplied by the mission in the last few years has been worth less than that given by British and American newspapers among which the Tribune was mentioned as the chief source of information.

Fourth: Communism would not be stamped out. In answer to this it was said certainly not, because other measures are necessary to deal with the "poison" in Great Britain.

NOT AID MODERATES

Fifth: It would not place the moderates in power in Moscow. Replying to this point it was said that that was no concern of the British because whether extreme or moderate all the Bolsheviks are enemies of the British Empire.

Sixth: It would help to achieve unity in the British Socialist party. Answering, the ministers agreed that this was possible, but argued, that the soviet issue would only temporarily cement the Socialists.

The matter now rests unsettled, while Prime Minister Baldwin is trying to find what is the real opinion of the country. The extremists are pressing him for an immediate break, to which policy he is personally opposed.

SMITH ILLNESS HALTS HEARING

Senator-Designate Loses Hope of Seating

Case Now Will Go Over to Next Session

Election Certificate Given Approval by Error

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Any hope that Frank L. Smith of Illinois will be seated in the Senate at this session of Congress disappeared today when the Elections Committee was advised by his counsel that illness would prevent the Senator-designate from coming before the committee.

The short term for which Smith was appointed by Gov. Small expires March 4. The committee previously had decided not to seat him pending hearings on his campaign expenditures, at which he was requested to be present. The hearings were to have begun today, but Smith's attorney, C. J. Doyle, asked for indefinite postponement.

"Col. Smith is a very sick man," Doyle told the committee.

With Smith's credentials for the short term left to die a natural death on March 4, the fight to seat him will hinge henceforth on his certificate of election for the long term ensuing.

That issue will not come to a point of decision until the new Congress assembles next December, although for a split second today the Illinois man's election certificate, along with that of William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, whose election also is contested, stood approved by the committee.

The committee clerk had included these two certificates in a batch of others about which there is no contest, and the committee approved the whole lot without examining them.

When newspaper correspondents found the controverted certificates in the lot there were loud protests from Senators. The two certificates quickly were withdrawn for future consideration.

The first of the ballot boxes used in the Allegheny county (Penn.) Vare - Wilson Senatorial election arrived today and were stored in the basement of the Senate Office Building.

Small Fortune Found in Rags Following Death

MARSHAL (Mich.) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Eleven thousand dollars in gold sewed up in three cloth packages and $1000 in $10 bills under the pillow in the bed where she died was found in the residence of Miss Nora Nolan, buried here Monday, by Miss Ellen McCaffery, neighbor, and turned over to C. H. Billings, president of the First National Bank.

The packages containing the gold were found hid among rags. Miss Nolan and her sister conducted a dressmaking establishment in Chicago for thirty-three years, returning to their former home here in 1922. Her sister May died last June. Nora bequeathed the entire estate to the Catholic bishop at Chicago for masses.

DAUGHERTY GIVEN AID

Federal Official on Stand

Mrs. Willebrandt, Testifying for Defense, Near Clash With Buckner

Former Solicitor-General Also Witness in Behalf of Defendant

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The government appeared a house divided in the Daugherty-Miller trial today when a high government official and a former high official testified in favor of a defendant in a Federal suit.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States Attorney directing legal matters appertaining to prohibition and the tax statutes, took the stand to testify in behalf of Daugherty, who recommended her appointment to the position she now holds. A tenseness came over spectators as they saw the situation—two employees of the Department of Justice on opposite sides of the case.

When U. S. Atty. Buckner took Mrs. Willebrandt for cross-examination the anticipated explosion came quickly. After asking four almost innocuous questions, Buckner asked politely:

"So you are really one of my bosses, aren't you?"

"If you mean that I pass on all you do, and approve of it, Mr. Buckner—"

TENSION RELIEVED

Buckner strode toward the witness and shouted: "Such as this prosecution?" he said with heat. The tone in which Mrs. Willebrandt spoke carried more meaning to some of the spectators than did her words as they appeared on the court record. A general laugh, in which defense attorneys joined, relieved the tension somewhat.

"I have nothing to do with this," Mrs. Willebrandt replied calmly, although her eyes gleamed.

Buckner repeated his question, again loudly. Mrs. Willebrandt repeated her answer as calmly as before. Then the questioning went on, temperately.

In direct examination Mrs. Willebrandt sketched a picture of Jess W. Smith, Daugherty's handy man, who committed suicide in their Washington hotel suite, as a man who was "hanging around on a bench outside the door of the Attorney-General's office," and an intimate of messenger boys. Smith was often a guest at the White House, other witnesses testified.

FIRST WITNESS

The first witness called in the defense of Daugherty was former United States Solicitor-General James M. Beck. He testified that after his appointment by President Harding he became well acquainted with Daugherty.

Asked about Smith, Mr. Beck said Smith came to him once to get a position for someone in his department, and when this was refused he did not return.

The announcement that there would be no defense for T. W. Miller, ex-Alien Property Custodian, was a surprise to the government, who had anticipated that George E. Williams, his assistant as Alien Property Custodian, would be called as he was at the first trial, which ended in disagreement. After Attorney A. Sapiro had announced there would be no defense for Miller the court was told that the defense of Daugherty would require but a little time.

Harry Carlin of counsel for Daugherty began the defense by calling character witnesses, one of whom, George J. Karb, five times Mayor of Columbus, O., set the court, attorneys and spectators to laughing with his replies.

GOVERNMENT CHARGES

Daugherty and Miller are charged with conspiring to defraud the United States of their best services in connection with the transfer of $7,000,000 of impounded assets of the American Metal Company, which were seized as enemy-owned during the war. By witnesses the government showed that a "fee" of $441,000 had been paid to John T. King, former Republican National Committeeman from Connecticut, for aiding Richard Merton, German agent of the Societe Suisse pour Valeurs de Metaux, in recovering the assets for that company. The "fee" was paid in cash and Liberty bonds. By their serial numbers, the government contended it had proved that Miller and Daugherty received part of the "fee."

In the first trial, Miller did not take the stand, but called several witnesses who testified the claim was paid in the ordinary course of business and without the influence the government asserted had been brought to bear. King and Smith died without being brought to trial. The government maintained that Smith acted as Daugherty's agent in the asserted conspiracy.

Oxygen Found Most Efficient in Sea Sickness

BERLIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—As a remedy for sea sickness Germany physicians describe the inhalation of oxygen as most efficient.

After the inhalation of the gas for three to four minutes, the patient is said to find immediate relief, even the feeling of nausea ceasing.

German medical experts attribute the beneficial effects of oxygen in this connection to its powerful influence in alleviating an anaemic state of the brain, which they say is one of the pronounced phenomena of sea sickness.

DECORATION FAVORED

Senate Expected to Approve of Honor for Judge Henning

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The bill to permit Judge Henning, judge of the Southern District Court of California, to accept the order and diploma of the grand officer of the Crown of Italy tendered him by the King of Italy has been favorably reported out of committee and placed on the Senate calendar.

The Department of State has charge of the decoration, but as a Federal officer cannot accept honors bestowed by a foreign power without the consent of Congress, Senator Shortridge introduced the bill in the Senate to permit the judge to accept the Italian order.

LIVERIGHT TO DEFY PLAY BAN

Entire Cast of "The Captive" Hired by Publisher

Police Ready to Raid Show on Opening Monday

Frohman's to Lose $300,000 by Giving Up Rights

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The entire cast of "The Captive," raided Broadway play, was enrolled today in the ranks of a new producer, Horace Liveright, publisher, for performances in defiance of police mandate. Liveright announced his intentions after four members of the cast were freed of charges of producing an immoral play, on their promise that the production would close. Charges also were withdrawn against the men who have been producing the play.

Liveright's announcement prompted a new declaration of war from Acting Mayor McKee.

"We will meet that challenge," he said. "If Mr. Liveright attempts to put on that show he and every member of his cast will be placed under arrest," McKee added to his warning:

"Many of the dramas on the legitimate stage are downright bad, but the nudity of many cabaret performances and the shocking dialogue permitted in them is even worse. Consequently, they have to be reformed if it takes the police and grand juries to put them out of business."

FACES INDICTMENT

Liveright was reminded today of a 1926 indictment against him which he had almost forgotten, and it was said that before he can produce the play, he may have to go to trial on the charge of publishing an obscene book.

The book is a novel by Maxwell Bodenheim, and for its publication Mr. Liveright is under bail of $2500 as are Thomas R. Smith, Mr. Bodenheim and the corporation of Boni and Liveright, publishers.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Wallace, in charge of the prosecution of indecent plays, explained that a year and a half was not an unusual time for a case to remain untried providing the defendants are on bail. He added that he had intended to try to have the case against Liveright put on the calendar for tomorrow but found that he had other legal matters requiring his attention.

ACTORS TO RETRACT

Liveright announced "The Captive" will reopen Monday, although he has yet to obtain scenery. He declined to announce the theater in which the show will be presented. He said he has obtained cabled authorization from Edouard Bourdet of Paris, author of the play. Plans for obtaining a protective injunction are being considered.

Miss Helen Menken, appearing in the title role, and three other members of the cast yesterday promised Magistrate Renaud they would never act in "The Captive" again for anybody, but after a conference with Liveright, he declared the four will retract the promises when the matter comes up in court again Friday on continuance of the case against the five of the cast who made no promise.

A statement issued over the signatures of the nine members of the cast said the players "refuse to be intimidated." "Far from feeling that we have been engaged in the commission of a crime for the past six months," the statement read, "we feel that we have been privileged in using our talents in a play of the highest literary merit and social value." The setting of the play is in France and the theme is abnormal fascination.

Arrested with the cast were Gilbert H. Miller, managing director of the Charles Frohman Company, producers, and George Kondolf, Jr., manager.

PLAY DEFENDED

Announcing the withdrawal of the play, Mr. Miller defended it as "one of the great modern masterpieces of dramatic writing." He characterized police action against the production as "grossly unfair," but said the Frohman Company cannot prejudice its reputation. The play has been given in the Empire Theater made famous by Charles Froham.

More than $80,000 received in advance ticket sales will be returned. The total loss involved in abandoning the New York and road show interest is estimated by the Frohman management as from $150,000 to $200,000.

"Sex" and "The Virgin Man," two other Broadway plays raided with "The Captive" last week, have operated under protection of injunctions prohibiting police interference. The plays awaited Supreme Court decision today on applications that the injunctions be made permanent.

Heflin Takes Four Hours to Declare Church Plans to Bring Mexico Clash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Nearly four hours of the Senate's five-hour session today was taken up with a denunciation of Catholics in this country by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama.

During this time the legislative machinery was at a standstill and when Senator Heflin threatened to continue his speech tomorrow there were cries of "No, no," from other Senators and Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, in obtaining the floor to move for a recess, said he could not promise that Mr. Heflin could proceed at that time.

"I'm not saying that I want it tomorrow," Heflin replied, "but if I do I'll get it."

Besides attacking the Catholic church and the Pope in connection with what he described as an effort to involve the United States in war with Mexico, Senator Heflin accused Gov. Smith of New York, and his supporters of disrupting the Democratic party by seeking to have the 1924 New York convention denounce the Ku Klux Klan.

Moreover, the Alabaman expressed the belief that Gov. Smith and "certain Republican leaders" had an agreement by which the Klan issue would be kept out of the 1924 Cleveland Republican convention and "dumped on" the Democratic convention.

COMMONS IN ANGER OVER DUKE'S TRIP

Expenses of Royal Party on Warship Called Waste of Public Money

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Lively scenes were renewed in the House of Commons tonight when the vote for the expenses of the Duke and Duchess of York's present tour was under discussion, but eventually it was approved without going to a division.

The vote was challenged by several Labor members as a waste of public money. John Scurr, Laborite for the mile-end division of Stepney, thought that their Highnesses ought to have voyaged in an ordinary passenger liner, instead of being virtually "wrapped in cotton wool with naval officers around them."

David Kirkwood, Scottish member, thought that their highnesses ought the Duke and Duchess of York on this joy ride, Australia ought to have defrayed the expenses. Mr. Kirkwood recalled the Prince of Wales' trip to South America, which the ministers had told Parliament was to cement empire trade.

"The Prince went to Argentina," said Kirkwood, "and now this government has given Argentina a meat contract which ought to have been given to Australia."

The conclusion of the speech provoked the anger of the Conservatives, as he declared: "The Yorks are going to the uttermost ends of the world, and it does not matter an iota if they never return."

This brought loud cries of "order" and protests from the chairman, rebuking Mr. Kirkwood for language discourteous to the royal family.

Other Laborites protested against the expenditures involved, when there was so much distress and poverty at home.

SELECTIONS APPROVED

Senate Indorses Naming of Three to Diplomatic Posts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Three recent diplomatic appointments by President Coolidge were approved today by the Senate with little discussion. They are Robert Woods Bliss of New York, now Minister to Sweden, to be Ambassador to Argentina; William Phillips of Massachusetts, now Ambassador to Belgium, to be Minister to Canada, and Hugh S. Gibson of California, now Minister to Switzerland, to be Ambassador to Belgium.

ROCKEFELLERS OUT OF MARYLAND RAILROAD

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Rockefeller interests are no longer stockholders in the Western Maryland Railroad, having sold all their holdings, an announcement from the office of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., said today. The statement was issued by the office in connection with a statement of the heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, urging the younger Rockefeller as the largest individual stockholder in the enterprise to insist that the road "change front" in its attitude toward striking employees.

FATHER UNABLE TO AID SON HELD IN MURDER

EUGENE (Or.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Paul D'Autremont, father of Ray, Roy and Hugh D'Autremont, the three boys sought by authorities for robbery of a mail train and murder in the Siskiyou Mountains in 1923, is convinced that the youth apprehended in Manila is Hugh. Heretofore he had insisted his three sons were killed by the robbers who led the hold-up. D'Autremont said he was without funds to defend his son.

CANADIAN TAX LEVY REDUCED

Cut for Year Estimated at $27,000,000

Debt Lowered $27,706,586 for 1925-1926

Present Tariff Schedules to be Retained

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Announcing taxation reductions estimated at $27,000,000, J. A. Robb, Finance Minister, today presented to the House of Commons his fourth budget and at the same time painted an optimistic picture of Canadian finances. No changes in the tariff were announced.

"The aim has been to lighten the burden of every taxpayer," he said, "rather than to afford relief to special groups, provinces or sections of the country."

Announcements in the speech were: Estimated reduction in net debt during present fiscal year of $31,000,000, making reduction of $98,000,000 in net debt in four years.

Net debt reduction in 1925-1926, $27,706,586, as compared with $22,353,000, the estimate in the last budget speech.

Total revenue for present fiscal year estimated at $394,900,000, an increase of $11,900,000 over 1925-26.

Total expenditures for present fiscal year estimated at $360,600,000, an increase of $5,400,000 over 1925-26.

Estimated surplus of revenue over expenditure in present fiscal year, $34,300,000. From this, $2,900,000 is deducted for reduction in value of soldier settlement loans, leaving $31,400,000 estimated reduction in net debt.

TAX REDUCTIONS

Tax reductions in the budget are: Sales tax rate reduced from 5 to 4 per cent, effective tomorrow.

Income tax cut by 10 per cent all around, applicable to this year's assessments.

Excise tax on matches cut by 25 per cent.

Stamp tax: exemption increased from $5 to $10. All checks, etc., over $10, bear flat rate of 2 cents, effective July 1.

Stamp tax on overdrafts and advances abolished.

Special war revenue amended to make it clear that printers are liable to sales tax.

Mr. Robb further intimated that when the $29,068,400 6½ per cent loan falls due on November 1, part will be redeemed in cash if finances permit. The remainder will be redeemed by floating a new loan at reduced rate of interest.

When $65,427,280 in 5 1-2 per cent victory bonds mature on December 1, they will be met by floating a new loan at lower interest.

The refinancing will, it is estimated, result in an annual saving in interest charges of $1,000,000.

Reviewing trade conditions, Mr. Robb gave the estimated favorable trade balance for the present fiscal year as approximately $250,000,000. The policy of the government has been to promote trade relations with other countries and particularly to strengthen trade with the empire.

"Four years ago when I presented my first budget," Mr. Robb concluded, "Canada was still suffering from the effect of post-war depression. Today all traces of that depression have disappeared; a spirit of optimism is general and our domestic and international trade is flourishing. Let us continue to build solidly. Let us shun extravagant waste. Let us have faith in the future."

TARIFF UNCHANGED

Regarding the tariff question, the Finance Minister said:

"In April, last, an advisory board on tariff and taxation was created. Since then the board has been instructed to investigate and report on fifty-two applications for tariff changes. Of these applications, one was sent by my immediate predecessor in office, the balance by myself. The board has proven to be a popular tribunal, but has only been operating a few months.

The holding of numerous public hearings and the making of intensive investigations have taken much time, and, as certain of the applications are interlocking, inquiries are not yet completed. Everything considered, it has appeared to my colleagues and myself the part of wisdom to propose no changes in the customs tariff at the present session of Parliament."

FERGUSON AMNESTY TOPPLING

Texas Senate Votes After Bitter Struggle to Change ex-Governor's Status

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 17. (AP)—The Senate voted tonight, 19 to 7, to repeal the amnesty granted former Gov. James E. Ferguson by the last Legislature.

The bill was passed after a small handful of supporters of the former Governor, and Senators who believe the move unconstitutional, had fought almost four hours to keep the question from a vote and had been ruled out of order by Senator Margie Neal, the first woman who ever has occupied the Speaker's chair.

Friends of the measure did little fighting, confining their debate to frequent questions and points of order. With a safe majority, Senator Love and his supporters sat back and heard the opposition eulogize the Fergusons, attack the constitutionality of the measure and predict that the bill, if passed, would breathe the "breath of life into the political form of Jim Ferguson."

Bill to Bar Bets on Races Passed by Utah Senate

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The Redd racing bill, which would do away with horse racing with pari-mutuel betting, was passed today by the State Senate.

It now goes to the House of Representatives for appropriation of $15,000 for investigating the charges made by Representative Redd that there had been grafting by the horse racing commission in the acceptance of bribes from managers of meets held here in the last two years.

WEBB GIVES OPINION ON DISTRICTING

Rules Any Act Based on Amendment Subject to Referendum

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Atty.-Gen. Webb today made public his interpretation of the Constitutional amendment on legislative apportionment which was adopted at the November election. His interpretation of the amendment and how it would work under certain contingencies was given in an opinion to State Senator Newton M. Allen of Los Angeles.

Webb does not express an opinion as to whether a reapportionment act passed by the Legislature would be subject to referendum although he says the amendment would subject an act of the reapportionment commission to referendum. The commission would be empowered to act if the Legislature failed to do so.

Considering various contingencies, Webb ruled: If a legislative reapportionment act based upon the amendment or an act of the reapportionment commission was suspended by referendum, the Senators and Assemblymen would be elected in 1926 from districts as now constituted.

If the referendum was not invoked, legislators would be elected in 1926 in accordance with the new apportionment measure, which would limit each county to but one Senator; provided, however, that Senators elected in even numbered districts in 1926 for four years would serve out their terms and Senators whose terms expire in January, 1929, would be succeeded by twenty members elected in November, 1928, from odd-numbered districts in accordance with the new reapportionment plan.

Webb explained that Senators elected in 1926 for four years would hold over due to constitutional provisions and decisions of the Supreme Court, even though they might live outside the districts they would represent under the new scheme.

Because of these holdovers, the new system, provided the referendum was not invoked, would not begin working completely until the session of 1931.

TREASURY IN MEXICO HAS NEW POLICY

"Boy Minister" Assumes New Duties and Tells Press of Changes in Financing

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Luis Montes de Oca, new Secretary of the Treasury, known as the "boy minister" because of his 33 years of age, small stature and youthful appearance, assumed charge of his duties today and departed from the policy of silence observed by his predecessor, Alberto J. Pani, by receiving a group of foreign correspondents.

De Oca has assumed an unenviable position, in the opinion of financial circles here, who are fearful of this year's financial outcome, with Mexico facing such problems as decreased revenue caused by the oil companies' deadlock with the government, the heavy cost of army upkeep, India's action in favoring the gold standard over silver, which hits at Mexico's silver production, and the general economic conditions brought about by President Calles's international policy.

"Punctual payment of all external obligations and benefit to Mexico by an efficient financial administration," are the fundamental objectives of Calles himself, Montes de Oca said. He said he plans to do away with all waste and pay all salaries, saying that at present not a cent is due government employees so far as the executive branch of the government is concerned.

He said he is not planning any modification of the foreign debt agreement. Calles, he declared, hopes to and is determined to meet all foreign obligations and sufficient funds are now in sight for this purpose. The government's financial situation, he said, "is fairly good and not as bad as it has been painted." No foreign loans are contemplated.

A detailed survey of the silver situation will soon be made, he said, taking into account not only domestic factors but external conditions such as the possible adoption of the gold standard by India and China. A commission may be appointed for this purpose.

Federal Agents Accused as Aids in Perfume Shop

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Le Shone De Paris Corporation, just off Fifth Avenue on Sixteenth street, described by representative F. H. Laguardia as a "government operated speak easy," was revealed today as a money making perfumery plant operated entirely by government representatives, including porters and book-keepers, says the New York Sun.

As a result of the business which the special government agents did in the perfumery plant, more than 75 individuals and corporations are under indictment awaiting trial in this city.

John M. Harlan, chief of the prohibition division of U. S. Atty. Emory R. Buckner's office, directed the activities which resulted in the establishment being taken over for the development of the evidence.

BILL AIMS AT FUTURES

Texan Introduces Measure to Ban Cotton Speculation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Speculation in cotton on exchanges of the country would be prohibited under a bill introduced today by Representative Hudspeth, Democrat, Texas.

The measure would make it unlawful for any person to sell or contract to sell for future deliveries any cotton of which he is not the actual owner. It would prevent telegraph companies from transmitting messages for future purchase or sale of cotton, and exchange officials would be required to report any violations of the law.

Fines of $5000 and imprisonment of not more than two years would be provided for violations.

MORGAN FIGURE ON STOCK CITED

Ford Share Value in 1913 Put at $3500 to $4500

Partner in Financial House Government Witness

Willingness to Sell at Given Amount Doubted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—While J. P. Morgan & Co. believed Ford stock was worth only from $3500 to $4500 a share in the spring of 1913, Arthur M. Anderson, a partner in the company, expressed doubts today as to his willingness to have parted with a block of it at that price.

His testimony, as a government witness, was the feature of today's hearing before the Board of Tax Appeals on the petition of former stockholders in the Ford Company against a $30,000,000 assessment of back taxes.

On cross-examination Anderson said that the stock, if offered in the open market in 1913, would have probably brought more than $12,500 a share, which was the price asserted to have been paid for it by the Ford family.

Fred E. Voegelin, New York, formerly in charge of the economic research division of J. P. Morgan & Co., testifying for the government, placed a value of $4300 a share on Ford stock as of March 1, 1913.

Estimates made by government witnesses today again showed a variable range, Anderson's lower figure being less than that on which the Bureau of Internal Revenue based its reopening of the case against the former minority owners, although Alexander W. Gregg, in charge of the government's case, in his opening statement to the Board of Tax Appeals revised his former appraisal by naming a value ranging from $6500 downward to $2500. The estimates placed on the stock by experts testifying for the appellants ranged between $10,000 and $12,500.

Mr. Anderson pronounced the figures shown on the company's balance sheets as "unusual because of their size" and said Henry Ford was distinctly in a class by himself. He said the stock was a good speculation and of a class freely sought by investment bankers specializing in industrials.

Brother-in-Law Kills Self and Girl in Triangle

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—An illicit love affair between David L. Rosenthal, 31 years of age, father of a 7-year-old boy, and Miss Minnie Glick, unmarried sister of his wife, ended on a lonely prairie, half a mile from their home some time last night, when Rosenthal shot the girl to death and then, walking a few feet away from her body, killed himself with a shot through the brain.

Miss Glick, it was learned by the police, had resided until recently at the Rosenthal home. The authorities believe that Rosenthal and his sister-in-law had reached a point where their illicit affair could not be concealed much longer. Rosenthal was an insurance man and prosperous.

REISLER GIVEN THE BUM'S RUSH

To Be Shipped Back From Australia for Socking Sidney Referee

SYDNEY (N.S.W.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Johnny Reisler, American boxer, today was awaiting deportation following an unscheduled ring fight against a referee last night.

The referee awarded the decision in a fifteen-round bout to Reisler's Australian opponent, and the American swung on the official, punching and wrestling with him until attendants could pull them apart. The fans rushed the ring and it took a strong police force to keep Reisler from being badly handled.

The remainder of Reisler's Australian tour has been canceled by the authorities and he will be sent back to America on the next bout.

KANE MAY BUY JACKIE FIELDS

Sammy Mandell's Manager to Talk With Rooney

Local Boy Likely to Take on Lightweight King

Champ's Pilot Eager to Sign Los Angeles Star

BY PAUL LOWRY

Eddie Kane's arrival in Los Angeles with his lightweight king, Sammy Mendell, may have a deeper significance than the mere formality of lining up a few matches for the champion.

"GIG" ROONEY.

It may mean an attempt to buy the contract of Jackie Fields from "Gig" Rooney.

Kane and Mandell were due to arrive here Wednesday, but washouts along the line delayed their train more than twenty-four hours and they will not reach the city until some time this morning.

Kane and Rooney are very friendly and Kane has had his eyes on Fields ever since his trip to the Coast a year ago. He told Rooney at the time that if Fields, then a growing featherweight, made an outstanding showing as a lightweight he would send Mandell against the boy.

WON EVERY FIGHT

This time has come. Since he grew into the 135-pound division Fields has beaten every fighter he has been sent against. Backing up his promise of a year ago Kane wired Rooney en route that he would sign for a Mandell-Fields bout with the Los Angeles promoter who makes the best offer.

If Fields makes a sensational showing against the "Rockford Flash," Kane will then endeavor to add Fields to his stable.

Such an alignment is not mere idle gossip because Kane is on the lookout for the next lightweight champion. Mandell since he won the title from Rocky Kansas last July 5 has had some four or five unimportant bouts and indicated at no time that he is ready for any rough, tough customers in the 135-pound division.

One of those fights "in the sticks" Mandell took to make a little pin money is said to have just about ruined him for keeps. The bout was with Jack Spar at Wilmington a year ago and during the course of the engagement one of Mandell's ribs was caved in.

CAN'T GET DOUGH BACK

It was reinjured in the scrap with Rocky Kansas and the derelict member has prevented Mandell and Kane from getting back the dough they spent to acquire the title from Kansas.

The latter was guaranteed $50,000 and when Mandell's share of the gate failed to meet the requirement he and Kane had to dig down into their jeans to the tune of $14,000 to make up the deficit.

Now, if somebody has to win the title from Mandell why not Fields, whose manager is a personal friend of Kane's? There might be some way of making up that deficit in a titular engagement in which Fields should happen to emerge on top.

Of course, it might not be according to Hoyle for Kane to buy Fields's contract and then send him against Mandell.

But, if Fields should first whip Mandell then Kane could talk turkey to Rooney and the youngster could have the advantage of Kane's experience in eastern campaigning.

Something like that occurred when

JACK DELANEY, light-heavyweight champion of the world, faces no set-up tonight when he meets the strong, aggressive Boston heavyweight, Jim Maloney. Jack Delaney has shown the world of fistiana that he is growing bigger, stronger and better right along, and though Maloney is touted by many as being the coming heavyweight champion of the world, this flashing-eyed, handsome French-Canadian should beat him go on to further ring glory.

Hand it to Ovila Chapdelaine for many reasons—for his good looks and knightly bearing, his courage, his boxing ability, his knockout wallop, and also for not going into the movies after he won a title, and thus spoiling his chances of taking on weight and improving his general physical condition. And Jack is one of the few heavyweights who has the looks and the ability to be a movie star, too, yet he had the good sense to go up into the woods he loves so well and live the healthiest kind of an outdoor life.

Delaney, you know, is a sharpshooter in more ways than one. He has a regular arsenal of guns at his home, and the keenest of eyes and the steadiest of hands to direct their fire.

Duffy Balks at Accepting Sheared Purse

OAKLAND (Cal.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland crack welterweight, took a knockout last Tuesday night for the third time in a twelve-year ring career and now he refuses to take about $2675, his share of the purse. The reason is a matter of $1000.

Jimmy Duffy

The story goes back to February 2, when Duffy refused to fight with a certain referee in the ring and both he and his trainer were fined $500 each. Last Tuesday night Boxing Commissioner Charles F. FRENZIED FANS SCRAMBLE FOR TICKETS TO CONTEST

French-Canadian Slight Favorite to Win Verdict From Rival; Weight Favors Boston Scrapper

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Tex Rickard today pitched his historic ring for a ten-round heavyweight battle between Jim Maloney and Jack Delaney tomorrow night with frenzied fandom pounding on the doors of Madison Square Garden for tickets that were not to be had.

Amid scenes unparalleled in the history of boxing, the promoter secluded himself in his private office, as hundreds bombarded the place in a futile effort to obtain pasteboards. Under the record demand, word reached the State Athletic Commission that speculators' prices for $20 ringside seats had jumped from $75 to $125 and $150.

TEX RICKARD

There remained a fighting chance for those who were willing to stand in line tomorrow, for a general admission sale starting at 5 o'clock, in the afternoon, when 3200 tickets at $5.50 and $6.50 will be sold. Preparations were made at the Garden to receive applicants before the breakfast hour tomorrow morning.

RECEIPTS $200,000

There has been no public sale thus far and all the reserved seat tickets were disposed of more than a week ago. The official receipts will approximate $200,000—a record sum for a fight not involving a championship. Boxing men estimate, however, that the public will pay at least $100,000 more than that to see two of the outstanding heavyweight challengers battle for consideration as finalist in Tex Rickard's elimination tournament.

The disappointed fans will still

DETROIT MILLIONAIRES LOSE TO RICHFIELD OILERS, 7 TO 2

Led by Abbey Newell, who scored two goals and passed to Lawrence for another as well as playing a bang-up game throughout, and Goalie Tommy Murray, who turned in innumerable saves, the Richfield Oilers, of the local professional ice-hockey league, humbled the invading Detroit Millionaires, 7 to 2, before a packed house at the Winter Garden last night.

The Oilers got the jump on the Millionaires with three goals in the first period, during which Detroit's star goalie, Bonney, was knocked out in a collision and made hors du combat.

Sheppard, brilliant Millionaire wing, was kept in check throughout by the overzealous guarding of the Oilers. Sheppard spent most of his time on the ice from being tripped, Cresswell of the Oilers being put off the ice three times for this offense.

The Oilers started out with a rush and before the game was more than a minute old Abbey Newell was right down in front of the Millionaires' goal with the puck. Newell's shot bounced off Goalie Bonney's big bulk, but Abbey, to use a basketball term, followed in his shot and, on the rebound, took another try that bulged the Detroit net for a goal.

Shortly afterward Jacobs, on a dash into Detroit territory, collided with the huge Mr. Bonney right in front of the Millionaire goal. Bonney was knocked out and cut up a little bit during the collision so Jacobs took advantage of the unprotected net to whack in another Richfield goal.

Bonney, after taking advantage of a ten-minute respite, resumed play and the Millionaires, evidently ruffled over the rough

TELEGRAPHIC VOTE DELAYS DECISION IN HOFF MATTER

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Status of Charley Hoff, Norwegian holder of the world pole-vault record outdoors, is again under consideration of foreign relations and eligibility committees of the Amateur Athletic Union.

CHARLES HOFF

Testimony of witnesses was taken yesterday before the committees which are considering Hoff's plea for reinstatement. Hoff contended that exhibition of his pole-vaulting skill in stage performances did not vitiate the amateur code in spirit and was only for the purpose of paying expenses incurred during a transcontinental trip to sanctioned A.A.U. meets.

His permit to compete in this country was revoked by the foreign relations committee last May after his refusal to appear in a track meet in San Francisco. He later filed suit for damages against the athletic union which was settled out of court.

During the 1926 season Hoff fractured the world indoor record eleven times, finally clearing the bar at 13ft. 8 1-4in. in Chicago. The marks were tabled by the union after his disbarment. At the New York A.C. games this week, Sabin Carr of Yale set a new record of 13ft. 9 1-4in.

Polling of a telegraphic vote, due to failure of Southern, Middle and Far Western members of the committees to attend the sessions, will prevent announcement of a decision for some time. Copies of the testimony will be mailed to absent members.

HOLLYWOOD FIVE WINS

Movie City Tossers Defeat L.A.A.C., 25 to 19 to Annex A.A.U. Basketball Title

With Chuck Kearney playing the feature role the Hollywood Athletic Club basketball team won its first Southern California championship last night. The Movie City tossers defeated the Los Angeles Athletic Club five, 25 to 19, to annex the A.A.U. title. The Mercuries held the crown last year and the season before that.

Kearney, who was ill in bed during the early part of the week, played a spectacular game last night. He made twelve of his team's 25 points and contributed a number of marvelous shots from midfloor. He was given excellent scoring aid by Goertz and Fawcett, forwards, each of whom made 6 points. The playing of Dorsey and McFadden at the guard berths was in no small measure responsible for the success of Hollywood, the two players holding the Mercuries in check in fine style.

Krug Puts Angel Hurlers and Rooks Through Two-Hour Practice

AUTO PARK IS WORKOUT SITE

Seraphs Take Advantage of Prodigal Sun's Return

Jimmy McDowell Signs Up Hollywood Contract

Sheehan and Murphy Report to Star Officials

BY BOB RAY

Taking advantage of the return of the prodigal sun, Marty Krug herded all his pitchers, catchers and rookies out in the auto park of Messrs. Weber, Reichow and Stull yesterday morning and put them through a two-hour limbering-up workout.

Some twenty athletes, most of them youngsters, cavorted around on the gravel and did their best to shake out the kinks in their muscles. The Angel training squad was swelled by two yesterday morning, when two rookies, Outfielder Melvin Axley and Pitcher Ernie Mattias, reported. Axley and Mattias were recently picked off the Oakland sand lots and signed for the Seraphs by Pete Nolan.

Carl August Frederich Wilhelm von Wooden-Weber, representing the parking firm of Weber, Reichow and Stull, announced yesterday that Marty Krug would be charged 25 cents a head for the use of the auto park by the Angel rookies. "However," said big-hearted Mr. Weber, "if Marty wants to take the park for any length of time the firm of Weber, Reichow and Stull will be glad to give him a flat rate of 23 cents."

McDOWELL SIGNS UP

There was considerable activity over in the Hollywood offices where Bill Lane announced that Jimmy McDowell, former Mission first-sacker, who will do his stuff for the Stars this year, had handed in his signed contract. In some quarters it was thought that McDowell was a holdout, but Jimmy put a quietus on that rumor.

Two other Stars also checked in yesterday, Les Sheehan drove down here through the floods from Sacramento. He arrived yesterday morning after running into several delays. The other Hollywood player to land in the city was Denny Murphy, who is going to catch for the Stars this season. Murphy, who wintered in the East, was purchased from the Missions by Bill Lane last winter.

McDowell, Sheehan and Murphy announce that they are all ready to be on hand for the opening workout of the Stars next Monday morning at Gilmore Park.

Bill Lane says that as far as he knows there's not a hold-out on the Hollywood club. "We haven't got any holiers so far," says Bill, "and when they're dissatisfied they generally let out a yelp or two."

KRUG LIKES ROOKIES

Marty Krug is particularly pleased with the size of the youngsters in the Angel training camp this year. All of them are big rangy kids with plenty of size and that's what makes a hit with Marty. Stanley Pillette, the young infielder who is trying out with the Cherubs, handles himself well in tossing the ball around, and "Boots" Weber believes that he'll develop into a handy prospect. Pillette, who had a couple of brothers in the pitching business, comes from a baseball family and ought to come by the game naturally.

Bill Lane also had a young outfielder in John Draper that he believes may show a lot. Draper weighs 220 pounds and he has been hitting 'em a mile in local semipro circles. Lane says that Draper uses a wagon tongue for a bat and that when he connects the ball has to travel. The question is now whether Draper can connect often enough.

Art Griggs and Frank Isbell, co-owners of the Wichita Western League club with Doc Crandall, arrived back in Los Angeles yesterday from the Midwest, where they attended the Western League's annual meeting. Isbell sold half of his interest in the Wichita club to Crandall and Griggs is going to let the two well-liked ex-Coast Leaguers run the team for this year while he raises champion chow dogs on his Van Nuys ranch. All of which makes it appear that Mr. Isbell, who is well known in baseball circles, has gone to the dogs.

OBSERVATIONS

IF THEY do reinstate Charley Hoff, as seems likely, he will inject a lot of excitement into the pole vaulting situation if nothing else. The tall Norseman would draw a packed house any time if pitted against such stars as Sabin Carr of Yale, and some of the other good 13ft. vaulters of the country although in our humble estimation none of them is very likely to do any better than second in any competition where he is entered.

It will be a good thing for athletics if the Hoff tangle is all cleared up. Just what Charley ever did to get in bad with the A.A.U., was never announced, but nobody doubts that Hoff became an out and out professional after the A.A.U. forced him to do so. Some day the high moguls are going to have to reckon a little more closely in this matter of reinstatements of amateurs who have been professionals for a while.

Hoff's case, as we see it, is a little different from the average, because he was practically forced to professionalize himself to eat and the people who forced him into it were the amateur authorities themselves. But a lot of amateurs on one line or another have turned professional and earned a living that way for a couple of years and then been forgiven and restored to good amateur standing again. That is making professionalism a matter of convenience and is bad business for amateur athletics.

The first thing we know George Young will be finding himself out of a chance to make any more money out of his feat of swimming the Catalina channel and will settle down to some business and in a couple of years will be asking reinstatement so that he can compete in the Olympic Games. And, what's more, it wouldn't surprise us a bit if they reinstated him.

HEAVYWEIGHTS MAUL TONIGHT

have left to them the possibility of following the progress of the struggle by radio. It will be broadcast by the Garden station, WMSG.

As the two principals struck camp to return here tonight—Maloney from Long Branch, N. J., and Delaney from Bridgeport, Ct., betting commissioners continued to quote the light heavyweight champion a 2-to-1 favorite. They will be weighed at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Indications are the scales will show a twenty-five-pound advantage for Maloney. Delaney expects to scale slightly under his class limit of 175 pounds.

Record interest in the battle apparently has been justified by an unbroken string of victories for both fighters over a period of more than a year. Both are aggressive, powerful hitters. Both are cool and resourceful under fire.

Tomorrow night's fight will mark Delaney's first appearance in Rickard's tournament, designed to select an opponent for Gene Tunney next September. It will be Maloney's fourth such appearance. The Boston fighter has worked his way through three preliminary rounds of fighting, knocking out Arthur De Kuh and decisively outpointing Frans Diener of Germany, and Harry Persson of Sweden.

Out of close to $500,000 wagered on the outcome of the battle, betting commissioners say that a generous share has been placed at 11 to 5 and 1 to 4 that Delaney will win inside the limit. His knockout victories over McTigue and Bud Gorman have largely encouraged this expectation.

The main bout is scheduled for 10 o'clock. Preceding it will be two ten-round matches and two four-rounders.

In the former contests, Sammy Vogel of New York will be pitted against Charley Mantz of New Bedford, Mass., while Tom Kirby, former national amateur light-heavyweight champion, will tackle Jake Warren.

PETROLLE BOUT CANCELED

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Feb. 17. (AP)—Solly Seeman's scheduled fight with Billy Petrolle, the Fargo (N. D.) lightweight here next Monday, has been canceled because of an injury Seeman received in a bout at Rochester, N. Y., the 14th inst. The Wisconsin Boxing Commission has been advised that Seeman will be unable to box again for several weeks.

VETERAN POLO STAR TO PLAY

Hugh Drury Leads Invading San Mateo Four

Daddy of Mallet Wielders to Show Here Sunday

Picked Midwick Riders Will Furnish Opposition

Now that the polo field at the Midwick Country Club is beginning to look itself again after resembling a scene in old Venice for the past few days, the club mallet wielders are about preparing for the invasion of the San Mateo Blues led by Hugh Drury, one of the oldest players in the game today, will make his appearance here Sunday in a game against a picked team of Midwick riders. The colorful Drury is the "daddy of polo players," having been in the saddle over forty consecutive seasons.

Although Drury is a five-goal man today, in years gone by he was an eight-goal player and one of the best in the nation. He is far from being a has-been today, at that. His playing this season at No. 2 position for the San Mateo outfit has been the outstanding feature of their games. Drury is known as the "miracle man of polo." He refuses to grow old and he thrives on spills and hard knocks. In a game at Midwick several years back, Drury's mount rolled completely over him, knocking him unconscious for five hours. The grand old veteran, however, was back in the saddle within five days, riding as hard as ever.

With Drury in Sunday's tilt will be Lindsey Howard playing back who was recently raised by the United States Polo Association from a one-goal to a three-goal player. His game has improved remarkably in the last two seasons. George Pope, who played at Midwick as one-goal man now rates two instead. He will ride in No. 2 position. Kenneth Walsh, a newcomer to the game, is a one-goal man and from all accounts a first-rate player. He will ride at No. 1 for San Mateo.

Midwick team will be led by Teddy Miller of the Big Four and will include such rising young players as C. B. Wrightsman, Harry Pattee and Val and Jack Holt, of movie fame. The probable slowness of the field will no doubt help Drury's game as he is very effective on slow turf. On Tuesday Arthur Perkins of Midwick will lead another club team against the visitors in a tilt on the Alhambra field.

Sunday's line-up:

San Mateo.		Midwick.
Kenneth Walsh	No. 1	C. B. Wrightsman
George Pope	No. 2	H. Pattee or Ed Vail
Hugh Drury	No. 3	Teddy Miller
Lindsey Howard	Back	Jack Holt

KEARNS MAY GET HUDKINS

announced that a decision would be made either today or tomorrow whether Kearns's offer would be accepted. If the deal does not go through, and if Ace's hands, injured in his scrap with Billy Atkinson, prevent him from signing for any more local engagements, he will leave Monday or Tuesday for New York to prepare for his coming bout with Joe Dundee.

Just two bouts stand between Hudkins and the world's championship, according to Clyde. Pete Latzo, Scranton miner, and holder of the laurels, has agreed to meet the winner of the Hudkins-Dundee affair, which was postponed when the latter suffered an injured ankle.

Ace was nursing a pair of tender, though not seriously damaged hands today, a result of his five-round victory over Billy Atkinson. The right hand was sore, and the left swollen to some extent, but attending physicians reported no bones broken.

BOTTOMLEY SIGNS UP AGAIN WITH CARDS

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—James Bottomley, Cardinal first baseman, who recently mailed back the contract proffered by the club for the 1927 season, said today terms had been agreed upon and he would report at training camp. He said he would receive an increase in salary.

KOTSONAROS AFTER BOUT WITH GREEK

'Kotsy' Wants Lou Daro to Give Winner of Jones Go a Crack at Londos

George Kotsonaros, the fiery Greek bone-crusher, paid a visit to Lou Daro's office yesterday. "Kotsy" wants the wrestling promoter to sign Jim Londos for the winner of his match with Paul Jones next Wednesday night at the Olympic Auditorium.

Jones and Kotsonaros, both mat enemies of Jim Londos, will meet in a match that will bring together two of the most widely different styles in the game. The Greek is a rough and ready sort whose tremendous strength and crushing headlock are his best assets. The tall Texas boy, on the other hand, is a speed demon on the mat who uses his legs to advantage in his punishing hold—the hook scissors.

Unlike Kotsonaros, who is a veritable wild man from Borneo when he gets peeved, Jones is calm and unperturbed under fire.

A 235-pound "Masked Marvel" will wrestle Frank Judson, the former Harvard University coach, in the semi-wind-up. Matty Matsuda is to defend his world's welterweight title against Pete Wiley, the "Rochester Butcher Boy," is the special.

Daro yesterday signed Chris Michaels, a southerner weighing 180 pounds, and Reginald Siki, a 210-pound negro. They have $100 bet on the side, Siki having agreed to flop Michaels inside of fifteen minutes or forfeit the money. It is the result of an argument which started in the Olympic Auditorium at the last show and which threatened to take place right outside the dressing rooms. Promoter Lou Daro implored the combatants to save their animosity until next Wednesday night when the cash customers will have an opportunity to see them twist each other into pretzel shapes.

MISS HOLLINS GOLFING STAR

holes that she had won at the fifth.

Tomorrow Miss Hanchett will meet Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago. Miss Jones was at her best today to defeat Mrs. Jose Maps, 3 and 4, and tomorrow she will rank a slight favorite over Miss Hanchett.

Mrs. Lee Mida, a strong tournament player from Chicago, defeated Mrs. A. B. Swinerton of San Francisco, 2 and 1. Both were playing good golf, but Mrs. Mida was a bit longer from the tee and a bit steadier about the greens. Tomorrow Mrs. Mida will meet Miss Marion Hollins in what should be a fine match.

Championship flight—Miss Marion Hollins, New York, defeated Mrs. W. C. Leith, Chicago, 7 and 5; Mrs. Lee Mida, Chicago, defeated Mrs. Ray Ellsworth, San Francisco, 2 and 1; Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, defeated Mrs. Jay Mack, Del Monte, 3 and 2; Miss Edith Cummings, San Francisco, defeated Mrs. Percy Pollitt, San Francisco, 1 and 1; defeated eight: Miss Margaret Harvey, defeated Mrs. Emil Bosch, San Francisco, 19 holes; Mrs. Harry Rahlfs, Pasadena, defeated Mrs. F. Wrinkle, Victoria, 7 and 6; Mrs. W. Kidder, Pasadena, defeated Miss Esther Bent, San Francisco, 1 up.

Second flight—Miss Ingle Pyatt-Smit, San Francisco, defeated Mrs. D. S. Wilson, Pasadena, 3 and 1; Mrs. R. D. Inman, Portland, defeated Mrs. G. A. Latterstein, Pasadena, 19 holes.

The officers of the club are Bert Coleman of Long Beach, president; Henry F. Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Lottie Schoemmel of New York, vice-presidents, and Arthur Compton of Long Beach, secretary-treasurer.

CHICAGO CUBS ALMOST READY FOR TRAINING

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' roster was almost complete today with the arrival of signed contracts from Infielders Jimmy Cooney and Howard Freigau and Outfielders Riggs and Stephenson.

"Sheriff" Blake, pitcher, and Cliff Heathcote, outfielder, sent in their contracts yesterday. President Veeck said he was not worrying about any "holdouts." The team will depart for Catalina Island the 24th inst.

SAGEHENS WORK FOR TRACKFEST

Pomona Athletes Get First Practice in Week

Tackle Mercury Cinder Stars in Meet Tomorrow

Pipal Says Patterson Field is in Fine Shape

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Pomona's track men today got in the first and last workouts of the week in preparation for the dual meet with the strong Los Angeles Athletic Club team here tomorrow. The Sagehens haven't set a spike on the track since the interclass meet last Saturday, having been kept indoors by the heavy mists of the past three days. Consequently they aren't in any too good condition and the Mercury victory will probably be more of a slaughter than was first predicted.

Some doubt was being expressed in the athletic department today that the meet could be held at all, inasmuch as the Alumni Field track is soaked, in the best sense of the word, and may not be dried off in time. According to the official statistics, Claremont got more rain than any other town in the State, and the athletic field appears to have gotten more than any other place in town, so unless considerable evaporation takes place within the next forty-eight hours, the meet is off. Right now, Coach Bob Strehle is preparing and planning on the meet.

Although the enforced lay-off will necessarily detract from their efficiency on Saturday, it is thought that the Sagehens' strength on track and field will be demonstrated in the fullest. So far there hasn't been much chance of ascertaining the scoring power of this year's blue squad, inasmuch as all its efforts have been directed against itself, but a clash with an outside squad is expected to bring out the best that's in all the boys.

Charley Paddock will again hold the center of the spotlight as far as the fans are concerned. Paddock is scheduled to run in both sprints and, since setting a new world's record in his last appearance here, has become something of an attraction. He is expected to win both his events, and the other Mercury speedsters are dosed for the other places, leaving the Sagehens just outside the money.

Four former Pomona athletes will be competing for the Mercuries against their alma mater. Hugh Pinney and Chuck Potty will be Paddock's mates in the sprints and Homer Priebie and Chuck Eaton are scheduled to perform on the field in the broad jump and javelin, respectively. Individually and collectively, the quartet is expected to account for some eighteen or twenty points.

PATTERSON FIELD IN GOOD SHAPE

Coach Joe Pipal, veteran Occidental track mentor, announced yesterday that Patterson Field was in fine condition for the annual triangular trackfest between La Verne, Redlands and the Tigers tomorrow.

Although the heavy Southland rains caused a great deal of damage at the Orange institution, the field has been placed in fine shape and Pipal declares the meet will not be canceled unless rain comes down steadily today.

At least one sure point getter will be among those missing tomorrow when it was announced that Ted Brodhead, the star Tiger sprinter, would not compete with his teammates. The pulled muscle which he suffered two weeks back in a practice race during a class affair has not as yet healed, and the star will not be back in the fold for at least two weeks more.

Pipal has uncovered a new sprinter for his varsity team in Charles Ruth, formerly of the Las Angeles Pacific College. As yet the newly found sprinter, who specializes in the 100-yard dash, has failed to show any sensational work, but he has managed to match stride for stride with Milt Nash, the highly touted senior. Ruth will be given an opportunity to strut his wares tomorrow in the triangular affair.

POMONA NET TEAM TO PLAY REDLANDS

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Minus the services of Frank Baker, star senior, who was injured in an automobile accident yesterday, Pomona's varsity tennis team invades the University of Redlands Saturday in the second round of the conference net play. Howard Willis, utility man, will replace Baker. Capt. Arnold, Kerbs and Mills will be the other players.

Drivers Will Resume Spins at Speedway

Beyond a slight accumulation of mud in the big automobile and pedestrian tunnels, no damage was reported at the Culver City speedway when officials of the March 6 250-mile classic inspected the plant last night. A crew of workmen was assigned to remove the debris before this morning, when official practice is to be resumed after the delay by the rains.

With everything in readiness at the huge racing track, headquarters reported last night for advance-seat sales were broken when the sale opened yesterday at the main booth in the B. H. Dyas Company store, the store of Halbeiter, Inc., and the Automobile Club main offices.

Honors for the first sale were tied yesterday morning when the booth opened between Jack Pickford and Hoot Gibson. Just as the Dyas booth was opened at 9 a.m., two of the phones rang with their orders for complete boxes. Both are ironies of Harian Pengler, the "boy wonder" of the racing fraternity, whose official entry was filed.

Officials of the big March classic are to confer at the track within the next few days on the minimum qualifying speed for all cars and drivers for the big event. Every pilot will be required to make a special solo lap prior to the race, officially timed by Fred J. Wagner and Art Klein, assistant starter, and reach at least the minimum speed set. If he fails to make this mark, officials declared, he cannot start in the race, no matter how famous he is as a race driver.

Wagner is due to make his final inspection of the big bowl today, examining every foot of the mammoth mile-and-a-quarter oval before intensive practice starts Monday, continuing until dusk of the day before the race.

PIRATES SIGN CONTRACTS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Pittsburgh National League baseball club announced today that all of the thirty-five members of the Pirates' squad have signed a contract for the 1927 season. The first contingent will leave Saturday for spring training quarters at Paso Robles, Cal.

...Ambitious Legion Sta- ...dium fans will get first glimpse ...(Kid) Wagner, the one and ...only star who has ever stopped Sid ...Terkay when the Philadel- ...phian fights Matty Mario ...here next at the Hollywood ...Legion Stadium.

...It is of more than ordinary ...interest owing to the fact that ...Wagner, the lightweight ...who will be at the ringside and ...Mario will also be there. ...Wagner hurled a challenge at ...Mario, declaring should he beat ...Mario by a big margin he will force ...the latter to meet him.

...Mario is out to make such a cred- ...itable showing against Mario that he ...will force a big margin he will force ...Wagner to put a big fight in ...order.

...Wagner should be one of the best ...boxers to date put on in this city ...during the last two years. While the ...Philadelphian has not got local talent they have ...built a reputation to create un- ...usual interest.

...Kid Wagner will enter the ...ring tonight he has the ...record of having fought ...Mario 10 times. He has fought ...the best boys in the coun- ...try and has been featured as a head- ...liner in Boxing in New York.

...The semi-final event is just one of five ...fast bouts. The semi- ...final event will come very close to giv- ...ing the main event a battle for the ...honors of the night. Tom Patrick ...is a favorite over Billy Vin- ...cent in youth and strength. ...Patrick is rated as Vincent but ...a year.

SUZANNE DENIES SHE'S ENGAGED

"I know Baldwin. He is a nice chap. He wants to manage me through a European tour. I don't care."

Mr. Baldwin refused to discuss the rumor of his engagement or his reported intention to sail tomorrow with Mlle. Langlen for France.

While definite information as to Mlle. Langlen's proposed foreign tour was lacking, William H. Pickens, a representative of Charles C. Pyle, said that Pyle had not abandoned the promotion of professional tennis and would soon outline "a pretentious schedule of net games." Suzanne, who has just completed her first tour as a professional, originally was scheduled to tour Europe under the Pyle banner this spring, but failed to agree to his terms.

Duffy says he did not authorize deduction of the money, but what action he intends taking has not been learned.

Young Harry Wills, San Diego negro who scored the knockout over Duffy, received $2860 for his efforts. The house was the largest in the history of Oakland indoor boxing with a net paid gate of $14,300. More than 8000 fans attended, with approximately 5000 being turned away.

Bercot Out to Stop Gans in Olympic Bout

"You can't keep the Irish down!" said Dode Bercot yesterday at the Main-street Club, when questioned regarding his sensational pugilistic which necessitated a year's rest from comeback after a siege of anaemia, the ring. Bercot is training for a ten-round bout with Baby Joe Gans, scheduled for the main event of Joe Levy's Olympic Auditorium card for Tuesday night, March 1.

Dode attributes the stamina which enabled him to best off his illness, to his racial heritage of mixed Irish and French blood.

A year of rest and hard work, alternated, in the north woods has made a better man of Bercot, he says than he was ever before, even when he was the acknowledged peer of all welterweights on the Coast two years ago.

Since his first return bout a year ago, in which he fought Billy Alger to a draw in a stiff six-round bout, Dode has beaten a formidable string of good boys, including kayo wins over Marry Whybrow, Joe Holland and Scotty Ingster.

A win over Gans in all probability will mean a match for Bercot, with Spug Myers. With this in mind, Dode states he intends to put the "Baby" to sleep in the coming match, which will be fought at 142 pounds.

BROWN AND THOMPSON TANGLE IN BAY RING

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Harry "Kid" Brown, veteran Philadelphia boxer, who has been undergoing a rejuvenation at the expense of some of the Coast's leading lightweights, meets Young Jack Thompson, Los Angeles negro, in a ten-round bout at Dreamland rink tomorrow night.

Although Brown came west as a reported "has-been," he has dropped but one decision, meanwhile winning from such performers as Baby Joe Gans, Johnny Adams, and others in Southern California rings. His ring craft will be pitted against the heavy hitting of the negro. Those who follow the game have made but little choice between the pair, being content to call it a close fight.

WOMAN OUTSWIMS HER HUSBAND TO COP RACE

ORMOND BEACH (Fla.) Feb. 17. (AP) Mrs. Lucille Hyatt, 25-year-old Chicago matron, won the first ocean swim from Daytona Beach to Ormond Beach, from a field of nine men and women starters yesterday. She swam the distance—about five miles—in two hours and thirty-eight minutes.

Chauncey Hyatt, her husband, led the swimmers most of the way, but was forced to second position when a cramp developed in a leg and the salt water caused his eyes trouble. He came in twenty-five yards back of his wife.

BRUINS TACKLE POMONA AGAIN

Heath Bringing Strong Squad to Local Contest

New Performers Add Speed to Sagehen Quintet

Whittier Engages Tiger Five in Feature Clash

In a return game, Pomona faces the crack local University of California basketball squad at the Olympic Auditorium tomorrow night. The two teams played several weeks ago in Claremont and the Bruins had all the better of the going, but are going to go up against a different proposition when they face the Sagehens this time. Coach Colvin Heath will take twelve men with him.

Heath has finally groomed the squad into form and the Sagehens are one of the strong teams in the conference. They proved just how good a squad they are by walking all over Fuzz Merritt's classy freshmen in a half-hour scrimmage the other night. The frosh, who are considered extraordinarily fast and boast a clever offensive, didn't have a chance to break through and score, and had plenty of trouble trying to hold off their bigger opponents.

Harold Merritt and Lou Patton, varsity guard and forward, seem to have been supplanted by two subs, according to the way Coach Heath has been working things. Harry Gray, a speedy junior, has been playing Merritt's guard while Bruce Wilkins is in Patton's position.

In the other games on schedule, Occidental transports to Whittier for an engagement that is expected to give the Poets their eighth consecutive victory; Redlands journeys to San Diego to meet the Aztecs, and La Verne mingles with Caltech in Pasadena.

Stanford Five Tackles Bear Team Tonight

BERKELEY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Basketball teams of Stanford and the University of California meet at Oakland Auditorium tomorrow night in the first of a three-game series to determine the championship of the southern section of the Pacific Coast Conference. The second contest will be played at Stanford and the third in San Francisco with the winner meeting the leader of the northern division for Coast honors.

California, with an impressive early season record, is favored to trounce its old-time rival tomorrow night.

Race Promoters Decide to Call Off Speed Test

Promoters of the Los Angeles Grand Prix road race scheduled for last Saturday afternoon over a specially prepared course at Palisades Del Rey, and postponed on account of the weather, announced yesterday that plans to run off the event at a later date have been abandoned, most of the course having been washed out to sea during the recent storm.

The announcement states that an office has been opened at 506 Grosse Building, Sixth and Spring streets, where tickets sold for the event will be redeemed up to 5 p.m. the 24th inst.

GODINEZ DRAWS WITH RICKEY AT PASADENA

Joe Godinez, local bantam, gave away five pounds to Joe Rickey and fought his way to a draw in the eight-round main event at the Pasadena Armory last night. Godinez weighed 118½ pounds and Rickey 120½.

In the six-round semi-wind-up Tony Rios and Joe Bailey battled to a draw. In the other bouts Tommy Vasquez won over Jack Boyd in six rounds and Billy Clark knocked out Carl Gradino in the first round of the curtain raiser.

ASCOT RACES TO GO ON

Plans Going On to Hold Dashes Sunday Unless Rain Ruins Oval Again; Fast Cars Entered

Only a downpour equal to that of the early part of the week will prevent racing at Ascot next Sunday afternoon, it was announced last night by Promoters Macdougall and Lutz after an inspection of the plant during the afternoon. The track is in splendid condition now and the infield will dry out perfectly with a couple of days sunshine.

The first practice in nearly a week will take place this afternoon if the weather conditions permit and a score or more of the pilots made arrangements to take their cars out for the final warming up for the fifty-mile feature event Sunday. More than fifty entries have been listed, eighteen of which will qualify for the fifty-mile race.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement that Jack Petticord is to drive a new Chrysler car Sunday afternoon and the return of the veteran star to the dirt tracks will be welcomed by a big delegation of his friends.

The Redlands Special No. 6, the car in which Harry Jacques crashed a month ago, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and will start Sunday with Bert Spencer at the wheel. The car has been entirely rebuilt since the crash and, according to Spencer and Eddie Meyers, owner of the job, is ready for the most torrid competition available.

Qualifying trials will begin at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and the gates will be open to the public at that hour.

Local Gunman Wins Laurels at Del Monte

DEL MONTE, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) B. A. Gillespie of Los Angeles today set a dazzling pace in the Hotel Del Monte handicap trap shoot at the Del Monte Gun Club with 198x200 birds. A second Los Angeles shooter, Dr. H. W. Armstrong, tied for second place in Class A with J. L. Coffey of Port Angeles, Wash., with 196x200 targets broken.

The high chief of the California Indians, William J. Elibert of Fresno, won Class B, with 195x200 birds. In Class C a new shooter, Fred Vertrees of Denver, finished out in front with 194x200 targets. M. C. Somers of Los Angeles was second with 193x200 birds. M. T. Howard of Klamath Falls won Class D with 178x200 targets. Dr. W. I. Treby of Monterey was second with 177x200. C. D. Plank of San Francisco was high professional and Mrs. Gus Knight of San Bernardino was high lady with 181x200.

Switch Site of Occidental Tilt With U.S.C.

The site of the ball game between U.S.C. and Occidental scheduled for Saturday, March 6, has been changed from Bovard Field to the Tiger diamond, Henry Segrotti, manager of the Trojans, announced today.

The contest on Friday, March 5, will be played on the U.S.C. diamond, however. Said diamond is expected to be ready for use today, thanks to a deal of enthusiastic dragging, etc., which was to prepare it for active service, following a vacation enforced by the rain.

"Slim" Gormsen and Web Gibson, part of the array of Trojan battery talent, took advantage of what sunshine was present yesterday to partake of a brief workout. Manuel Laraneta and Morris "Red" Badgro, who just finished their basketball careers, may be eligible for the diamond sport. Laraneta played three sports last season, doing a bit of pitching, while Badgro was a regular outfielder, having been kept out of basketball with an injury.

Lincoln Track Squad Battles Democrat Team

The Lincoln and Jefferson track teams will open their City League seasons this afternoon when the two clash in a dual meet on the Democrat field. Coach Bates's Railsplitter squad will be favored to win.

On account of the recent rain the Jefferson track will be slow, but it has drained off rapidly and will be in fair shape for the meet.

COLLEGE GOLFERS AT DEL MONTE TOURNEY

DEL MONTE, Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Intercollegiate golfers from all parts of the Pacific Coast were arriving at Del Monte tonight in the hope of getting in a couple of practice rounds for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate championship, which starts Saturday at Pebble Beach.

This year the tournament will be a most representative one. Twelve Stanford players are entered and three of them were out playing today. Five U.S.C. players will arrive in the morning and word was received today that players from both Occidental and Pomona colleges would play. Lloyd Thomas of California, runner-up in the tournament two years ago, is regarded as a probable winner by many. Eight California players are entered.

SPENCER TUNES UP FOR BANNING RACES

Proving that he will be able to defend his former title, Bert Spencer, Banning's racing champion in 1925, who shoved up his Evans special several notches last week, turned the Legion Speedway yesterday in 27sec just three-quarters of a second under the world's record.

Spencer settled down several years ago and got married. He sold his car and decided to give up the racket. But, the lure was too great and he will be back on the 22nd inst. to meet the best in the country at Banning in the world's championship races.

The Southern California motorcycle championship will also be staged the same day.

DETROIT BOWS TO RICHFIELD

treatment given their goaltender, opened up an invasion of the Richfield defense that resulted in Sheppard's taking a pass from Clark and scoring with a dandy shot.

But the Oilers refused to be denied and it wasn't long after that Poole passed over to Scott, who relayed the puck past Bonney right into the Detroit net. The score stayed at 3 to 1 until the first period ended.

Broadfoot, a local hockey player, was substituted at goal for Detroit in the second period, Bonney being in bad shape, and the Oilers proceeded to pile up three more goals. Irwin, Scott and Newell tallied for Richfield. Breen bulged the net for Detroit just before the end of the period, making the score 6 to 2 in the Oilers favor.

Lawrence took a pass from Newell to score the only goal of the third period for Richfield. The Millionaires tried hard but Goalie Tommy Murray was invincible for the Oilers. On one occasion Murray lost his stick in a mix-up but he fought off the Detroit attack anyway.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

"Are you going to Europe on the Mauretania?"
"No, I'm going to California on the contrary."

Our Cook Has Youth

IT HAS been some years since an apple fell on Newton's head and he discovered gravity. Yet every day or so our cook demonstrates it by dropping a crock or platter on the floor, and utterly fails to realize the gravity of the performance. However, she is alive to other scientific phases of her work. She is well aware that soup is expected to run more or less off temperature and that you have to watch it—treacherous stuff, soup!—or before you get it served it will be back to subnormalcy. In her keen way of getting right down to essentials, she has come to know that in the last analysis cookery is only the scientific application of heat. You simply put an egg in boiling water and the thing is done.

When our cook was a mere slip of a girl—she is hardly more than that now—it was her ambition to become a cook at $75 a month. She has attained the latter half of that ambition. And yet she still is simple and unassuming. It was we who made the assumption. We assumed she could cook.

The marvelous part of it all is that she learned everything she knows about cooking by standing outside Childs' and watching the gentleman in the white cap flip griddle cakes. She got every motion of it by heart. Given the batter, she can't be equalled.

In the fullness of her knowledge, she is convinced that the world of cookery and the world of sport are not half so far apart as the uninitiated would suppose. She can tell you that when you bring in a couple of oranges to serve, you don't carry them rolling around on a plate. You are too likely to fumble. Just carry them in under your arm and toss them over the table for the folks to catch.

As stated before, our cook has the big advantage of being young. In the bright lexicon of youth, there is no such word as indigestion. Being a young cook, she is learning right along; in fact, her motto may be said to be: Live on—learn on.

The only trouble is that she is living on—and learning on us.

MARKETING AID PLAN ADVANCES

Federal Government Fosters California Project

Director Will be Named to Give Farmers Relief

Importance of State Output Recognized by Jardine

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Negotiations under way between Gov. Young, George H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, and William Jardine, United States Secretary of Agriculture, for the establishment in California of a comprehensive plan of marketing relief for the farmers and growers of the State are nearing consummation, Hecke announced today.

These negotiations have been quietly carried on for some time by Hecke with the approval of Gov. Young and it is hoped that the scheme of revamping and revitalizing the California market division, through the co-operation of the Federal government, will prove a boon to the farmers.

The first step in working out the plan was to build up and broaden marketing conditions in California and this has been accomplished, declares Hecke, through the activities of Prof. R. L. Adams, who has been serving temporarily as State Market Director.

WILL ACT AS ADVISER

Prof. Adams is head of the farm management department of the University of California and he was loaned to the State Department of Agriculture to aid in solving the marketing problem. He will return to his duties at the university not later than June 1, but will continue to serve the State in an advisory capacity.

The second and outstanding topic in the scheme of things will be the appointment as State Market Director of a man of unquestioned ability who has been trained for years in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture and has the confidence of the Federal chiefs. This man, while holding his position under the State government, will draw his pay from both the State and Federal governments. The salary will be such as will attract a man of superior training and ability, says Hecke, "a man who particularly knows the eastern markets where the California growers must sell their products."

William Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, has given his approval to the plan of naming for California a marketing director who will have behind him the combined resources of the United States Department of Agriculture, with all its vast statistical and marketing advisory service, in addition to the forces of the California Department of Agriculture.

BAR POLITICS

Jardine's approval, given to Hecke at a recent conference held with the Secretary of Agriculture in Salt Lake City, had but one reservation, that the position of California market director be taken out of politics by placing it under civil service.

Gov. Young, who is very anxious for the consummation of the plan which he believes will cure many of the ills of the agriculturist, declares he is for the Jardine reservation and a bill will be introduced in the Legislature to meet the Secretary's request.

GIRL DEPUTY TAKES TRIO IN RUM RAID

Two Hundred Gallons of Whisky Also Captured in Erstwhile Vacant House

PAULSBORO (N. J.) Feb. 17. (AP)—A young woman deputy sheriff, craving excitement today, raided an apparently vacant house here and seized 200 gallons of whisky.

The young woman is Miss Edith Ballen, stenographer to Sheriff John B. Statton of Gloucester county.

"It was thrilling and I want to make some more raids," she said, after her prisoners, James Pendler of Paulsboro, his son, John, and a third man, were safely on their way to Woodbury for a hearing.

The honor of being the first woman to conduct a raid in the county was brushed aside with a deprecatory gesture by Miss Ballen, who said she "really enjoyed it—every minute of it."

"Oh, I just felt as good as any man with that pistol in my hand," she continued.

American-Made Opera Opens in British Setting

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The "King's Henchman," the made-in-America opera, but done in ye olde English with a British setting, had its world premiere before a fashionable and distinguished audience at the Metropolitan Operahouse tonight.

Fifteen native American singers were in the large cast, but of the three leading voices, only one, Lawrence Tibbett of California, was a home product. Florence Easton, born in Great Britain, and Edward Johnson, a Canadian, sang the leading soprano and tenor roles.

Tonight's audience seemed to enjoy the opera. The Metropolitan was packed to the limit with all available space occupied.

Deems Taylor, who composed the music and Miss Edna St. Vincent Millay, the American poet, received ten curtain calls at the end of the first act with similar acclaim after the second and third acts.

Regardless of what the verdict of the critics may be, the Metropolitan has indicated its faith in the long-sought American opera by booking "The King's Henchman" for a second performance next Monday night and that engagement too is a sell-out.

Austrians are demanding more automobiles from America than the Austrian government will permit to enter the country.

ONE'S NEVER TOO OLD TO LEARN

University Has New Student 72 Years of Age, Who Wears Beard

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Butler University here has a new student, 72 years of age. Philip A. Randall, of Fortville, born in 1854, has enrolled in the college, taking into his classes a white beard and gray hair. He received the rating of senior and will complete his course in a year, due to the fact that he has a diploma from the Holbrook School, Cincinnati, received in 1878.

Randall explained he was entering college in order to qualify for a position as teacher in the schools at Pendleton. A daughter of Randall was a member of the faculty of Butler for three years.

ITALY PENS ARMS 'MEET REJECTION

Rome Delays Sending to Support Its Stand With Full Data, Officials Say

ROME, Feb. 17. (AP)—Italy's official reply to President Coolidge's disarmament proposal remained tonight in the hands of the Foreign Office officials, who are working strenuously to put the finishing touches to the document.

The note, which, it is asserted, semiofficially rejects the American invitation for a conference for supplementary disarmament, virtually was finished yesterday, but the government's desire to insert more detailed technical support for the Italian contentions prompted delay in its delivery. The main lines of the document already have been set down by Premier Mussolini, with the aid of Admiral Acton and other experts.

The Foreign Office declines to specify the exact time of delivery, merely saying that it will be as soon as possible.

After it became known that the French government's reply rejected the Coolidge proposal, it was considered that there was no reason for haste in forwarding Rome's reply.

Officials point out that the success or failure of the Coolidge plan no longer depends on the Italian attitude. Therefore, Premier Mussolini decided to have the document put in such form as not only to answer Washington, but to embody a complete exposition of the Italian viewpoint on problems of general naval disarmament and the Mediterranean defense situation.

Turkish Trade Pact Expected to Mend Ties

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Negotiations which apparently are approaching a successful conclusion at Constantinople are expected not only to extend the present trade understanding between the United States and Turkey, but to restore the diplomatic relations broken by the World War.

Officials here will not disclose whether Rear-Admiral Bristol, now holding the title of American Commissioner at Constantinople, will be given appointment as American Ambassador, or whether a regular diplomatic officer will be chosen. Those mentioned include Joseph C. Grew, now Undersecretary of State.

Extension of the trade agreement was made necessary by the Senate's refusal to ratify the Lausanne Treaty. The present agreement expires next Sunday.

Squad Digs All Night to Rescue Dog From Cave

WOODRUFF (S. C.) Feb. 17. (AP)—"Ring," a little dog held fast by rocks in a narrow underground passageway for 110 hours, walked from his prison just before dawn and bounded into the arms of his master with tail wagging furiously.

Twenty men had worked through the night with pick and shovel and Willie Nelson, 19 years of age, crawled into the passageway at 3:45 o'clock, made his way thirty feet to where the dog was lodged, and pulled the animal free with an iron hook.

The dog had been without food since last Thursday when he chased a fox into the passageway and became imprisoned. The fox was removed yesterday, dead. "Ring" had killed it.

Houses Rocked by Earthquake in Ohio Town

MANSFIELD (O.) Feb. 17. (AP)—A series of slight earth tremors occurred here and localities near by last night between 11:30 o'clock and midnight.

Although no damage was reported, houses swayed and furniture moved about. A number of people were awakened.

TARIFF INVESTIGATORS WILL CONTINUE WORK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The life of the special Senate committee investigating the tariff commission was extended today by the Senate beyond the present session of Congress. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, said the committee could not conclude its work before adjournment.

The WAR IS ON!

For many months a "price war" had raged in Los Angeles' "tailoring circles." It received no recognition from Dan Parker until four weeks ago—when he announced that the "LID WAS OFF" and his mighty resources would be thrown into the existing "TAILORING PRICE CONFLICT." And the manner in which the clothing buyers have volunteered to aid Dan Parker has inspired him to carry on "this price war" with greater vehemence—and to a "favorable finish." Parker knew that he had the finances—the woolen buying power—at mill prices—the greatest shop organization—and a low upstairs rent advantage—but he did not conceive he could muster such a huge army of "volunteers"—in such short time. It was a great revelation. And now for the "DRIVE FOR ANOTHER 5000 VOLUNTEERS." Prospective suit buyers cannot help but embrace the cause of DAN PARKER.

He has over 125 skilled artisans ready to make up EVERY YARD OF THE ¼ MILLION DOLLAR STOCK (BOUGHT AT THE MILL) WITH VERY LITTLE PROFIT—IF ANY—in order to maintain a mercantile existence—and emerge victorious from this conflict. Gentlemen: You will witness values you never set eyes upon before. Words we know, are empty, if not substantiated. All that is asked, is:—"DON'T BUY ELSEWHERE" until you have seen Parker's array of "bolts upon bolts" of woolens—priced so low—the consumer must marvel. And your inspection, will be attended with courtesy, whether you buy or not—Our salesmen are instructed not to harass a customer. Volunteers are wanted for the Parker cause. Any war is costly, but if 5000 to 10,000 volunteers can be enlisted before the season's end, the fight will not have been in vain. The advertising advantage will mitigate for the loss of regular profits. Gentlemen of Los Angeles and vicinity you will witness greater inducements in Parker's MIRACULOUS

BONDHOLDERS AGAIN PROTEST

Seek Payment of Repudiated Southern Securities

British Society Appeals to Members of Congress

Says Settlement Would Aid War Debt Collection

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Thousands of British holders of the $15,000,000 worth of State bonds defaulted fifty-five to eighty-five years ago by Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and the two Carolinas have found a means for disembarrassing the Coolidge administration of its $383,000,000 budget surplus.

A concerted campaign to obtain reimbursement for these bonds was revealed today when a letter written to members of the United States Senate and House by the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders—an organization of British holders of repudiated securities—was published.

The letter says: "Let the States, or the American people as a whole, at a time when they have an enormous budget surplus which seems to source of positive embarrassment to the government, make a sacrifice which is trifling when compared with the sacrifice the bondholders in this country are making, discharging their obligations so Europeans can refer to the American people in terms of admiration and respect.

"If the estimated figure is correct, the American budget surplus of $383,000,000 would alone more than redeem these bonds with all accrued interest."

The holders of the Southern States' bonds organized some time ago under an act of Parliament. The members also are holders of repudiated Turkish and Russian bonds. It is estimated that the original loans of $15,000,000, with their accrued interest, now total approximately $75,000,000.

The British holders deny the argument that the loan was raised during the Civil War to carry on the struggle against the Union, but cite proof that they are ordinary commercial obligations, some being repudiated even before the Civil War.

The letter says:

"To the people of Great Britain, who have always met their obligations in spirit, and letter, the record of the United States appears astounding. Is it surprising that the British holder of this defaulted obligation who is taxed beyond endurance in order to supply millions of pounds annually to meet his country's debt to the United States for money borrowed to avert a common danger, feels indignant? Do you realize the incredible fact that not only is the Southern States' debt unpaid, but also the obligation to repay it has formally been repudiated? No other country or state except Russia ever has taken such a step."

WOOING BY USE OF GUN BARRED

Suitor Declared Transgressing on Social Proprieties Now in Custody

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Camping on a young woman's doorstep with a revolver and announcing intention of shooting unless the young woman dashes out to get married is considered a social error in El Cerrito this season.

In order to preserve the proprieties, Miss Frances Bonani, 16 years of age, had Ben Potter, 20, of Albany, removed from her doorstep by the copper on the beat on charges of disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons. "And keep him there," she requested.

LODGE GIVES NEW THEORY FOR CANCER

Sir Oliver Suggests That Disease May be Caused by Catalytic Action

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The suggestion that cancer may not be a microscopic growth, but something of a catalytic growth similar in some respects to a kind of "disease" which sometimes affects radio tubes, has been advanced by Sir Oliver Lodge, noted British scientist.

Sir Oliver was careful to say, however, that his suggestion is only a hint offered by a layman for what it is worth.

During a discussion at the Royal Society of Arts, Sir Oliver said that he has evolved an idea concerning the possible cause of cancer through study of the workings of radio tubes. He referred to the catalytic action affecting tubes and suggested that cancer "may not be a microscopic growth, nor even a patheological growth, but possibly something of a catalytic growth."

Catalysis is explained as a chemical process involving the decomposition of a compound substance and the recomposition of its elements, the catalytic agent bringing about the process and enabling it to continue without itself being affected.

At the Cancer Hospital Research Institute, it was stated that experiments have not given any evidence to support Sir Oliver's suggestion.

STRIKERS BALLOTING

San Francisco Carpenters Vote on Agreement to End War

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Balloting for the purpose of formally announcing the attitude of union carpenters and joiners on the long-standing carpenters' strike, is under way. The vote will determine whether the carpenters, who went on strike last April, will ratify or reject the agreement reached last month between their representatives, contractors and the public.

The ballot boxes will be closed tomorrow afternoon, indicating that most of the votes have been returned. Union officials refused to indicate which way the vote is likely to go, btu it is believed it will be one of ratification, because the agreement which brought the active strike to an end last month was accepted by the unions through their representatives on the committee.

DEBT REJECTION DEMAND DENIED

Publisher McCormick Cites Public Attitude Abroad

Repudiation Talk Credited to Party Demagogues

Europe's Current Difficulties Attributed to Politics

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Returning from Europe on the Mauretania, Col. R. R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, reported that he found "no general public demand for the repudiation of the war debts to America."

Current difficulties in Europe are grounded in politics rather than in economics, according to Col. McCormick. He discussed conditions in France, Germany and Great Britain, in the light of knowledge freshened by his thirtieth voyage.

"France is held under the heel of a political machine which is draining the country's finances," Col. McCormick said. "Another thing, France is conducting government monopolies in tobacco and matches, has government-run telephones and telegraph, and a good many railways—all losing money. All are loaded with pay rolls which cannot be eliminated because of politics. And the phone service, for instance, is abominable. It is so bad it is hindering business. It is out of the question to think of telephoning from Paris to London, and one is fortunate to get a successful connection in the environs of Paris.

REAL ESTATE BURDENS

"Added to its other burdens, the French government has a lot of improved real estate. I do not refer to the Louvre and Versailles—they are useful—but to hundreds of acres of land in Paris covered with two-story buildings, such as the School of War and the departments of Army, Navy and Justice. Some plots are suited for high-class buildings, such as hotels, and could be put to work paying the tremendous national taxes, but they are held down by the incubus of the political machine.

"The pay roll of the civil army, not the military army, is bleeding France to death.

"Being unable to balance in her budget, the French politicians welcome honorary degree-seeking professors who preach repudiation."

Turning to England, Col. McCormick pointed out that the international situation is entirely different.

SITUATION IN ENGLAND

"The Liberal party, which has dominated England so long, has blown up," he said. "The Conservative party is in power, which means rule by the hereditary and landed aristocracy. To be sure, the aristocracy has ruled more or less all the time, but is now completely in the saddle. It comes into the saddle just at the time when America has taken world dominance from England. Also at a time when, through America's action in repudiating the League of Nations and not swallowing the World Court whole, it becomes evident that England cannot dominate American policy. So the aristocracy sees itself relegated to second place by a republic. This has never happened before in English history, and it is bitterly resented.

"American correspondents of Tory newspapers fill their cabled news stories with hostile deductions and the debt is just one thing that can be raked up."

"On the other hand," Col. McCormick continue, "there is in England the organized Labor party, led by a certain number of bankrupt peers who are resentful at being poor while their brother peers are rich, by American millionaires who obtained British peerages without British social position, and are resentful, and by ambitious politicians who would be Lenins and Trotzkys. This group has no more to do with labor actually than writers for so-called radical American magazines, which are being kept by sensation-seeking rich New Yorkers.

STIRRING HATRED

"This group in England is endeavoring to exploit British labor in order to bring about a revolution so they can wield autocatic power like the soviet Russians. They see in the United States, where there are no aristocrats to hate and where labor is respected and is self-respecting, a form of civilization which is hateful to them because it is the negation of Bolshevism. They are therefore trying to stir up hatred against America.

"The great bulk of the British people are much more prosperous now than in years. They are better dressed, better housed and better fed, but are not organized politically. They are not helping to foment the antagonism to America. The broad section of the English people only want to be let alone, with the chance to prosper. They need higher pay in return for higher production.

"There is still a good deal of medievalism in England and some of the British look upon their employees as serfs. They do not bring the lower walks of life up to the other, hence they create the excuse for bringing the upper walks down to the lower level."

GERMANY'S DANGER

As for Germany, Col. McCormick said: "Everything appears all right."

"The present generation of Germans," he said, "remember the German officers who bumped one off the sidewalk. They remember it was the Kaiser who deserted the army and hid food in the palace and they are strongly in favor of the republic. The only danger to the German republic, as I see it, is not in the present, but possibly in the future. This is because of the fact that in the schools the doctrines of the old monarchy are being taught and it may be easier to restore the monarchy in the next generation than it is this month or this year."

PRINCESS BLAMES MOORE

Wife of Datu Tahil, Who Was Educated in America, Says Governor Usurps Power

BY PRINCESS TARHATA KIRAM

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

JOLO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—I am being prosecuted for sedition in connection with the trouble here involving my husband, Datu Tahil. I feel that an unwarranted importance is attached to me in connection with this trouble. Perhaps it is due to my family and my travels and education in the United States.

It is a fact that it is the experience of all colonial governments that the most troublesome elements in a subjugated country belong to the educated class, particularly those educated abroad. It is axiomatic that you cannot make a slave of a man after educating him.

FREE GOVERNMENT

My stay in America has taught me that the true essence of free government is that all powers should not be vested in one man. In Sulu we have a governor, who is at once superintendent of schools and justice of the peace. All know how much he usurps the prerogatives of the other officials, who are being converted into mere pawns on the chess board.

Except for a few who are closely connected with Gov. Moore, indignation is general over the unnecessary slaughter at Jolo, where no less than eighty persons, including women and children of tender age, were killed. The official report says thirty were killed. No explanation is advanced to justify the feverish haste in ordering the attack on our cotta (fort) except for the alleged connection of Datu Tahil with the movement.

BANDITS AT LARGE

Gov. Moore now is seeking to patch up all the existing differences provoked by himself, like a modern Machiavelli, between the different elements. His purpose is to postpone the outbreak of any further trouble during the remaining period of his administration.

No drastic action has been taken against the Jolo bandits, with followers numbering 500, despite the fact that the government has been thoroughly informed that these people have taken an oath on the Koran to rob, plunder and kill. These outlaws will remain unmolested, because there is no Datu Tahil leading them.

Charges of sedition have been filed against me, but the truth will come out, I hope.

Customs Chiefs Plan Opening of Port San Luis

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Lewis H. Schwaebe, United States collector of customs for Los Angeles and San Diego, conferred here today with Collector John J. Dea of the San Francisco district on plans for the formal opening of Port San Luis, new harbor development at San Luis Obispo, on March 19, next.

"The opening of Port San Luis means a great step forward, not only for San Luis Obispo and contiguous territory, but for the entire State of California," Schwaebe declared. "Few districts in California are as rich in potential resources as this county and the new seaport will give the fullest opportunity for development.

"I am particularly pleased that San Francisco and Los Angeles are handling the opening together. A thing like this is not of local importance only, but of widespread benefit and any fair-minded citizen will recognize the justice of projects which are of benefit to the whole State."

Schwaebe is returning to Los Angeles from Washington. It is planned to send a group of Coast Guard vessels to the port opening, which also will be attended by civic officials of San Francisco, Los Angeles and intermediate cities.

IVORY CACHE GUARDED

African Natives Shield Graveyards of Elephant Herds

CAPETOWN (South Africa) Feb. 17. (AP)—African natives, realizing the value of ivory, are becoming crafty in their dealings with white merchants.

They guard carefully the secret of the elephant graveyards, and thus, like the diamond syndicates, help control prices by restricting the output.

Elephants have a foreknowledge of death and wander away from the herd, to an elephant graveyard to die. The whereabouts of these piles of bone and ivory is a closely guarded secret of the African bush native, who obtains from them large quantities of tusks to sell to traders.

POLAND AND ITALY PLAN ARMS PACT

Warsaw Shows Distrust of France by Negotiation of Alliance Against Reds

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Italy and Poland are preparing a secret military pact to close the ring encircling soviet Russia. Col. Wieniawa Elugolwicki, aide and special courier of Marshal Pilsudski to Rome, is negotiating the pact.

Officially Col. Elugolwicki is visiting the Italian capital to return the call of Fascist leaders who brought a special message of friendship from El Duce to the Mussolini of Poland, Marshal Pilsudski. But the main part of his trip is to effect a military alliance between Poland and Italy. The latter guarantees to give Poland military assistance in case of war with Russia and to send the Italian fleet into the Black Sea to support action by territorial troops.

Poland is seeking an Italian alliance because it no longer trusts its former main ally, France. It asserts that through the Locarno agreement France became a close ally of Germany and no longer is considered the mainstay of Poland.

FRENCH SHELVE ACTION ON DEBT

Ratification Vote Ignored in Chamber Program

Army Budget and Ballot Reform Come First

Poincare Routs Socialists in Clash on Plans

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies will be too busy with internal problems to give attention to ratification of the Washington debt accord for several months, with the prospect that it will be October before the subject can be reached.

The parliamentary program as proposed by the government, in virtual accord with the party leaders, provides first of all for action on a bill reducing obligatory military service to one year.

Premier Poincare informed the Chamber this evening that the government proposed the following order of discussion: First, reorganization of the army; second, the budget for 1928 and, third, electoral reform.

This morning the Socialists decided to oppose this program by fighting for the immediate consideration of the new electoral system. When the question came up in the Chamber, the discussion turned on the order of precedence between the military question, electoral reform and the budget, but Premier Poincare maintained the hold he has on the Chamber since last August and easily got the best of the Socialist's scheme to change the order of business.

The ratification resolution was totally ignored. The program, as now outlined, will occupy the Chamber until the summer vacation.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Reformation of Calliope

By O. HENRY

"Just think, now, that little boy of mine has got to be a officer—a city marshal of a whole town!"

TURKEY, terror of the town of Quicksand, was ill. Inspired by the barbarous melodies and the smell of his jug, he was ready to don her fresh laurels from the lost love of Quicksand. Encouraged with cartridges, and copiously drunk, he burst into Quicksand's [illegible]

Quicksand was its trim, Calliope's was steady. The high, calm [illegible] battle was upon it. Calliope slightly embittered by the [illegible] of Alexander in that his [illegible] was limited to the small [illegible] he conquered.

Down the street went Calliope, [illegible] right and left. Glass fell [illegible] dogs vanquished; chickens [illegible] scurrying; feminine voices [illegible] shrilly to youngsters at [illegible]

Buck Patterson had been expecting [illegible] meeting in his little ten-by-[illegible] from [illegible] that preliminary [illegible] announcing that Calliope was [illegible]

"Here comes that fellow in," said Buck [illegible] setting for the lines of the [illegible] "Don't have no talk, but [illegible] soon as you can get a show. [illegible] a pistol never and bring him [illegible] He's a rapscal 'im. It's up to [illegible] to turn up his toes this time. [illegible] Go to him all spraddled [illegible] And don't git too reck-[illegible] in what Calliope shoots at he [illegible]

Buck Patterson, tall, muscular, and [illegible] stood, with his bright "City [illegible]" badge shining on the breast [illegible] his flannel shirt, gave his [illegible] directions for the onslaught [illegible] Calliope. The plan was to ac-[illegible] the downfall of the Quick-[illegible] now without loss to the at-[illegible] party, if possible.

Right in his way was the little rail-[illegible] in building a strong box [illegible] by twenty feet, resting [illegible] platform four feet above [illegible] Beams were in each of its [illegible] something like a fort it might [illegible] to a man thus sorely pressed [illegible] numbers.

Calliope made a bold and rapid [illegible] for it, the marshal's crowd [illegible] him as he ran. He reached [illegible] in safety, the station agent [illegible] by the building by a window, [illegible] flying pastoral, as the garrison [illegible] to dust.

Calliope now was a hand truck [illegible] to the manipulation of small [illegible] It stood by a shed full of [illegible] a consignment from one [illegible] baby matches. On this truck [illegible] and his men piled three [illegible] cans of work. Stooping low, [illegible] Buck started for Calliope's [illegible] pushing this loaded [illegible] him for protection.

Calliope was too deeply en-[illegible] in steering his protected bat-[illegible] to be aware of the approach [illegible] incoming train until he was [illegible] a few feet of the splatform. [illegible] train was coming up on the [illegible] side of it. It stopped only one [illegible] of Quicksand. What an op-[illegible] it would offer to Calliope! [illegible] only to step out the other [illegible] of the train, and away.

Buck, [illegible] bracing his brawnworks, Buck. [illegible] you ready, dashed up the [illegible] on heave of his weighty [illegible] The members of the posse [illegible] shot fired inside, and then [illegible] silence.

Then the wounded man opened [illegible] After a blank space he [illegible] his eyes and hear and feel and [illegible] Turning his eyes about, he [illegible] himself lying on a wooden [illegible] A tall man with a perpierced [illegible] hat, wearing a big badge [illegible] Marshal" engraved upon [illegible] star. A little old woman [illegible] with a wrinkled face and [illegible] black eyes, was holding a [illegible] handkerief against one of his [illegible] He was trying to get these [illegible] into his mind and connected [illegible] with some, when the old wom-[illegible] spoke to him.

"Now, great, big, strong man! [illegible] never fetched ye! Just [illegible] the side of your head [illegible] purtiest ye fer a spell. [illegible] last train from Alabama [illegible] by us. Big son, ain't he? [illegible] he wouldn't hardly think [illegible] long a baby, would ye? This [illegible] old."

Presently the old woman looked [illegible] smoking man, her worn [illegible] with a proud and won-[illegible]

"Can you my son believe," she [illegible] "eight years. Just think, [illegible] boy of mine has got [illegible] city marshal of a [illegible] I never knowed he was [illegible] he didn't say nothin' about [illegible] I never knowed he thought [illegible] be elected about the [illegible] was in. But, boys! I never [illegible] of a hand to git elected. [illegible] I heard them guns a-[illegible] I was goin' off them [illegible] I was a-comin' out [illegible] but I just walked right [illegible] I see Buck's face lookin' [illegible] the window. I knowed [illegible] He sent me at the door, [illegible] me 'most to death. And [illegible] he, sir, a-lyin' there jest [illegible] dust, and I 'spose we'd [illegible] some to help out [illegible]

"I'll sit up now," said the [illegible] patient. "I'm feeling [illegible] by one time." [illegible] it's all right," said [illegible] passing his arm, "if [illegible] got to sittin' up again, [illegible] to take it off till the day your mother leaves this town. You'll be city marshal of Quicksand as long as she's here to know it. After I stir around town a bit and put 'em on I'll guarantee that nobody won't give the thing away to her. And say, you leather-headed, rip-roarin', low-down son of a locoed cyclone, you follow that advice she give me! I'm goin' to take some of it myself, too."

"Buck," said Calliope feelingly, "ef I don't I hope I may—"

"Shut up," said Buck. "She's a-comin' back."

and havin' folks shootin' at you. Son told me about you, sir, while you was layin' senseless on the floor. Don't you take it as meddlesome fer an old woman with a son as big as you to talk about it. And you mustn't hold no grudge ag'in' my son for havin' to shoot at ye. A officer has got to take up for the law—it's his duty—and them that acts bad and lives wrong has to suffer. Don't blame my son any, sir—'tain't his fault. He's always been a good boy—good when he was growin' up, and kind and 'bedient and well-behaved. Won't you let me advise you, sir, not to do so no more? Be a good man, and leave liquor alone and live peaceably and godly. Keep away from bad company and work honest and sleep sweet."

The black-mittened hand of the old pleader gently touched the breast of the man she addressed. Very earnest and candid her old, worn face looked. In her rusty black dress and antique bonnet she sat, near the close of a long life, and epitomized the experience of the world. Still the man to whom she spoke gazed above her head, contemplating the silent son of the old mother.

"What does the marshal say?" he asked. "Does he believe the advice is good? Suppose the marshal speaks up and says if the talk's all right?"

The tall man moved uneasily. He fingered the badge on his breast for a moment.

"I say this," he said, looking squarely into the eyes of the other man, "that if I was in your place I'd follow it. If I was a drunken, desp'rate character, without shame or hope, I'd follow it. If I was in your place and you was in mine I'd say: 'Marshal, I'm willin' to swear if you'll give me the chance I'll quit the racket. I'll drop the tanglefoot and the gun play, and won't play hoss no more. I'll be a good citizen and go to work and quit my foolishness. So help me God!' That's what I'd say to you if you was marshal and I was in your place."

"Hear my son talkin'," said the old woman softly. "Hear him, sir. You promise to be good and he won't do you no harm. Forty-one years ago his heart first beat ag'in mine, and it's beat true ever since."

The other man rose to his feet, trying his limbs and stretching his muscles.

"Then," said he, "if you was in my place and said that, and I was marshal, I'd say: 'Go free, and do your best to keep your promise.'"

"Lawsy!" exclaimed the old woman, in a sudden flutter, "ef I didn't clear forget that trunk of mine!"

Away to the door she trotted, spry and anxious, and then Calliope Catesby spoke out to Buck Patterson:

"I just couldn't help it, Buck. I seen her through the window a-comin' in. She never had heard a word 'bout my tough ways. I didn't have the nerve to let her know I was a worthless cuss bein' hunted down by the community. There you was lyin' where my shot laid you, like you was dead. The idea struck me sudden, and I just took your badge off and fastened it on to myself, and I fastened my reputation on to you. I told her I was the marshal and you was a holy terror. You can take your badge back now, Buck."

With shaking fingers Calliope began to unfasten the disc of metal from his shirt.

"Easy there!" said Buck Patterson. "You keep that badge right where it is, Calliope Catesby. Don't you dare

He is Lieut. Frank L. Wright of Chicopee, who testified during the trial of an accident suit in Superior Court that his measured distances of certain things pertaining to the accident by using his pedal extremities for a foot rule.

"I don't desire to be personal about the size of your foot," said one of the attorneys, "but do you mean they are twelve inches long?"

"Yes, sir," replied Lieut. Wright, "I do. They are a good foot long."

His estimate was not questioned further by the counsel.

Texas Guinan Among Those Jailed When Fleeced College Boy, Now Dry Agent, Steps in

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A wealthy college youth with a grudge against New York's Great White Way caused a prohibition raid early today on the Three Hundred Club in West Fifty-fourth street, and sent Texas Guinan, night club hostess, to jail for the wee small hours.

This college youth, Federal agents said, furious at having been fleeced of $7000 in one of the night clubs, went to Washington, obtained a position as a prohibition agent and has been spending his own money in getting evidence against high-class night clubs.

The agents refused to reveal the young man's identity, but it was said he, with seven others, including four women agents, had been guests at various night clubs. The party was said to have been in the Three Hundred Club at the time of the raid.

Eighteen agents, including four women, descended on the club shortly after 2 a.m., threw the roomfull of fashionably attored guests into consternation, seized a small quantity of asserted liquor and carted Texas and four male assistants to the precinct station in a patrol.

Bail was refused when Capt. Ingleby of the prohibition forces explained to the police magistrate that, in addition to being charged with illegal sale and possession of liquor, Miss Guinan was charged with violation of a personal injunction which he asserted carried a jail sentence on conviction. Bail, he said, can be taken only by the Federal judge who signed the original injunction.

Miss Guinan, who gave her age to the desk sergeant as 36, took her arrest in good humor and entertained the hundred or more persons who followed her to jail with impromptu selections of popular songs.

SURETY HOUSE ISSUES REPORT

First Statement of Pacific Indemnity Given Out

New Vice-Presidents Elected to Serve Coming Year

Assets of Casualty Company Increase $1,032,925

Three vice-presidents were added and other changes were made in the official staff of the Pacific Indemnity Company at the first annual meeting of the board of directors yesterday. At the annual meeting of stockholders all of the old members of the board of directors were re-elected for the ensuing year.

Milton R. Johnson, manager of the casualty department, was elected vice-president and general manager of the company; F. E. Brisbine, manager of the surety department, was made vice-president and manager of the fidelity and surety department, and Preston Hotchkin, secretary-treasurer, was promoted to the office of vice-president and treasurer. John P. McGean was appointed secretary, and James E. McInerny and Charles Bishopp were made assistant secretaries.

Leo A. Phillips, president, and O. Rey Rule and James Rolph, Jr., vice-presidents, were re-elected.

ASSETS INCREASE

The Pacific Indemnity's first financial statement issued yesterday, covering the period from the inauguration of business late in May, shows that during the six months assets increased $1,032,925.65, to a total as of December 31, last, of $4,032,923.65.

Assets included loans on first mortgage and collateral totalling $1,808,650, and bonds aggregating $1,871,603.41, with accrued interest on these investments amounting to $57,897.37. Cash in banks totaled $213,920.21, premiums in course of collection, but not overdue, amounted to $533,582.60 and other assets $1638.99.

Reserves for unearned premiums, unpaid commissions, unpaid losses, unpaid expenses and unpaid taxes amounted to $1,258,322.13. Surplus over all liabilities totaled $1,274,608.52. The company's capital is $1,500,000.

EXPANSION PLANNED

"The investment department has kept all available funds invested at an average earning of 6.39 per cent," Mr. Phillipps told stockholders. "Considering the fact that the assets of the company increased $1,032,926 during the period, I think the showing is a creditable one. Very favorable reinsurance treaties protect the company from excessive losses, and it will be the policy of the board to continue to reinsure until our surplus is built to a point where larger lines can be carried with safety.

"California business is receiving our particular attention at present, and as this territory becomes well organized, Washington and Oregon, as well as Arizona, Nevada and Utah, will be developed. We have qualified and entered in all of these States, but have not attempted an aggressive campaign for business."

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Feb. 17. (By Wireless) After a weak opening, with a decline in Chinese securities, the markets today became slightly steadier, including the oils. The rails were also inclined to harden, though some apprehensions are felt as to the character of the impending Northeastern dividend, which is the last one to be announced.

Considerable interest is taken here in the impending announcement of Courtauld's earnings.

Some interest is also shown in the statements by the Guggenheims in New York that synthetic nitrate would be out of competition if the Chilean government should lower the export duties on nitrate, backed with the revolutionary changes in methods of extraction.

The reported advance of the Cantonese on Shanghai, depressed markets generally, though silver was higher on the idea that the military events might immobilize Chinese silver available. Most stocks were easy and the money market was strong, the discount being 4 1-4 per cent, and the idea prevailed that tomorrow's Treasury bills may go at nearly 4 3-8 per cent.

BANK GUARANTEE ACT REPEALED IN TEXAS

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 17. (Exclusive) Gov. Dan. Moody has signed the bill passed by the Legislature repealing all laws guaranteeing deposits in State banks. It went into immediate effect. These include the original guaranty act as well as the bonding law which was passed by the Legislature two years ago. Each State bank must now stand or fall on its own resources. What effect the removal of guarantees or protection of deposits will have upon the State banks remains to be seen, but it is anticipated that many of them will either go out of business or be changed into national banks within the next several months.

STOCK HOLDINGS REDUCED

Edgar Lawrence Smith's Company Diverts Funds to Short-Time Money Market; Rails Favored

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Scientific investment, as practiced by the investment trusts, should be of particular interest to the rank and file of investors and traders in the stock market whether or not they believe in the investment policies and theories followed by these specialists. Of the many trusts that have been organized in the last few years, the Investment Managers' Company is one of the few that chooses to reveal its methods and operations in detail, showing in its annual report the distribution of funds and the profits or losses from investments.

The company operates under the direction of Edgar Lawrence Smith as president, who is the author of "Common Stocks as Long-Term Investments." While Mr. Smith is a partisan of common stocks, his report for the year ended December 31, 1926, shows that he also is concerned with the swings that suggest the time to increase or decrease positions in the market. At the end of the year, the Investment Managers' Company was plainly operating on a cautious schedule.

Securities owned only constituted 29.8 per cent of the total investment fund, the remainder finding disposition in call loans, cash and receivables. On June 14, 1926, the company had 49.3 per cent of its funds in the stock market.

On the stocks owned at the end of the year the report shows an unrealized profit of $138,921.41. The total income from all sources was the equivalent to an annual return of 9.21 per cent on the average face value of certificates outstanding, after the deduction of management compensation. Distributions, including an extra, amounted to 5.87 per cent. In the previous year the company reported a return of 9 per cent and distributions of 5.49 per cent.

Probably the selection of securities holds the greatest interest for the public. Rails easily were the favorites of the management as the position is shown at the end of the year, with industrials ranking second, utilities third and oils fourth. In general this position conforms with the popular judgment of the speculators at this time, except for a higher rating given the oils by the public. Rail investments were 53 per cent of the total, industrials, 26 per cent, utilities, 14 per cent and oils, 7 per cent. All of the stocks showed a profit at the end of the year with the exception of Atlantic Coast Line, Columbia Gas and Electric and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

In the rail group the list included Atlantic Coast, New York Central, Norfolk and Western, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific; in the utility, Columbia Gas and Public Service of New Jersey; in the oil, Phillips Petroleum and Texas Corporation; in the industrial, All-America Cables, American Tobacco, Kennecott Copper, Texas Gulf and Westinghouse.

In two years of operation, the investment fund has grown to $9,692,770.55, representing a gain in value through management of $464,970.55 after all charges.

Dabney Day, president of the Citizens' Bank, and Paul Shoup, executive vice-president of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Alexander is a director and a member of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific, and is on a tour of the entire system. Mr. Ardrey, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Day, received his early training at the City National Bank of Dallas, Tex. He was elected a vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce in 1918.

YOUR INCOME TAX

(This is one of a series explaining the provisions of the Revenue Act relating to income taxes. The articles are compiled by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington.)

NO. 24

Inquiries received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue indicate confusion in the minds of the writers concerning the difference between business expenditures and business expenses. Business expenditures are not always business expenses within the meaning of the income-tax law. A merchant may build an addition to his store at a cost of $25,000. This is a capital expenditure for an addition to his assets. Capital expenditures are not deductible.

Distinction is made between expenditure for an asset and expenditure in connection with an asset. If the merchant should, during the year, spend $500 on repairs to his building, such as repainting the roof or repairing broken windows, he may deduct such amount as a business expense.

Medical, law, or other professional books, machinery, tools, implements, or surgical instruments purchased by a taxpayer for use in his business, trade, or profession, and which are of a permanent character, are capital assets, and their cost is not deductible.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly for business or professional purposes, is a capital expenditure and not deductible. The cost of gasoline, repairs and upkeep of an automobile is deductible if used wholly in business. If used partly for business and partly for pleasure and convenience of the taxpayer and his family, such cost should be apportioned accordingly. The proportion of cost justly attributable to business purposes is deductible as a necessary expense.

FUTURE GOOD IN MORTGAGE LINE

Standard Corporation Head Reviews 1927 Outlook

Holds Optimistic View for Realty Financing

Business More Conservative Throughout East

Contrary to the predictions of analysts, made at the beginning of last year, 1926 proved to be one of the best years on record in the mortgage finance and building-construction fields, according to a statement made yesterday by Erle M. Leaf, president of the Standard Mortgage Corporation of Los Angeles. Mr. Leaf has just returned from a six weeks' tour of the East and Middle West, during which he visited the principal cities of the country for the purpose of investigating building and building-finance conditions, and particularly to ascertain the outlook for 1927.

During the first half of last year, Mr. Leaf said, building permits throughout the country showed an increase of 11 per cent, and while construction activity declined during the second half, the drop was not great enough to wipe out the gains of the first six months. The net result, therefore, was a substantial gain over 1925, which has heretofore been the banner year.

Considerable progress has been made in the larger eastern cities, during the past year, toward placing the mortgage-financing business on a more conservative basis, Mr. Leaf said, and through this process a greater degree of confidence in bonds or securities secured by real estate has been established with the investing public. During recent months, according to Mr. Leaf, there has been found a decided tendency on the part of investors to turn to guaranteed mortgage loans, and many of the houses handling issues of this type are reporting themselves oversold. Mortgage securities guaranteed by reputable surety companies are in greater and greater demand.

"There is also increasing interest in evidence in good mortgage-bond issues secured by California real estate," Mr Leaf said. "A large amount of eastern insurance money is available for investment in California on a conservative basis. I would characterize the past year in the mortgage-finance field as one of prudent prosperity, and the outlook for the current year as one of conservative optimism."

SHINGLE MILLS IN TRADE AGREEMENT

SIXTY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA JOIN TO STABILIZE INDUSTRY

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—All the shingle mills in British Columbia that do other than local business have entered into an agreement whereby a board of control consisting of ten men will conduct the business in the future. The consolidation includes sixty mills with about 400 machines, and $300,000 a year will be voted for market expansion.

For two years the shingle industry of British Columbia has been in a critical condition, in many instances the plants having passed from the owner to financial institutions. All the mills were closed during the months of December and January, and only 50 per cent are in operation at present.

Heretofore, promises made by the different shingle operators to assist with the stabilization of the shingle market have been verbal and it was impossible to hold the mills to their agreement.

Under the new system, each shingle mill is a member of a joint stock company, incorporated under the laws of British Columbia and subject to those laws the same as any private company so incorporated.

The new board of directors will dictate the cut of each mill, which will be based on the market requirements, and when prices are below cost of production the mills will close instead of piling up stocks that depress prices when there is an improvement in the demand.

OFFICERS VISIT MINE

Progress Reported on Property in Arizona County

Local officers of the Tres de Mayo Mines, Inc., have just returned from the company's lead-silver and vanadium properties in Santa Cruz county, Ariz., and report that work is progressing rapidly, ore is being binned and shipments will be started shortly. Installation of a fifty-ton mill is expected to follow soon.

Lead-silver values are reported better as cross-cutting proceeds on the 225-foot level and it is believed the vein will be cut within the next thirty or forty feet. The shaft is in a large sheared zone, and it is the belief of the officers that this is indicative of large ore bodies.

RISE OF RAIL LIST LOGICAL

Steady Advance on Stock Market Not Surprising in View of Most Ideal Trading Conditions in Years

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Something of a halo has been drawn around the rails in the stock market as different issues have stepped onto new high levels day after day, but this is not surprising. So ideal a mixture of fact and fancy has not blessed the market in railroad securities in the last twenty-five years.

For him who seeks there is enough solid ground for faith in the future of the railroad and enough romance in the possible new merger combinations to make the railroad group ideal as a leader for the market. Not since 1910 have railroad stocks been so dear as now and in virtually every session of the month to date they have set a new high somewhat above that of the day previous. Not even the collapse of the Wheeling and Lake Erie corner has checked the enthusiasm of the speculators and, indeed, the investors, for railroad stocks. Between 8 and 9 points have been added to the averages since the beginning of the year and that, for a six weeks' run, is a substantial improvement in values.

This doubling up in market values among the cheap railroad common stocks, and lively gains even among the seasoned issues, does not reflect any sudden upturn in earnings. It is true that the net operating income of the Class 1 carriers rose by steady yearly advances from $615,945,614 in 1921, the first full year of operation after the return of the roads to private management, to a new record high of $1,231,494,000 in 1926. It is true that in the same period the return on property investment has risen steadily from 2.92 per cent to 5.13 per cent. And it is true that the railroads now are more efficiently operated than ever before, but the stock market knew the drift of railroad earnings long before it began some weeks ago to buy railroad stock as though it had suddenly discovered something new and good.

The rising market in railroad stocks reflects the efforts of the market to discount such favorable 1927 possibilities as (a) a new movement in consolidations that will benefit many strong and most of the weak roads; (b) a decision by the United States Supreme Court on valuations that may revolutionize old methods and set companies are interested at around 75 per cent, a gain of about 4 per cent in two weeks. The average for the entire industry is now about 81 per cent, compared with 79 per cent a week ago.

Bank Publisher Reported Among Leaders for Post

George P. Edwards, publisher of the Coast Banker and the Coast Investor, two of the outstanding financial publications on the Pacific Coast, is reported among the leading candidates receiving the consideration of Gov. Young for the post of commissioner of corporations. He is well known in Southern California, owning property in Balboa, Orange county, and is a member of a number of Los Angeles organizations.

Among his affiliations are the Los Angeles Advertising Club, Los Angeles Athletic Club, and the Al Malakah Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

DIVIDEND OF SILK COMPANY REDUCED

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Belding-Hemingway Company declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, which formerly had been 75 cents quarterly. Owing to present depression in the silk industry it was deemed wise it was stated, to put the dividend on a basis which could be continued through the year.

INGOT PRODUCTION IN FEBRUARY GAINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Ingot production of United States Steel Corporation has increased nearly 9 per cent in the last two weeks, now averaging between 86 and 89 per cent of capacity. Operations of independent companies are estimated at

Industrials Bright Baldwin

Easing of Call Rate Last June

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—While public imagination over the proposed merger remains firmed, the stock market showed another increase in the railroad section in the railroad group carried the general list to that group to the highest since 1910, and most issues in individual issues to their best quotations since 1919, of the industrials declined more or less although a few, notably Baldwin and Allied Chemical, were bid up to new high levels.

Easing of the call rate to 3½ per cent from 4 to 4½ per cent, the rate since June 17, 1925, the most significant feature of the day. It opened the day's reduction in New York Central's rediscount rate which has remained at 4 per cent since August, but after the directors had the rate was unchanged. Time money and commercial paper rates lost ½ point.

RUMOR ABOUT

The demand for the rails was stimulated by the report, which originated in Washington, that the Interstate Commerce Commission, by the Transcontinental and Lorne Rates decision, had given the group of the railroads in the trunk-line territory the right to control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, Western Maryland and Western Maryland, but confirmation of such reports could not be obtained, Interstate Commerce officials denying report. Pennsylvania, which directly owns a majority interest in Western Maryland, rose to a new peak of 61¼ and many other rails to the highest ground were Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Delaware and Lackawanna, Great Northern preferred, Southern, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Reading, the common and preferred, Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western, named closing many fractions higher.

Baldwin was the feature of the new record high of 130 and that record Chemical, that stocks lost ground, brokers not to be against short sales in

Industrials Irregular
Baldwin Featuring

Easing of Call Rate to L
Last June Spurt

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Renewed public imagination fired by a new merger rumors, none of which was confirmed, the stock market today witnessed another outburst of speculation in the railroad shares, which carried the general price structure to the highest level since 1910, and sent more than two dozen individual issues to their highest quotations since 1926. Of the industrials disclosed more irregularity, although a dozen issues, including Baldwin and International Harvester, were bid up to new records.

Easing of the rate on call money from 4 to 3 3-4 per cent, the first rate since June 17, last, was one of the most significant developments of the day. It renewed hopes of reduction in New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate which has been maintained at 4 per cent since last August, but after the close of the market the rate was announced as unchanged. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

RUMOR AIDS RAILS

The demand for the railroad shares was stimulated by influential rumors of counter-move by the Pennsylvania and Loree Railroad interests to head off the coup of the other three great trunk-line systems in obtaining control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie & Western Maryland roads. In the absence confirmation of such reports could be obtained, however, Pennsylvania officials denying rumors that Pennsylvania was acquiring Nickel Plate or Wabash stocks.

Pennsylvania common, which ordinarily moves within as wide or wider narrow range, was bid up 1 point to a new peak at 59 1-2. Among many other rails to break into high ground were Baltimore & Ohio, Canadian Pacific, Chicago Rock Island & Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Great Northern preferred, Reading, Southern, New York, Ontario & Western, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Texas & Pacific, Union Pacific, Kansas City Southern and Norfolk and Western, the latter named closing nearly 4 points higher.

BALDWIN UP

Baldwin was run up 9 points to a new record high at 190 1-4 on reports that recent Chicago purchases of the stocks had instructions from brokers not to loan it for short sales against short sales, but it was

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Although a number of favorites among low-priced rail issues displayed considerable activity, today's bond market was a rather quiet affair. High-grade investment securities moved sluggishly, despite continued ease in money conditions, bearing further evidence that competition of new issues not yet digested is having its effect upon the listed market. Although new offerings have dropped to a much smaller daily average, the enormous volume thrown on the market since first of the year has temporarily satiated the demand for gilt-edged investments.

Material advances were scored by a number of secondary railway issues, particularly heavy accumulation being noted in Erie convertible 4s, Chicago and Alton 3 1-2s, Rock Island 4s, Peoria and Eastern income 4s and Hudson and Manhattan adjustment 5s were among the leaders in the trading.

At the same time buying was broadening out to embrace a number of popular industrial issues. Domestic Iron and Steel 5s and Wickwire-Spencer Steel 7s each scored further gains to new high prices for the year. Empire Gas and Fuel 6 1-2s also were well supported.

The foreign list continued irregular, with French issues again supplying the feature in that division. Demand was rather limited and price changes were nominal.

Heavy accumulation of Second Liberty 4 1-4s was the only point of interest in the United States government list. Prices were steady.

New issues aggregated slightly more than $2,500,000, one of the smallest day's totals since the beginning of the year.

The quantities represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transaction, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

...lized Specialists

THE field of investment is now so broad that no individual can encompass it. Competent investment men have found it necessary to specialize in a particular field. Specialists in the oils make no pretense of knowing rails, motors, textiles, etc. This is truly the day of specialists. The reason the Advisory Board Service of the Richard D. Wyckoff Analytical Staff, Inc. is so effective is that it is the sum total of the findings and abilities of men who are rated authorities in each of their several fields.

The marvel of the Advisory Board Service is the manner in which this great mass of knowledge is correlated so that the individual client obtains a highly personalized service. There is nothing routine about Wyckoff Advisory Board Service. Each client's list is analyzed as an individual list and the recommendations are for him personally, and for no other client.

It is far too long a story to tell here. If you are interested in improving your investment position, call, phone or write, and a representative will bring you full and complete information and tell you how much the service will cost in your particular case. The fee can be small. If you have $10,000 or more, and are well invested, you can profitably employ Wyckoff service. Send the coupon for free booklet.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Reactionary price tendencies prevailed in today's quieter trading on the curb market, although substantial advances were registered by a few high-priced specialties in which pools recently have been active.

Oil shares lost ground despite reports that negotiations were in progress in an attempt to curtail production in the Mid-Continental field. Illinois Pipe Line broke 4 points on a few sales, Indian Pipe Line 2 and Ohio Oil, Imperial, Vacuum and Transcontinental preferred yielded a point or so.

Bancitaly Corporation, which has been under steady accumulation lately on merger reports, touched another new high record at 114. Operators for the advance in the motors encountered stiffer resistance. Ford of Canada touched a new 1927 top at 500, and then dropped back to 485, unchanged on the day. Durant closed fractionally lower at 9 5-8, with trading again in heavy volume.

Baking, coal and radio shares showed little change. A drop of 4 points in Tubize Art Silk was the only change of consequence in the Rayon group. Among the high-priced issues, good gains were recorded by Dixon Crucible, Parke Davis, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad and Safeway Stores. Public utilities were quiet with price changes unimportant.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both bid and close when same as the high.

RAIL TIE-UP AID TO SHIP TRAFFIC

Travelers and Cargoes Taken by Water Routes

Liner Avalon Making Special Trips to San Diego

Condition Expected to Prevail Until Last of Week

Blocking of rail and highway traffic by storms played into the hands of the steamship companies, whose ships handled unusual numbers of passengers yesterday and promise to continue so the rest of the week.

The Wrigley pleasure liner Avalon, under command of Capt. A. A. Morris, took out more than 300 passengers and the ship's capacity of freight for San Diego yesterday afternoon, under special charter to the Los Angeles Steamship Company. She is scheduled to bring as many back today, and gets out tomorrow for another round trip.

More than 250 passengers likewise were aboard the Admiral Hiller Admiral Evans, in last night from San Diego, on her way to Seattle, while the Admiral Dewey sailed with equally pretentious numbers for the southern port last night. The Dewey also was carrying 1000 sacks of United States mail, diverted because of the rail tie-up.

Among the passengers from San Diego on the Admiral Evans was J. F. Alexander, director of the Southern Pacific Railways. He was met at the dock by a special train, including the private car of William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific, to take him at once to New York.

Los Angeles Steamship Company also will send down the Yale on regular schedule Sunday to San Diego, which is expected to handle the last big crowd before land transportation is restored. Her sistership, the Harvard, will come from general overhaul at the Bethlehem yards Sunday, and resume her regular coastal schedule at 4 p.m. Monday, when she sails for San Francisco.

WRIGLEY BOARDS IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Wilmington Transportation Company and the Santa Catalina Island Company had the greatest years in their existence in 1926, it was disclosed yesterday at the annual meeting of directors of the two companies at Wilmington. Both are William Wrigley, Jr., interests.

Losses of the former company handled more than 400,000 passengers between the mainland and the islands last year, equalling the 1925 record by a healthy margin. That company also added two more large Diesel-electric jobs, the Rex W. Stewart and the Milton S. Patrick, during the year; started building another, the Louis Black; purchased three barges and ordered a fourth, and tentatively ordered another. Shafts fast and new, cost $50,000. The company now has more than thirty pieces of floating equipment, with a future program of one or more new ones every year.

Directors of the Santa Catalina Island Company also kept busy, and added the Hermosa and the Redondo to the passenger fleet, at an expenditure of $400,000 in modernizing the new ships coming up variously over the summer. Extensive improvements are also said to have been made at the Avalon and Two Harbors properties, and $1,000,000 is to be paid for themselves all the way.

Hal Nelson, Island manager, also reported the usual rains here during the island's rainy season to be unusually assuring ample water for all purposes for two or three years if not another year.

The officials, all of whom were re-elected, in the absence of Mr. Wrigley, who returns today from Chicago, are: William Wrigley, Jr., president of the boards; Philip K. Wrigley, vice-president; William Banning, R. M. Hanson and John N. Stewart, vice-presidents; David F. Fleming, secretary and treasurer, and D. H. Crowell, assistant secretary and treasurer.

Clearing weather yesterday saw the resumption of cargo work generally over the port and a rapid return of shipping to normal conditions. Twenty-four vessels departed port and an even score arrived. The United Dredging Company's dredge San Francisco, which was hired back for the thirty-five-foot channel line and resumed deepening in the outer harbor, after seeking a haven inside during the two-day storm.

Turbine, operating for the same company in the main channel, also was under way again, after removing several feetings of ships sunk during the storm.

The Johann Line motorship Anele Johann from Sweden put into port from Europe yesterday with sixty passengers, the largest number ever carried by this small but a recent in the European trade. Twenty-two disembarked here, including Mrs. Dennis O'Sullivan, mother of C. D. O'Sullivan III, president of the Ogden Mills Estate. The vessel also dropped 7500 bunches of Central American bananas and 350 tons of European freight before sailing north last night. She will return a seven days in her now, received at La Union when a compet buried her into a dock.

General Steamship Corporation's expansion has resulted in application for North Coast Terminal berth, to be used as a freight and passenger terminal, it developed yesterday at the office of the manager for the harbor department. The Harbor Commission deferred action pending recommendation from Fort Manager Cobb. The General will have three French Line steamers in port over the week-end. The Georgic is due today from Bremen with freight and a passenger list of a Hollywood buyer. The La Marseillaise is due Sunday, also from Europe with a large passenger complement of art items, and the Mantana will arrive Monday to take on 3000 tons of California products for Europe.

Radio advices to officials of the Los Angeles Steamship Company from Capt. F. I. Hansen of the steamship City of Los Angeles, en route from Honolulu to this port, state that the liner will arrive at Wilmington at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The City of Los Angeles will disembark 250 passengers, many of whom are completing a three-weeks' round trip to Hawaii. The passenger list also includes several residents of Hawaii coming to Los Angeles on business or pleasure trips.

The liner is bringing in addition to her passengers a substantial cargo of island products, including large shipments of canned pineapples for markets in all sections of the United States, fresh pineapples for local markets and a consignment of sugar.

NEW GRAND JURY SWORN BY BURNELL

Real Estate Man Selected for Foreman as 1927 Body Organizes to Begin Work

After two weeks of delay, because of failure of prospective grand jurors to qualify, Judge Burnell, presiding in the criminal division of the Superior Court, yesterday selected and swore in nineteen members of the 1927 grand jury. He appointed George H. Wallhaus, associated with the Frank Meline Company as foreman.

SUPERIOR JUDGE BURNELL

After the court gave the jurors the instructions required by the California code and admonished them to proceed with their work without fear or favor and with an idea to justice, the jurors went to the grand jury room, where organization was begun. It is expected that committees would not be named until the next meeting, to be held Tuesday.

The jurors are: Mr. Wallhaus, foreman, 1435 Wooster street, Francis H. Gentry, 1893 Lime avenue; J. Charles Atsatt, 945 South Serrano avenue; L. S. Olhwine, 317 Coronado street; E. M. Mr. Bent has been president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and was formerly a member of the Board of Education. He is president of the Botanical Gardens Foundation. The City Council, sitting as a court of appeal, yesterday began its hearing on the West Adams storm drain and related improvements and the ...ion of costs for the work as filed with the Council with the approval of ...Commissioners Eldridge and Dunn of the Board of Public Works over the objections of President McGuire of the board, who declared the ...ed storm-drain extras amounting to $298,965 included in the assessment ...ordinance.

As a possible indication that at least some "administration" Councilmen were prepared to vote forthwith for the confirmation of the entire original assessment as it came from the Board of Public Works last July and including the bill of storm-drain extras, Councilman Hall moved, seconded by Councilman Zahn, at the opening of the hearing yesterday that the assessment as it came from the Board of Public Works be confirmed, but Assistant City Attorney Whitehead advised Councilman Hall to withdraw this motion as the Council should hear the testimony before any Councilman should propose any action.

Politically, it might be to the interest of the "administration" to protect the Board of Public Works by the Council's approving the action of the "administration" members of the board.

The first matter coming before the Council was the reading of the report of the special investigating committee transmitting the transcript of the testimony given before the committee last summer. The committee report, which was signed by Chairman Randall and Councilmen Colden and Shaw, informed the Council that in the transcript the Council would find "direct evidence that some $250,000 of so-called extras were installed without authority and that competent city engineers had testified that no part of these extras were necessary

WAMPAS STARS IN FORMAL BOW

Presentation Made During Brilliant Frolic

Thousands Pack Ambassador for Annual Event

Film and Stage Notables Contribute Features

Thirteen baby stars twinkled over the horizon of movieland last night and were officially announced to the world as budding stellar actresses of the motion-picture world before a crowd of thousands at the sixth annual Wampas frolic and ball in the Ambassador Auditorium.

Gorgeous gowns, flashing shawls and jewels were in evidence everywhere as the stars of filmdom met for the annual frolic given by the Western Motion-Picture Advertisers.

Tiny Joyce Coad, juvenile screen actress, and Fred Niblo, director, presented the stars in their formal bow to the public as a feature of an elaborate program of entertainment which lasted late into the night. The list of baby stars included: Rita Carewe, Barbara Kent, Patricia Avery, Natalie Kingston, Mary McAlister, Frances Lee, Gladys McConnel, Sally Phippe, Sally Rand, Iris Stuart, Martha Sleeper, Adamae Vaughn and Helene Costello.

A large portion of the proceeds of the Wampas frolic this year will be divided with the All-Year Club to be used in exploitation of Southern California, members of the organization announced.

COUNTERFEIT TICKETS

The ball committee of the Wampas made the following announcement shortly after the program began:

"Several hundred counterfeit tickets to this affair have been sold. The innocent purchasers of these tickets are now in the hall. There is no way for us to detect who they are. This added number of persons has produced the slight overcrowding. The Wampas is in no-wise responsible for this, but exceedingly regrets that it has occurred."

The program of entertainment was featured by appearances of scores of famous artists including Rosetta and Vivian Duncan in a specially prepared act, Douglas Fairbanks in an exhibition game of "Doug," Fanny Brice, James Gleason, Robert Armstrong, Irene Bordino, Trixie Friganza, Eddie Cantor, Raymond Hitchcock, Norma Talmadge, Constance Talmadge, Buster Keaton, Bert Levy, Babe Ruth, James Kirkwood, Lila Lee and Tom Mix.

Music for the evening was provided by more than 200 musicians. Leo Forbstein directed all entertainment accompaniment on the stage and Gus Arnheim of the Cocoanut Grove led the dance music, assisted by the following six guest orchestras: Archie Walker's, Los Monica Ballroom, Brick English's Cinderella Roof, Santaella's Figueroa, Gene Morgan's Loew's State, Moseby's Blue Blowers and Guterson All Nations.

SPECIAL FEATURES

A special feature of the program was dramatic excerpts from acknowledged screen successes of the last year with the same stars playing their original roles for the entertainment of the Wampas guests. Included in this was a scene from "What Price Glory." Other attractions were skits by former Zeigfeld Follies girls now in the movies, "Our Gang," a return of the Mack Sennet Keystone cops and comedy acts by Clyde Cook and Johnny Hines. An Erriest Belcher Ballet, a portion of Syd Grauman's "Old Ironsides" prologue, and Ethel Meglin's screen children, also were included in the specialty numbers.

A program of special dance numbers entitled "Dance Moments from Screenland," in which the baby stars were featured was one of the closing attractions on the stage.

Scores of other entertainment features were staged under the direction of Fred Niblo and Charlie Murray who served as masters of ceremony throughout the evening.

CLARA BOW WINS CUP

Clara Bow, announced as a Wampas Baby Star in 1923, last night was announced as the 1927 winner of the Wampas Cup awarded to the star of a previous group whose rise has been the most phenomenal during the last year. Since her selection as a Baby Star, Miss Bow has played leads in many motion pictures.

The Belcher Fiesta Ballet, Ernest Belcher's latest Spanish conception of this type of dance, was one of the highly applauded attractions on the program. Sixty dancers participated in the dance to the strains of Spanish guitars and castanets. None of the dancers was more than 12 years of age. Belcher dancers have entertained at each of the six Wampas Frolics given by the organization.

Those with a taste for things Parisian received a thrill from the dance number of the Misses Tina and Gerhard of Paris. The dancers displayed a dazzling array of dance costumes which have been seen from Monte Carlo to the Palais Royal.

PYTHIAN ORATOR TO TALK ABOUT LINCOLN

The Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan will hold a banquet Saturday night in the Knights of Pythias Hall. Preceding the banquet there will be a special patriotic program. The G.A.R. fife-and-drum corps will act as escort to the speaker of the evening, Dr. Francis Blakeslee, who will speak on the life of Lincoln. Dr. Blakeslee was an acquaintance of Lincoln's and attended the funeral of the President.

ETCHINGS TO BE DISPLAYED

ATTORNEYS SEAT NEW PRESIDENT

Campbell Installed by Local Bar Association at Annual Banquet

Kemper Campbell was installed president of the Los Angeles Bar Association for 1927 last night at the annual meeting and banquet of the organization at the Hotel Alexandria.

With more than 800 members present, tribute was paid to Mr. Campbell for his efforts toward raising the standard of the legal profession. The new president was born in Iowa, but received his early education and legal training in California. He originated the idea of the plebiscite used by the association in selecting men for judicial positions that were qualified to perform public service.

KEMPER CAMPBELL

Other officers installed were: Hubert T. Morrow, senior vice-president; Leonard B. Slosson, junior vice-president; T. W. Robinson, treasurer, and R. H. F. Variel, Jr., secretary. Trustees named were Alfred L. Bartlett, Lawrence L. Larrabee and Irving M. Walker.

Speakers at the banquet were Frank James and Clair Tappaan, professor of law at the University of Southern California. Mr. James spoke on "The Law of Options" and Mr. Tappaan compared the laws of the United States with those of various European countries. His topic was "Law Systems Effective in Europe."

An amendment was passed by the association giving the members the privilege of noting "no opinion" on the judicial plebescite ballots. The ballots which originally had but two voting columns under the head of "Qualified" and "Not Qualified" will have the new heading added before being mailed out to the members, according to Secretary Variel.

Jewish Congregation Votes to Accept $500,000 for Old Hope-street Temple

Sale of the Temple B'nai B'rith building at Hope and Ninth streets for $500,000 was formally ratified at a meeting of the congregation last night. The action will result in an early start on the construction of the new temple buildings at Wilshire Boulevard and Hobart street.

The new site fronts 150 feet on Wilshire Boulevard and 270 feet on Hobart street. Plans already have been drawn by A. M. Edelman, architect, for two large buildings in which religious, social and cultural activities of many kinds can be carried on. George Mosbacher is chairman of the building committee.

Temple B'nai B'rith, which was founded in the early '60's, and is the oldest organization of its kind in Southern California, contains the largest Jewish congregation in Los Angeles. Its rabbi, Edgar F. Magnin, who came to Los Angeles eleven years ago, is the successor to the late Dr. Sigmund Hecht.

Speakers Added to Program for Chamber Dinner

Two additions have been made to the list of speakers for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at the Ambassador the 22nd inst., according to A. G. GROUNDED TANKER ESCAPES

Standard Oil Carrier Hillman Releases Self from San Nicolas Reefs Trap

After serious fears were felt for her safety for several hours last night the F. H. Hillman, Standard Oil tanker, radioed she had got off the rocks at San Nicolas Island, seventy-seventy miles southwest of the harbor, under her own power. Meanwhile the tankers K. R. Kingsbury and H. M. Storey were hurrying to her aid.

Word was received that the F. H. Hillman, although damaged, is proceeding to San Francisco under her own power and expects to arrive there early tomorrow.

The F. H. Hillman, one of the biggest tankers afloat, is en route from London to San Francisco in ballast. She went on the rocks at the south end of San Nicolas Island, early yesterday evening. An S.O.S. call was received by the Radio Corporation of America at the Harbor, reporting thick weather and that the vessel was in immediate danger. A later message said she was filling by the head. Shortly after 9 o'clock word came that she had freed herself from the rocks.

The tanker K. R. Kingsbury, a sister ship, thirty-two miles north of the Harbor on her way here from San Francisco, headed for the F. H. Hillman upon receiving word of her distress. The tanker H. M. Storey later put out from the Harbor. Both were recalled.

The F. H. Hillman is in command of Capt. H. C. Scott and carries a crew of forty-two. She is 500 feet long, 6006 net tons and was built in 1921.

SOUTHLAND DIGS OUT OF DEBRIS

Damage Being Repaired Swiftly as Storm Ends

More Moisture Likely Today; Season Total 14.91

With the peak of the four-day storm apparently past, a huge army of men throughout Southern California yesterday began the task of reconstructing bridges, clearing away debris in water-soaked homes and streets and repairing highways and river dikes which sustained tremendous damage from the flood waters of a rain that drenched the entire territory. Seven fatalities were recorded due to the storm.

Only .01 of an inch of rain fell in the past twenty-four hours, making the total for the storm 6.40 inches and for the season 14.91 inches. Last season at this date the total was 9.63; the normal rainfall for the date is 10.32 inches. For today, cloudy, unsettled weather with probable rain is predicted, and tomorrow the same condition seems likely to prevail, the Weather Bureau says. Temperatures will be moderate.

BENEFITS TO FOLLOW

City and county officials confessed their inability to make preliminary estimates of the monetary damage. A score of railway and highway bridges have been demolished, according to the surveys, and as many more crippled by the flood. Highways are gashed by deep gullies, ripping out curbs and pavement; homes in the lower sections were laden with mud and silt as the waters receded, dams have been weakened and dikes along many streams have been torn open by the sweeping waters.

That the damage done by the storm will be far outweighed in benefits to the farmers and fruit growers of Southern California and bring unprecedented "bumper" crops was expressed in the opinions of C. Dana, manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and M. B. Rounds, chief of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau.

"Fruit growers throughout the Southland are elated over the benefits they will derive from the rainfall," Mr. Dana declared. "The slight damage done to the small trees is negligible, while the water supply for the coming seasons, which is now assured, indicates the growers will enjoy abundant crops this year, probably the greatest California ever supplied."

MORE OPTIMISM

Mr. Rounds, the Farm Bureau head, was equally optimistic on the agricultural aspects and benefits which will be derived from the rainfall.

"The soil has absorbed a great deal of the moisture," he said, "which provides a tremendous reserve for the forthcoming crops. The rains were especially beneficial to the orchards throughout the county, and although some small gardens will have to be replanted, the general benefits of the storm are are greater than any damage done."

All danger of floods, so far as the present storm is concerned, is past, according to Chief Engineer Reagan of the Los Angeles flood-control district, who declared last night the peak of the flood-stage danger had been reached and passed Wednesday night. At the same time, Mr. Reagan said, he is "expecting an-

RAIL PASSENGERS RESCUED

Almost 500 Marooned by Rain Come in via Busses; Steam Traffic Rapidly Recovers

Almost 500 passengers, marooned for more than twenty-four hours in and around Indio when four limiteds on the Southern Pacific lines were stalled by flood waters, washouts and weakened bridges during the recent storm were rescued yesterday by a fleet of motor busses and brought to Los Angeles late last night, according to announcement of officials of the railroad.

With two transcontinental lines restored practically to a normal state and trains going out on schedule time, the Southern Pacific Company sent out crews aggregating more than 500 men and most of its equipment to repair its wrecked trackage between Colton and Indio, which has been holding up its eastern freight and passenger traffic.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

Traffic on the Santa Fe and Union Pacific lines yesterday was restored practically to normal, although the crack limiteds and local trains were slowed up some. This was due to all three lines using the same Santa Fe trackage at several points. The Southern Pacific was able to send out only one eastern limited yesterday, this being managed by routing it over some of the Santa Fe's right of way.

Officials of the Pacific Electric announced yesterday that while several of its major lines still were out of service at points, they were able, in most instances, to put through trains with the aid of busses and shuttle service. Most important of the announcements from the Pacific Electric was that its San Bernardino line is open to take care of passengers for the orange show at San Bernardino.

Officials of none of the steam or electric lines were able to give even an approximate estimate of the damage caused by the storm.

BROUGHT IN BUSSES

According to information from the Southern Pacific's passenger agent's office, 293 passengers were marooned near Indio by the stalling of the Argonaut, Apache, Golden State Limited and a Raymond & Whitcomb tourist special. The passengers were transferred to busses and brought to Los Angeles, as were 193 passengers marooned on the Californian from Kansas City at Edom, twelve miles west of Indio.

The Sunset Limited, which was stalled at Yuma Wednesday, was sent back to Phoenix and rerouted into Los Angeles via Santa Fe tracks yesterday.

A bulletin from the Southern Pacific stated that its eastern line is open as far as Colton, but that it is impassable between Colton and Indio on account of serious washouts and weakened bridges. All its westbound traffic, the bulletin said, was rerouted from Phoenix into Los Angeles over the Santa Fe route.

While the Santa Fe and the Union Pacific managed to get out all of their eastern trains yesterday, the Southern Pacific sent but one, which left at 4 p.m., and was a consolidation of the Apache, Argonaut and the Sunset Limited.

BRIDGE OPENS WAY

All traffic on the Southern Pacific's northern lines, both coastal and inland, has been restored to normal with the completion of repairs on a bridge near San Fernando early yesterday morning.

Wednesday night the locomotive on the Owl to San Francisco, which departed from San Fernando, was derailed at Tipton, north of Bakersfield, when it broke an axle on the main drive wheel. The damage was only

HENRY FORD believes that war is doomed . . .

Because people will realize that it is economic suicide.

Alas, they have realized this for a long time, but they go right on fighting.

THE GREAT ILLUSION

About two years before the World War Norman Angell wrote a remarkable book called "The Great Illusion."

It showed not only that war is economic suicide, but also that, in this day of international banking and far-flung credits, no country could ruin any other country without ruining itself in the process.

The book was translated into every language in Europe and had an enormous sale. In other words, they read it, believed it . . .

And then went to war.

MABEL

I hope the good Lord will be kind to poor little Mabel Normand, who is fighting for life at the Santa Monica Hospital.

Mabel has been the goat for more scandals for which other people were to blame than any other person in the world.

In a fairly long experience—meeting all kinds of good and bad people—I have never met another such generous heart.

THE CRIME ARMY

The police search for the murderers of Luther H. Green may turn out to be a celebrated case.

Crime has become very highly organized with "front-office" executives, card indexes, lawyers hired by the year and a complete system for producing perjured testimony. The only criminals who pay the penalty are those hired to do the dirty work with the guns—or the small crooks who try to operate alone.

In this case a great effort will be made to send the real generals of the crime army to the gallows.

The Bar Association would do well to see that the lawyers who appear time after time in these mile-away alibi cases are thrust out of the profession.

FUNNY—BUT OH, MY!

I am impressed every time I see a great comedian that he could do something else even better.

For instance, Trixie Friganza, who makes fun of her own fat at the Orpheum. Here is the only face—and the only personality—I have ever seen on the stage that could fairly be called regal.

Every time she comes out on the stage with her beer-barrel legs incased in little pink drawers I begin to understand how Catherine of Russia or Maria Theresa of Austria could have cut up their didos and still made empires tremble.

SLAUGHTER

"I talked it over with my husband; borrowed his revolver and went to my father's house," Mrs. Nora Thomas told a reporter when arrested for shooting her father.

It recalls the most peculiar murder case I ever "covered" as a reporter. An old Austrian living in Orange county had an Italian wife with a hell of a temper.

He and his son—her son—talked it over in the woodshed.

"Well, pa," said the boy, "I can't see what we can do except shoot her." So the old man patiently and ploddingly got out the shotgun and killed her—just as he might have killed a vicious pig.

Lawyer Accused of Accepting Bribe to Square Prison Term

STAR WITNESS TELLS DETAILS

Huge Sum Held Involved to Save Rum-Runner

Liquor Vault Revealed at Conspiracy Hearing

Inquiry Begun of Charges Police Protected Wets

Cross-examination of the government's star witness in the liquor-conspiracy case now being tried before Federal Judge McCormick yesterday brought out the testimony that a Los Angeles attorney had received $50,000 for the asserted "squaring" of a penitentiary sentence imposed on Raleigh Faulkner, asserted bootlegger king.

The charge that the attorney had received the $50,000 and also had converted to his own use approximately $300,000 worth of bonds and jewelry while Faulkner was at McNeil's Island awaiting deliverance from the penitentiary, was made by Defense Counsel McDonald, in cross-examining Mike Malone, investigator for the Treasury Department.

Malone had testified that he had posed as a rum-runner and, with Faulkner, had engaged in bootlegging. Attorney McDonald, in his cross-examination, was attempting to show that the government had promised to "make it easy" for Faulkner if he would help them obtain evidence, since the government knew he was a fugitive and should be in the penitentiary.

MONEY IN ESCROW

"Isn't it a fact that Faulkner told you that he had placed $50,000 in escrow to be paid to a certain Los Angeles attorney for getting him out of McNeil's penitentiary and that the attorney had well earned the money?" McDonald asked of Malone.

Malone replied that he had heard Faulkner make the remark. Malone added, however, that following Faulkner's work with him in obtaining evidence against the so-called George Ford rum ring, that Faulkner had been taken to the Atlanta prison, where he had finished serving the sentence from which he escaped by the efforts of the local attorney.

The entire day's session was occupied with testimony and cross-examination of Malone. Details of several liquor deals were aired. One of the deliveries was made at 354 North Rosemont avenue. The liquor was placed in a cement vault, which could be opened only through an electrically operated door. It was to this address, according to Malone, that rum-runners had told him that local police were giving protection.

RUM TRUCKS AIDED

At Wednesday's session, Malone, in indirect testimony, named two police officials with having given protection to convoys of liquor-laden trucks from the beaches into the city.

At the conclusion of yesterday's session Attorney McDonald obtained from the court a subpoena for the appearance of Raleigh Faulkner today. Faulkner was seen in the city last Monday by Malone, the latter testified.

The defendants on trial are Marcus and Louis Eidacosia, Henry Mensing, Vincent Roberti and Walter Emmens.

INQUIRY BEGUN ON POLICE CHARGES

While Chief of Police Davis declared he did not believe the matter worth comment at this time, Chief of Detectives Cline admitted that, upon his order, Inspectors of Detectives had made a quiet investigation yesterday of the charges that two Los Angeles police officers had aided rum-runners by "escorting" their loads of liquor into the city.

This investigation, however, Cline stated, merely amounted to ascertaining whether Michael F. Malone, asserted special intelligence agent for the prohibition enforcement forces, made such a statement in indirect testimony in Federal Judge McCormick's court Wednesday. Malone stated at this time that Aldacosia and informed him that two officers had ridden with rum-runners and offered protection against Federal officers.

Chief Cline further stated that the information obtained by Finlinson did not warrant any investigation on the part of the police. The mere statement of a witness that he had been informed by someone else that police officers were protecting rum-runners did not constitute any concrete evidence upon which to base an investigation by the police of members of the department, he said.

Chief Davis stated that he had ordered no investigation of any kind and that no evidence connecting any members of his department with conspiracy to aid rum-runners had been laid before him.

Boiling Fish

It is wise to wrap the fish that is to be boiled in cheesecloth. It will keep its shape and can be handled much more easily if cooked in this little jacket. The cheesecloth may be boiled, washed, dried and put away for just such occasions.

Detroit club women are demanding a court for women similar to those in New York and Chicago.

MASONS TO SEE DANCE ARTIST

Poppy Quartet Also Will Entertain

MISS CLARITA IMPERIO, solo-dance artist from the East, is scheduled to appear as a feature of the weekly Masonic Club luncheon program to be given this noon at the Masonic Club, 623½ South Grand avenue.

The star, who is popularly known on the stages of eastern cities, recently completed a tour of the Keith-Orpheum circuit. A protege of the Goni Studio, Miss Imperio is noted as an interpreter of Mexican, Spanish and oriental dances.

Another feature of the Masonic Club program is the California Poppy Quartet, a group of female voices, led by Mme. Emma Loeffler de Zaruba, prima donna. The principals will be attired in poppy costumes. Ruth Brady is the accompanist for the quartet, and Mildred Wheat, the pianist for Miss Imperio.

Irving J. Mitchell, president of the Masonic Club, will preside.

Unnaturalized Capital Scored by Taxpayers

There is $2,000,000,000 of "unnaturalized" capital floating around California, owned by men who refuse to become residents because of the high inheritance tax, said Dr. Milbank Johnson, chairman of the directors of the California Taxpayers' Association, in a talk yesterday at the monthly luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Alexandria. The figures, he said, are from the California Taxation Improvement Association.

The entire assessed valuation in the State, he said, is $7,500,000,000, so that an addition of more than 25 per cent would be made if this capital could be induced to naturalize. He declared the belief that if the inheritance tax were decreased by two thirds, within five years it would be producing much more revenue than at present and the tax base would be broadened greatly. The owners of this $2,000,000,000, he said, now pay no taxes whatever, except by ad valorem tax on the houses they live in.

CRIME BILL SANCTIONED BY CHAMBER

Board Places Stamp of Approval on Proposed Code Reform Measure

Legislation proposed by the Commission for the Reform of Criminal Procedure was indorsed yesterday by the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who reviewed a summary of the laws prepared by the chamber's committee on laws and arbitration.

At the same session of the board, acting on a request of the agricultural, horticultural and live-stock committee of the chamber, it was decided to request the government to make a survey of the water resources of Antelope Valley in view of its growing importance as a food-producing area and its growing proportions in the production of dairy, poultry and other general live-stock products.

Changes suggested in laws governing the fire hazards in dry-cleaning establishments were opposed by the board as the result of a report and investigations made by the committee on safety and fire-prevention.

One national and one State legislative bill included in the business before the board received their indorsement, the former pertaining to Senate Bill No. 564, proposing legislation to confirm title to States of school lands granted them by the Federal government, and the latter proposing an amendment to the Breed bill, by which a 10 per cent penalty would be affixed to gas-tax assessments for failure to pay beyond a forty-five-day period.

ALIBI FREES SUSPECT IN GREEN CASE

Gardie Obtains Release; Reeder Reported Due for Liberation Today

Winston M. Gardie, arrested in connection with the recent murder by hi-jackers of Luther H. Green, millionaire broker, was released yesterday by Captain of Detectives Bean, who stated that Jimmy Reeder, also arrested as a suspect in the case, will probably be freed today.

The action followed the return of Detective Lieutenant Cullen from San Francisco, where he verified statements made by the two suspects that they were in a hotel in the northern city on the night of the 1st inst., when Green was shot to death.

Harry "Mile Away" Thomas remains in custody. No new developments yesterday marked the investigation of the murder. Detectives are concentrating on locating the automobile which was seen speeding away from Green's home at 1808 South Bonnie Brae street shortly after the broker was shot down.

Divorce Suit by Wife Names Two Women

The pending divorce action of Ruth Gordon Busch against A. Hays Busch, reputed millionaire, has settled down into a real fight, with the filing by Mrs. Busch of an amended complaint wherein she names two corespondents and asks for alimony of $2000 a month, and a fee of $35,000 for her attorney.

The filing of the new charges followed a collapse of previous negotiations for a property settlement out of court, it was stated.

Mrs. Busch now asserts that Mary Haupt visited her husband at his apartment many times, and was there when the police raided it, January 22, 1925. Busch visited Vivian Griffith as often as four or five times a week, staying in her home over night sometimes, and taking her on a trip to Santa Barbara once, the wife charges.

In addition, a third woman, Mae Beck, is mentioned as one with whom Busch associated for a time.

As a showing upon which to base her application for alimony and counsel fees, Mrs. Busch sets up that her husband owns property worth more than $1,000,000, and enjoys an income of $30,000 a year.

JEWELRY STOLEN FROM HOME

A burglar entered the home of H. Wallace Cooper, 6307 Melrose avenue, yesterday afternoon and stole jewelry worth $1950, according to a report to the police. Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in a rear door.

ADDED SAFETY SLOGANS URGED

Need of Catchy Phrases to Aid Public Cited in Talk Over Radio KHJ

Increased use of slogans in prompting traffic safety was urged yesterday in the daily traffic talk given over KHJ by the police bureau of public safety. Because of the slogan, "keep to the right," keeping to the right has become an American instinct, it was said.

Use of slogans was urged in obtaining the co-operation of both children and adults.

"We must get business men to use safety slogans on their stationery, in their shop windows and in their advertising matter," it was stated. "The police bureau of public safety will send lecturers on 'safety first' to meetings of their employees, clubs and churches."

ORIGINATOR OF MARKET SUCCUMBS

C. F. Backus, Prominent in Business Circles, Victim of Heart Attack

Charles F. Backus, 80 years of age, prominent Los Angeles grocer and founder of the Central Market at 215 South Broadway, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 1166 Leighton avenue, following a heart attack.

Mr. Backus arose apparently in the best of health and spirits and ate a hearty breakfast. Several moments later he fell to the floor unconscious. A physician was called who summoned the fire department with a pulmotor, but all efforts to restore life were futile.

Mr. Backus had been a resident of Los Angeles for eighteen years, coming here from Wisconsin. He began his career as a merchant by opening a small store. Later he sold this to buy a larger one. His business grew year by year until he finally opened the Central Market.

An active members of Elks Lodge, No. 99, Mr. Backus helped to organize and train the Elks band. He was known as a musician of much ability and could play several band instruments, including the trombone and tuba. Mr. Backus, also, was a life member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Funeral services will be conducted under the auspices of the Elks at the temple at a date to be named later. Mr. Backus leaves his father, Fred; three brothers, Elmer, George and Reuben, and four sisters, Mrs. Joe Coleman, Mrs. Ray Lang, Mrs. Larken Banks and Mrs. Howard Kelley.

City Club Hears Discussions of County Affairs

Owing to a sudden illness contracted by Supervisor Fred T. Beaty, who was to have addressed the City Club dinner meeting last night, Hugh Pomeroy, president of the club, and director of the Regional Planning Commission, was substituted.

Taking the subject, "County Affairs as They Affect the City of Los Angeles," Mr. Pomeroy declared that a very great percentage of the business transacted by the Board of Supervisors has direct bearing on the city.

"The fund set aside by the county for advertising purposes, not only benefits the city, but it vitally concerns the other forty-three municipalities within the county limits, including Avalon, a city of the sixth class," the speaker said.

Mr. Pomeroy called attention to the Hollywood Bowl, which is owned by the county, but leased to an association; the art institute, museum and other enterprises operated by the county, but from which the benefit is largely derived by the city.

In discussing the subject, "A Frank Review of the Mayor's Message to the City Council," Mayor Cryer recommended a consolidation of the city and county governments as an important step toward increasing the efficiency of legislation, as well as a plan of unification of the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors.

Leslie R. Saunders was chairman of the program.

AUTO SALON WILL CLOSE ON DATE SET

With Good Attendances Reported, Rain Will Not Cause Continuance

The first annual automobile salon of Los Angeles at the Biltmore will close at 11 p.m. tomorrow. Despite the stormy weather, the sales record for the week and the number of persons attending have surpassed expectations, according to those in charge.

Because of the floods thousands of persons were unable to attend the salon, it was stated, and many inquiries have been received asking if the show will be extended into next week. Thus far the management has decided against continuing the salon beyond its schedule.

With the weather improving, the closing period of the show is expected to draw a much larger attendance.

The management expressed the opinion that Los Angeles has demonstrated its approval of the salon by the exceptional turnout despite the weather. The salon will be held here annually. It was stated that requests for inaugurating the automobile salon in San Francisco have been declined for this year. It is planned to give San Francisco its first annual salon after Los Angeles' second annual exhibition next year.

most peculiar effect upon Los Angeles theatergoers.

The first night of a rainstorm box-office business is always shot to pieces. If the rain keeps on the second night's business is liable to be heavier than usual.

except those installed in Moynier Lane."

The report also set forth that "competent engineers in the employ of the city testified that the sanitary sewer had not been built in accordance with specifications."

MAY GO TO COURT AGAIN

Following the reading of the committee's report, Attorney Call, representing the contractor, said that he desired to have it appear in the record that the contractor "did not indorse nor admit the accuracy of the findings of the committee." The contractor throughout the hearings last summer disputed the right of the committee to investigate the matter, declaring that the investigation was not authorized by law. The contractor is contending for the entire amount of the assessment, declaring that the improvement was built by the contractor in strict accordance with the city specifications.

There was every indication yesterday by the battle put up every step of the way by the contractor's attorneys that if the contractor is not satisfied with the final decision of the Council he will go to court again.

The Council in an extraordinary night session that lasted until nearly midnight heard the testimony of City Storm Drain Engineer Armstrong and President McGuire of the Board of Public Works.

Their testimony before the Council's investigating committee last summer was read and they were cross-examined by the contractor's attorneys.

His testimony last summer—which he said last night he "stood by"—President McGuire declared if the people on West Adams indicated they would pay $98,000 for storm-drain extras, they would pay too much. He had refused last summer to approve the contractor's bills of extras amounting to $296,983 on the ground that the bill was excessive. Attorneys for the contractor objected to all of President McGuire's testimony on the ground that it was hearsay.

Much of the time during the hearing was devoted to the reading of the testimony taken last summer, the transcript of which comprised 1100 pages containing 380,000 words. As the Council only covered about thirty-five pages yesterday and last night, the hearing is expected to last about two weeks.

WEST ADAMS LEAGUE FILES SEWER PROTEST

The West Adams Taxpayers' Protective League of which Harry Fyles is president has filed a complaint with the City Council declaring that the sanitary sewer part of the improvement now under investigation by the Council is defective and should be repaired and placed in first-class condition before any assessments for the improvement are confirmed. The league in its letter to the Council said:

"During the investigation of the special committee of the Council, evidence was brought out that this sanitary sewer was defective in more than 160 different places, and was actually running approximately 63 per cent full with less than 10 per cent of the property to be served connected at that time. This condition existing in face of the fact that this sewer was only designed to carry a 75 per cent flow at maximum capacity.

"At the time this is written, 12 o'clock noon, February 16, 1927, an actual inspection of a manhole on Adams street at the intersection of Highland avenue shows the main Adams street sewer running full and sewerage water standing six and one-half feet in the manhole above the level of the sewer.

"This is an alarming situation, to say the least, and the taxpayers of the West Adams district vigorously oppose the acceptance of this sanitary sewer job and the confirmation of any assessments in payment thereof until these conditions have been corrected. We earnestly urge your Honorable Body to give this matter your full and careful consideration in order that justice be done the property owners served by this sanitary sewer project."

AIR CONFERENCE PLANNED

Aviation Leaders at Luncheon Arrange for State-Wide Meeting to Further Cause of Flying

A State-wide conference, similar to one conducted in Los Angeles about two years ago, to bring together representatives of aero organizations, aircraft and accessory manufacturers, and other business men to outline a program "to put aviation on the map in California" was indorsed yesterday when members of an aviation advisory council met with representatives of the California Development Association at a luncheon in the Alexandria.

At the same time the advisory council adopted resolutions indorsing Assembly bill No. 54, which gives municipalities the right to acquire lands outside its city limits for park and other purposes and another against any legislation which restricts aviation, it being the consensus of opinion such laws are unwise for the present and until a constructive legislative program can be outlined to properly govern commercial aviation.

The advisory council favored the State-wide conference by unanimous vote and this will be called at the earliest date possible. The city for the conference will also be named later, it was stated.

R. E. Fisher, vice-president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of San Francisco, chairman of the development association's aeronautical committee, presided at the meeting, while the minutes were taken by Frank McKee, secretary of his committee.

Members of the advisory council who attended included D. E. McDonald, president of the National Aero Association of Los Angeles; Howard Nichols, president of the National Aero Association of Bakersfield; Roger J. Adams, president of the Hollywood Aero Club; J. G. Montijo, vice-commodore of the National Aero Association of Long Beach; Theodore J. Hull, an attorney and official of the American Aircraft Corporation, and R. J. Pritchard, editor of Western Flying.

The advisory council, which consists of presidents of the various California chapters of the National Aero Association, and heads of other organizations of the State similarly interested, plans to map out a legislative program for presentation at the 1929 session of the Legislature.

Details of this program and for other improvements undoubtedly will be the main topics of discussion at the forthcoming State conference, it was said at the meeting yesterday. By means of the State conferences, Mr. Fisher pointed out, all interested in the development of commercial aviation can be brought together to bring about mutual benefits.

Mr. Fisher left last night for San Francisco to attend a meeting of the legislative committee of the development association scheduled for today to report the action of the advisory council on aviation bills now pending in Sacramento.

Time and Thought for Improvement

The value of science and research in industry is strikingly illustrated in the review of Swift & Company's business for 1926.

Things don't "just happen." There is reason and thought behind each move.

Housewives are turning to lighter beef because of certain definite developments in American life;

Premium Ham and Bacon taste the same in New York as in San Francisco because science has made that possible;

Variations in texture and moisture, and in proportions of fat and lean have been overcome by uniform standards of manufacture.

Science and research play an important part in solving the problems that rise daily. Just how these problems are worked out, together with many more interesting facts about the business, is set forth in the Swift & Company 1927 Year Book.

Due to storm delays in loading the ge amount of stores for the cruise, battleships sailed in ragged fash-ion, seven of the ships being led out 10 o'clock by the U.S.S. Colorado. The U.S.S. Arizona joined the squad-on off San Diego, having gone there with her planes, while the U.S.S. West Virginia and U.S.S. Nevada did not all until the afternoon. They will overtake the fleet at increased speed.

WAR GAME BEGINS

Before the home port was lost to sight the fleet went into cruising for-mation and during the 3000-mile run to the Canal, actual war conditions will be simulated, culminating in an attack on the Pacific defenses of the Canal about March 2. The fleet will transit the Canal during the week of March 5 to 10 and then cruise out into the Caribbean Sea, where it will be "attacked" by the scouting fleet from the Atlantic.

Upon completion of this strategical problem the two forces will combine into a single force of more than 150 ships, under command of Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. From April 15 to April 22 the combined fleet will be based on Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for tactical exercises, long-range gunnery, athletics and recreation.

On April 23 the fleet will sail for New York, which port it will reach May 1, for a fifteen-day visit. On May 16 the fleet will sail into the Atlantic for tactical exercises, culminating in a sortie into Narragansett Bay for theoretical attacks on the defenses of New York and Boston.

From May 21 to 27 the fleet will again visit New York for leave and liberty and on May 28 the battle fleet proper will sail for Los Angeles Harbor, arriving here June 30.

CARRIES HEAVY PLANES

For the first time in the fleet's history heavy scouting planes are being carried with the fleet; three PN-type twin-engine planes having been loaded on the forecastles of the battleships of the West Virginia, Colorado and Maryland. In addition, sixty other planes will be used by the battle fleet in the forthcoming problems.

The force sailing yesterday from the coast included the battleships Arizona, fleet flagship; West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland, New Mexico, Mississippi, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada and Oklahoma; base force flagship Procyon, repair ship Medusa, hospital ship Relief, minesweepers Brant, Tern, Partridge and Gannet and the naval tugs Sotoyomo, Hamapo, Kanawha, Cuyama, Sonoma and Salinas.

The U.S.S. Tennessee will remain at Long Beach until the 25th inst., when she will give to the Puget Sound navy yard for annual overhaul. The U.S.S. Pennsylvania, now at Puget Sound, will rejoin the fleet at Guantanamo on March.

POLICEMAN IRWIN'S FUNERAL SET TODAY

Funeral services for Police Officer Benjamin F. Irwin of the Highland Park station, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at Crosse's Highland Park chapel. The Highland Park Police Division will be in charge. Irwin died as the result of an accidental shot, received while he was cleaning his pistol.

For the first time in naval history has a fleet ever attained such a tremendous radius of action. All ships are today fully manned and equipped, while in the fleet train are eight tankers, carrying 325,000 barrels of California fuel oil, ready to meet every emergency at sea. Besides the hospital ship Relief, the repair ship Medusa, the base ship Procyon and five mine-sweepers.

Buildings and base force got under way from San Pedro at 10 o'clock this morning, simultaneous with the departure of the destroyer and aircraft squadrons from San Diego. The submarines had sailed from San Diego on the night last, so that the entire fleet assembled late yesterday off the Mexican coast.

Only minor delays in loading the last shipment of stores for the cruise, including sailed in ragged fashion as the ships being led out of harbor by the U.S.S. Colorado. The U.S.S. Arizona joined the squadron from San Diego, having gone there for repairs, while the U.S.S. Pennsylvania and U.S.S. Nevada did not join until the afternoon. They will overtake the fleet at increased speed.

THE GAME BEGINS

While the home port was lost to sight the fleet went into cruising formation during the 3000-mile run to the Canal, actual war conditions will be simulated, culminating in an attack on the Pacific defenses of the Canal March 2. The fleet will pass the Canal during the week ending March 5 to 10 and then cruise out into the Caribbean Sea, where it will be "attacked" by the scouting fleet of the Atlantic.

Upon completion of this strategical problem the two forces will combine to form a single force of more than 150 ships under command of Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. From April 10 to April 22 the combined fleet will be based on Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for tactical exercises, long-range gunnery, athletics and recreation.

On April 22 the fleet will sail for Panama, which port it will reach May 1, for a fifteen-day visit. On May 16 the fleet will sail into the Atlantic for tactical exercises, returning in a sortie into Narragansett Bay for theoretical attacks on the defenses of New York and Boston.

From May 21 to 27 the fleet will visit New York for leave and liberty and on May 28 the battle fleet will sail for Los Angeles Harbor, arriving here June 30.

NEW HEAVY PLANES

For the first time in the fleet's history scouting planes are being carried with the fleet; three PN-type flying boats having been loaded on the mammoths of the battleships West Virginia, Colorado and Maryland. In addition, sixty other planes will be used by the battle fleet in performing problems.

Planes sailing yesterday from the fleet included the battleships Colorado, Maryland, New Mexico, Mississippi, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Pennsylvania; base force flagship Argonne, repair ship Medusa, hospital ship Relief, minesweepers Brant, Tern, Finch, Lapwing and Gannet and the naval tugs Sonoma, Kanawha, Cuyama, Navajo and Quinault.

The U.S.S. Tennessee will remain in port until the 25th inst., when she will go to the Puget Sound navy yard for annual overhaul. The U.S.S. Idaho, now at Puget Sound, will join the fleet at Guantanamo Bay.

PARK GIFT ACCEPTED BY BOARD

Carthay Center Beauty Spot to Become Part of Los Angeles City System

Carthay Center Park and its monuments, tendered to Los Angeles as a gift from Carthay Center Syndicate in a letter it sent to the Board of Park Commissioners, was accepted yesterday.

The tract consists of strips of ground beginning at Wilshire Boulevard and McCarthy Vista, and extend continuously down McCarthy Vista and White Esplanade, broken by Warner Drive, Del Valle Drive, Eulalia Boulevard and Sloat Drive. In addition to these the gift includes a small circular plot at Eulalia Boulevard and McCarthy Vista. This contains a pool. The strips are in grass and the circle is in trees and shrubs.

The monuments include a fifteen-ton boulder bearing a plaque inscribed with the name of Jedekiah Strong Smith, pathfinder of the Sierras, a brick sun dial dedicated to the memory of Irwin J. Muma, a statue of a miner panning gold, and a boulder bearing plaques on which inscriptions honor James A. (Snowshoe) Thompson.

The offer is made on condition that the tract be continued in use for park purposes and that the monuments be retained where and as they now are.

"This gift," says a letter signed by J. Harvey McCarthy for the syndicate and approved by Charles R. Bell, attorney for the organization, "is a token of the love and affection we have for our city and State, as we hope that these monuments will serve to stimulate greater public service in those who study them."

The park board adopted a resolution accepting the gift and thanking the donors on behalf of the city.

"It is splendid thing," Park President Griffith said, "for a citizen to provide a park for his fellows. It becomes a perpetual means for great good in a community. As the city grows, the need for early park acquisition grows also and the need is all too little appreciated by the majority."

PURSE SNATCHER GETS AWAY FROM CROWD

Pursued several blocks by pedestrians, an unidentified man who had snatched the purse of Mrs. Edna Laheys of 857 West Eighty-fourth street as she alighted from a street car in front of 3143 West Fifty-ninth Place yesterday afternoon escaped in the waiting automobile of a confederate. Mrs. Laheys reported to police that she lost two diamond rings valued at $1000 and $10 in currency.

Council Adopts Ordinance to Prevent Abuse by Private Parties

The City Council yesterday adopted an ordinance, recommended by the Municipal League, designed to restrict the use of a reproduction of the city seal to official city business.

The ordinance was occasioned, the League said, by the use of a reproduction of the city seal on invitations to a private dinner given to Edward L. Doheny on his return from Washington.

ONE ARRESTED IN SLAYING

Negro Held as Suspect After Watchman in Downtown Building Dies Following Attack

Henry T. Mitchell, negro, was arrested on suspicion of murder by Detective Lieutenant Jarvis last night in connection with the death of William Hines, 56 years of age, a night watchman living at 5151 Oakland street, who died of injuries received in an attack early yesterday, police reported. A white man also is being sought in connection with Hines's death.

Hines was found at 3 a.m. yesterday lying semiconscious in a pool of blood on the fourth floor of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway by John Raymer of the A.D.T., who called the police. He was first taken to the Receiving Hospital and later transferred to the Golden State Hospital, where he died while undergoing an operation for internal injuries.

From what the police were able to learn from witnesses, Hines encountered his assailants while he was walking from the fifth to the fourth floor. When found he was suffering from a bad cut over his left eye and an abrasion on his head. It is believed he received his internal injuries, which caused his death, from a kick.

Detective Lieutenant Jarvis, who arrested Mitchell at 1832½-A West Fifty-third Place, said he had received information that Mitchell and Hines had an altercation about two weeks ago, that Hines had ordered Mitchell to leave the building and had finally put him out. Mitchell, according to this information, had addressed insulting remarks to two women employed in the building.

Hines was single. Coroner Nance expects to conduct an inquest into his death. Hines is said to have made a statement before he was placed on the operating table in which he gave the circumstances of the attack.

EX-FOLLIES ACTRESS IN FILM DEAL

Imogene Wilson, Figure in Frank Tinney Divorce, Said to Have Contract

Imogene Wilson, former New York Follies actress who figured in the Frank Tinney divorce, did not come to Hollywood in the hope of breaking into the films, but with a contract already in her possession, it was said yesterday.

IMOGENE WILSON

Miss Wilson, now known as Imogene Robertson, arrived two weeks ago from Germany, where she had been since 1924, and is at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel.

One version of her film situation is that John M. Considine, head of Feature Productions Company, a subsidiary of United Artists, saw her on the screen under the name of Imogene Robertson, immediately signed her, and, as is the custom in the case of a foreign actress, forwarded transportation from Germany and a contract calling for $400 a week. At that time, it is said, he did not know Imogene Robertson is Imogene Wilson.

This story "is not exactly true," Considine said yesterday. "I knew Miss Wilson, of course, and I brought her here for tests. If they are satisfactory we will use her in pictures. If not, I can release her at any time."

"Yes, I have a contract," was all Miss Wilson cared to say. She denied the company had made any advances toward breaking the asserted contract since finding she is the girl who figured in the Tinney case.

Just before leaving New York in 1924 Miss Wilson had Tinney arrested, charged with having beaten her. Later Mrs. Tinney sued for divorce, naming Miss Wilson.

TWO MORE EXHIBITS PLANNED BY SLOAN

Blanding Sloan, San Francisco artist who is exhibiting at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, will give two more exhibitions of etching and block painting, it was announced yesterday. These will be given tomorrow at 11 a.m. and at 2 p.m. The morning exhibition will be particularly for the benefit of pupils of public and private schools. All the processes both of etching, printing and block-printing will be shown and explained. Sloan's exhibit comprises 150 etchings and fifty block-prints, together with the plates and blocks from which they are made. For the latter, he uses generally battleship linoleum instead of wood.

Former Boxer Arraigned on Liquor Charge

Charged with the possession of a 400-gallon still, Terry Adams, 21 years of age, and a former boxer, yesterday was arraigned before Municipal Judge Turney and on entering a plea of not guilty, trial was set for today.

Beside the still, found in a house near the one in which Adams resides at 404 West Fifty-sixth street, raiding officers from Capt. Plummera's liquor detail and Federal agents found fifteen five-gallon cans of whisky and a large amount of other paraphernalia, according to their report.

On Adams's plea of not guilty, Judge Turney fixed bail in the amount of $1500.

Three actresses have announced their intention of running for seats in the British Parliament.

CONTEST STIRS MORE INTEREST

San Diego County Orators Prepare to Enter

Every School But One Will be Represented

Army and Navy Academy to Train Large Group

The Fourth National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution is attracting wide attention among the high-school students of San Diego county, and all but one of the smallest institutions are represented in the oratorical battle. The San Diego county contest is conducted in two divisions, one embracing the schools of the city of San Diego and the other the outside schools.

While a detailed report is not as yet at hand with reference to the city schools, it is definitely stated that the three senior high schools have entered. From the outside schools reports have been received by Director Nichols furnishing evidence of great enthusiasm on the part of teachers and students and full support by the local newspapers.

One of the most glowing reports is that coming from the San Diego Army and Navy Academy at Point Loma, conducted under the direction of Col. Davis. A large group of students are writing orations at this institution, which will act as host to the contestants from all parts of the county that will take part in the district preliminaries of San Diego county on April 22.

PROGRAM PLANNED

The district contest will be conducted in the academy's new auditorium, which has just been completed and has a seating capacity of 1000. An elaborate program for the occasion is already being planned by Col. Davis, which will include drills and parades during the afternoon and a concert by the academy's band as a part of the evening program.

Kirk Smith, the editor of the Beach News, published at Point Loma, is furnishing the newspaper sponsorship for both the academy and the Point Loma High School, and is offering two silver cups, one to go to the academy winner and the other to the winner at the high school.

The contest at the Point Loma High School is in charge of Clarence Swenson, the vice-principal, who expressed a high regard for the contest as an educational agency, as did also the principal of the school.

Prof. Stevens, head of the English department of the Escondido High School, and in charge of the contest at that institution, is extremely cordial in his expressions of approval of the contest. A large group of students are preparing orations in this school, and the entire student body is looking forward with keen anticipation to the preliminaries. Percy Evans, editor of the Daily Times-Advocate, is sponsoring the contest at Escondido, and will present a silver cup to the local winner.

ENCOURAGEMENT OFFERED

"I'll encourage every student who has any ability in writing to prepare an oration in this contest for the splendid training it gives in composition and for the understanding of the Constitution which results from such intensive analysis," declared J. H. Wilson, the principal of the Ramona High School.

This is one of the county's smaller schools, but it is not lacking in enthusiasm, a majority of the students being entered in the contest. Newspaper sponsorship is furnished by the Ramona Sentinel, published by C. O. Smith.

La Jolla High School reports large participation in the contest among its students. "The contest is a great thing and our school supports anything so worthy," says the principal, B. F. Enyeart.

Preparations are already being made by the La Jolla school for the preliminaries, which will be conducted before a crowded assembly with the La Jolla High School orchestra furnishing several selections for the musical part of the program. Will Shaw, the publisher of the La Jolla Journal has offered a prize to the local winner.

CORONADO PREPARES

Large participation is reported at the Coronado High School, where the principal, J. L. Cutler, stated that he regards the preparation of orations for the contest as wonderful training for the students. Chalmers Sturgeon, the publisher of the Coronado Journal, is sponsoring the contest in Coronado and has offered a silver cup to the winner.

At Oceanside High School the contest is being conducted under the supervision of W. A. Landis, the principal, who said: "I'm putting forth every effort to interest the largest number of students possible in this contest." W. S. Spencer, editor of the Oceanside Blade, and J. B. Welsh, who publishes the Oceanside News, will jointly offer prizes to first and second-place winners.

At Fallbrook High School, the principal, James B. Potter, is taking a lively interest in the efforts of the large group of contestants at that institution. W. S. Cauch, the editor of the Ballbrook Enterprise, has offered a silver cup to the local winner.

STATE LAGGING IN ADVERTISING

Outdone 342 to 9 by Other Vacation Resorts

Story Told by Reports of Clipping Bureau

Hotels Urged to Assist in $1,200,000 Drive

Southern California is being outadvertised by Florida and other vacation resort areas in the proportion of 342 to 9. This is not an estimate but a proven fact, having been obtained by the joint financial committee of ten that is collecting the $1,200,000 for the All-Year Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

A clipping bureau of national reputation was retained to do the work. It was instructed to clip, for a period of five days, all the resort advertising in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, the State of Ohio and several Southern States. All resort advertising was included—railroads, hotels, resorts and communities.

The clip sheets as returned to the committee show the following tabulation:

Florida advertising	228 columns
Advertising of other resorts, such as Cuba, the Bermudas, New Orleans, Montreal, etc.	114 columns
Total	342 columns
Southern California advertising	9 columns

FAR OUTDISTANCED

"Here is evidence," said a spokesman for the committee, "that we cannot overlook. Ten years ago California would have nearly balanced any other resort. Now they outdo us about 38 to 1. It is not that we have grown less. We haven't grown in our advertising but the other communities have learned from us what the advertising has done and will do and have raced so far ahead of us that unless we increase our pace, the communities will inevitably draw from us the splendid tourist patronage we are now enjoying. In the winter it is not so important that we maintain a steady increase, but in the summer it is vital.

"And in the summertime the advertising against us is even greater than in the winter. The whole world is in the field in the summer time. In the winter it is only a limited number of resorts."

Attention was called to the fact that the advertising of the All-Year Club of Southern California is saving the advertising bills of scores of hotels and resorts. In New Orleans there is no community advertising fund, so all the advertising is done individually by the hotels and by the railroads. Here the substantial part of the advertising is done by the All-Year Club of Southern California out of a general budget and it is pointed that this being the case, the hotels could afford with definite profit to themselves to devote to the club's advertising appropriation, the money that because of it, they are saved from spending over their own names.

REALTY AID ASKED

This is true of many other enterprises, especially real estate. The real estate business in Southern California is the soundest and most active in the United States. And yet there is no California real estate advertising shown in the clippings. Scores of Florida projects are listed. The realtors here, it is said, might well subscribe to the All-Year Club amounts similar to the total appropriations of the Florida developments spent under their own names.

Just a few of the places in addition to Florida that advertise heavily are South America, the Orient, the Mediterranean and its neighboring areas such as Italy, the Barbary Coast of Africa, Egypt and Constantinople, also Atlantic City, New Orleans, Montreal, West Indies, Texas, Cuba and the Bermudas.

Miss Beth Hazelton to Appear at Artists' and Sculptors' Club Frolic

Miss Beth Hazelton, who will appear for the Painters and Sculptors Club at the Winter Garden Ice Rink in the Jack Frost Costume Carnival the 26th inst., is a model, but an artist in her own line of creative dancing. Her appearance is one of several features which will contribute to the festivities.

BETH HAZELTON

High schools of the Los Angeles City District are entering floats in the school pageant in competition for one of the art prizes valued at from $300 to $800 each which will be awarded by the club. The donors include nationally known artists, including T. H. McKay, Fitch B. Fulton, F. Grayson Sayre, Joseph Greenbaum, Henry Richter, George D. Otis, Theodore Von Cina, Finn Frolich, Merrill Gage, Roger Noble Burnham, C. Van Schindau, Cliff P. Baldwin, Will F. Chapin, Frank Whamsley, Ben Kutcher, J. Stephen Ward and Henry Lovins.

In addition to the Detroit Millionaires playing the Los Angeles Winter Gardens in a hockey game, a burlesque game in costume, painters vs. sculptors, with teams selected from sculptors, with teams selected from the members of the artists, will be played. Fancy and racing skating also has been arranged. Three bands have been engaged to provide music.

CHATTERERS

Whenever a bunch of gossips, male or female, hold a session it's a case of birds of a feather knock together.

FELLOW FEELING

Drinking men nowadays ought to be very liberal to blind beggars. They can never tell when they'll be in the same fix.

SLUGGISH MINDS

Dr. Mayo says that it will be fifty years before the normal human brain catches up with modern progress. And by that time progress will be still another half-century in the lead. The brain must be a stolid appurtenance to humanity, after all.

THE MATCH-MAKERS

Eugenists are speculating upon what would happen genealogically if Nurmi, the fleet Finn, should marry Gertrude Ederle, the channel swimmer. Gossips have been marrying her to so many men that she has gotten over the habit of saying, "This is so sudden."

TAX ON BEAKS

Over in Tibet it is proposed to regulate the poll tax according to the length of the human beak. In that case a guy who has had his nose pulled ought to be able to find redress in the courts. In that country the bozo with the longest snoot will be proudly pointed out as the leading taxpayer.

THE LONG HAIRS

They had a hair-raising contest in an Illinois town the other night and nearly 100 women competed. This would indicate that not all the ladies have yielded to the wiles of the barber. First prize was taken by a woman who had shiny red hair more than five feet in length. There was much real applause when the awards were made.

A SCOTCH TRAGEDY

The big bear in the Edinburgh Zoo put its paw through the bars and seized the purse of a lady spectator. Then, while the horrified but helpless Scotchmen looked on, the massive beast ate up the pocket-book and the $250 which it contained. It was a sad day for Scotland and no wonder there was a movement to tear the animal apart.

THE SHORTEST WILL

A scrap of paper bearing only the four words: "All to my wife" and the signature of the testator has been accepted by an English court as a good and competent will. Anyhow, it disposes of more than $4,000,000 without any further question. Thus proving that verbiage is not what counts most in the making of a testament that will hold water.

NOISE MAKERS

The new capital of Turkey has passed an ordinance against uncivilized noises, but there is some curiosity to know at what state a noise becomes civilized. It is quite possible that from a Moslem standpoint the jazz band and the honking of Fords would be listed as uncivilized noises, and the League of Nations will take no exceptions if the Turks so hold.

LADIES PREFER DIAMONDS

Americans are said to own more than $4,000,000,000 worth of diamonds and all the rajahs of India and Czars of Russia never had anything to compare with this glittering mass. There is a more general distribution of these precious stones than would be possible in any other country. Even the finger of the humblest working girl is likely to sparkle with one of these African gems and the average beauty parlor dazzles the eye. The diamond is the jewel that most closely represents the love and devotion of the American male.

ROARING HEARTS

An electric stethoscope, with radio amplifiers attached, daily fills the University of Pennsylvania Hospital with rhythmic roarings of human hearts. No two roar alike. No heart has yet been found with all four valves working at 100 per cent efficiency. Some rattle like automobiles with one, two or more cylinders skipping. As a matter of fact, a four-cylinder automobile works better on the average than an ordinary four-valved heart. Why shouldn't it, when most people take better care of their automobiles than of their own machinery?

THE NEW CONGRESS

Looking over the list composing the Seventieth Congress one observes that, while our sunkist Senators and Representatives of the Sixty-ninth are all there but two, other States, including Georgia, denote marked changes, the corn-pone State having dropped from its roll of Congressmen, among others, that stalwart promoter of the millennium, William D. Upshaw of the Fifth District, who has been replaced by Leslie D. Steele. If Leslie tries to keep up to the erratic record of "Earnest Willie" he will find his work cut out for him.

A SURE RETURN

On the same day that definite plans were announced in Los Angeles for the creation of a fund to continue through extensive advertising operations our unparalleled prosperity of 1926 it was disclosed at Sacramento that 220,000 motorists alone harkened to the lure of California during the last twelve months. This is but a small proportion of the persons visiting the State by train and steamer. Yet the fact that more than 55,000 automobiles brought tourists here is an indication of the success with which the charms of California have been brought home to the East and Middle West, as well as to numerous foreign countries.

It is no haphazard undertaking, therefore, when leaders in Los Angeles civic life go forth to procure $1,200,000 as an advertising and exploitation fund, not only to attract tourists here, but to build more solidly the foundations of the Southland's economic structure. Results attained last year prove in no uncertain fashion that a well-administered fund of such a nature does ten times as much for this region as would a similar amount expended in unorganized effort by individuals. The growth of the city necessarily would have continued, but with the aid of directed advertising and regulated control of expenditures that growth was speeded up tremendously and the benefits more generally distributed.

The activities of the All-Year Club, the Chamber of Commerce and other agencies comprising the Southern California Forward Movement are directed at a goal more comprehensive than the mere attraction of tourists to this section. That is an important feature, but still more important are the provisions made for a sound, permanent population. Through employment facilities and the encouragement of trade, both foreign and domestic, the basis is laid for prosperity embodying the new citizenship as well as the transient visitor. The example of other sections of the country which played up mere climate or some other feature and neglected the greater consideration of basic industries and industrial life has been observed with beneficial results here. Southern California has the advantage of every natural resource to care for an unlimited population.

No false promises are made in the advertising campaign. There is pointed out, instead, to every visitor the opportunity for gainful occupation in a favored region where he may contribute to the general welfare. California is not a place to be visited only by the casual sightseer who views its wonders and then goes home to his native heath. Rather it is a land of promise open to everyone who has an ideal of well-rounded existence.

The fact that bank savings deposits per capita here are approximately double those of the average for the rest of the country testifies to the solidity of the financial structure, which, in turn, is but an indication of the general prosperity. Harbor business and real estate transactions likewise give indubitable proof of this universal well-being.

Citizens who contribute to the fund for continuing the advertising campaign which constantly is adding to this desirable situation can do so with the knowledge that bread cast on the waters will float home in the form of cake, with a rich icing. It is no gamble to back Southern California. Every person who aids the forward movement will be rewarded. That should not be the prime consideration, but it is good business to remember it.

TO SAVE THE REDWOODS

It is gratifying to note the interest taken by the eastern press and nature-lovers in the proposed bond issue of $6,000,000 by the State of California, to be matched by an equal sum to be raised by private contributions, to buy back some of the virgin redwood forests. The New York Herald, in a recent editorial article full of esthetic appreciation of the towering beauty of these mighty forests, found only in California, said that man, for all his vaunted powers, has done little to assist these survivals of preglacial days and deplored the lack of action by the Federal government in this respect.

For only about 100 years has man been hacking down the redwoods, and most of the devastation has been wrought during the last forty years. Yet about one-third of these noble trees—the largest and most beautiful in the world—have been cut down. At the present rate of destruction nearly all save those in the State and national parks will disappear within the next fifty years. The groves in these parks are but trifles compared with the great forests that have suffered under the saw and ax. Of the original 1,500,000 acres of redwoods more than 550,000 acres of the best trees have been logged and milled, thousands of them with but little thought of how a second growth might rise if the land were not burned over and left arid and waste.

Careful methods of logging might have saved many trees, but in the headlong haste of the lumbermen these methods rarely have been pursued. It will be well if, in addition to the passage of legislation to aid in the preservation of the virgin redwoods yet remaining, some rule were adopted by which lumbering would be carried on with a less devastating hand. Many of the smaller trees might in this way be preserved for posterity. The lack of wisdom shown by the loggers was commented upon in strenuous terms by John Muir when he said: "It took more than 3000 years to make some of the trees in these western woods—trees that are still standing in perfect strength and beauty—waving and singing in the mighty forests of the Sierra. Through all the wonderful, eventful centuries since Christ's time, and long before that, God has cared for these trees, saved them from drought, diseases, avalanches and a thousand straining, leveling tempests and floods; but he cannot save them from fools."

As shown by the interest taken in the proposed preservation of the redwoods, it is not merely a State but a national affair, and while California doubtless will do its share by way of financing the campaign to preserve them, is it too much to expect that the Federal government and persons of ample means in various parts of the country will contribute to a cause that so nearly concerns the welfare of future generations?

MANY A SLIP

We must recast our adages in modern language if we want the young people to receive proper inspiration from them. For example:

THE LATEST RENAISSANCE

Architects with walrus mustaches and their gingerbread houses have gone to the bourne where the cupola bird sings and the bay window calleth plaintively to its mate. The ornamented box-car dwelling is no more. The day of the new idea has dawned. Builders and dwellers alike have discovered that there is more to a home than planks and bricks thrown together in the most approved Victorian fashion. Individuality and charm are coming into their own.

There can be no finer example of the new trend than that displayed by Santa Barbara. Like a veritable phoenix the always-beautiful city by the sea is rising with an undreamed-of magnificence in its return to the Spanish motif which lent such quaint charm to its older structures before the earthquake in 1925. Waking, if somewhat belatedly, to the unparalleled opportunity for building a city that will be the wonder of America, Santa Barbara has plunged whole-heartedly into a restoration of the architecture that made early California the envy of the world.

The Channel City will be unique. It will combine all the romantic charm of the Old World with the progressive spirit of the modern United States. The Estado, with its row of seductive Spanish-type business houses, has the quiet lure of a Seville transplanted. In terms of dollars and cents the Santa Barbara community spirit will be rewarded also. This country has been slow to recognize the actual value of the esthetic in city-building. The esthetic paradoxically is proving the most practical imaginable. It is a false doctrine that business marts must be as severe and ugly architecturally as it is possible to make them. Discerning persons of every type will be attracted by the unusual and the pleasing.

Furthermore it is a privilege of California to have the glorious background of the golden days of Spanish residence here. To preserve that heritage is a duty as well as an opportunity. In the bustling and thriving communities of the State nowadays it is possible to capitalize a wanton charm that is crying for expression. For a score of years or more there has been a slowly increasing realization of this fact, but it took the example of Santa Barbara to crystallize it in its best form.

Los Angeles, through various mediums, has been striving for the same goal. Progress undoubtedly has been made, but the field hardly has been touched. With a future of the most glittering promise lying before it; the world realizing more and more its advantages; every natural circumstance in its favor; with all these Los Angeles should strive to be the most charming city in this country as well as the most prosperous.

There is no need to copy the East. The West has its own heritage. The days of romance in architecture are not over. They are just beginning. Los Angeles, as well as Santa Barbara, can lead the way in the new renaissance.

STILL A MYSTERY

Another traveler in India has contrived to smuggle a motion-picture camera into a crowd assembled to witness the Hindu rope trick, at which queer function all snap-shooting is strictly prohibited. The fakir threw a rope into the sky, and a small boy climbed it, pulled it up and disappeared. The camera reeled off a good many feet of film, but when it was developed all it showed was the fakir going through the motions of throwing a rope skyward. There was no rope and no ascending boy. The camera man plumed himself upon his "expose" of the trick, but what he did not disclose was the hypnotic power of the fakir to make the spectators witness a scene that was not seen.

A SIMPLE EXPEDIENT

Holland's colonial uprisings are giving her no end of trouble. Just when she thinks she has any of her various sets of Dutch Indies rebels down and out another bobs up and has to be subdued. An official report says that, though the government suspects Red influence, it is "groping in the dark" to ascertain the precise facts as to the causes of the insurrections. Nothing simpler. Just ask Will Rogers.

BATHTUBS IN HISTORY

Hollywood has made a good many bathroom pictures, but has overlooked the possibilities for drama in the original fight to get America into the tub. It was no easy job. The bathtub as it is recognized today is an American creation and its first appearance in the home was in Cincinnati. When President Millard Fillmore had one put in the White House in 1852 the paragraphers and cynics of the day got busy.

Up to that time the family washtub was considered ample for any patriotic American. The idea of having a special room and vessel for domestic ablutions was considered with mingled horror and apprehension. It was either extravagant or indecent. America was not sure which, but hundreds of civic, religious and political bodies denounced the idea in direct and positive terms. The doctors were themselves divided. Quite a school of them were opposed to bathing as a habit. It opened the pores and invited rheumatism, pleurisy, neuralgia and other fell diseases to enter.

The Philadelphia City Council came within two votes of passing an ordinance which would forbid bathing in that city between November 1 and March 15. The measure was represented as being for the public health.

There were no pictures of Sennett bathing beauties in the papers of that day. Had there been America would have gone right up in smoke. There is a house in Hollywood today with six bedrooms and eight baths. If an architect had submitted a plan like that in 1852 he would have been in a padded cell before night.

For a full generation the overly nice people of the nation thought it rather coarse and improper to have a bathroom and its accessories under the same roof with a God-serving and healthy American family.

Nowadays the bathroom is the center and fulcrum of the household activities and the architect is likely to give more attention to that than any other part of the house. "The world do move."

HEADS OR TAILS?
By James J. Montague

Keep working, put in all the time you have got
Do not ever fall out of the race,
Some lad, you can bet, is already and set
To wedge himself into your place.
You haven't a moment of time you can waste,
You haven't a second to spare,
Lag the least bit behind and you'll speedily find
That you never can get anywhere!

Just look at the loafers that bask in the park,
They have lingered too long on the trail,
And the first thing they know they must get up and go
To the poorhouse or maybe to jail.
Avoid their example, keep pegging away,
Make unflagging labor your creed—
Get busy, my friend, for you'll find in the end
There is no other way to succeed.

What?—struggle and toil like a laboring slave
Who is always in fear of the lash,
There is something of worth on this wonderful earth
That cannot be purchased with cash.
You will miss all the love and the laughter of life,
If you always go weary to bed,
And the fortune you gain will prove utterly vain
To help you when once you are dead.

Let foolish folk worry all day and all night
At problems which wear out their brains,
They'll regret what they've done at the set of the sun
When the evening of happiness wanes.
Get some fun on the road, as you travel along—
Do not be a mere creature of greed,
Do not wear out your life with soul-sickening strife,
That isn't the way to succeed.

BOOK LOSERS

BY THE BOOKWORM

A fool and his books are soon parted.

The man who wrote "The Amenities of Book Collecting" remarks that nothing is more of a bore than to have some one insist on your borrowing a book you don't want to borrow—that you never read the book, anyway, and the best way to treat the person who troubled you with it is to lose it.

There is some truth in that. And yet so many of us never can learn it. If we read a book and like it we want others to read it also. We urge it on them—nay, thrust it on them, insist on their taking it. "Oh, you must read it," we command, and our friends weakly surrender.

For twenty years I have been sighing over the loss of the dearest volume I ever possessed. It was an acting edition of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," to my mind the greatest play ever written. It does not contain the great quotable speeches of a dozen of Shakespeare's plays, but to me it is more convincing than many of them. I cannot believe in ghosts and witches. But I will not argue that. My "Cyrano" was a play full of beauty, pathos, sparkling comedy, searching wit and thrill which lifted up the heart and made the breath sweep one in gusty sighs. And all that was compact with Shakespeare's own art, so that humor and pathos, comedy and tragedy relieved each other in swift, sharp contrast, yet always logically and unforcedly.

I loved that volume so I wanted every appreciative spirit I met to read it and fairly hounded them till they did. So one day I lent it to a musician, a thing no one ever should do. For musicians are absent-minded gentry. I never saw it again, nor can I find another just like it. All other translations I have read seem poor beside that one. I have searched bookstore after bookstore in vain. I have been searching for twenty years. And the villain to whom I lent that treasure never even got home with it. He forgot it when he got off the street car.

It's always that way. Twenty years ago, when I was just starting my career of crime, I had a lot of books—a lot, that is, for a boy just out of school. Now I have very few. All the most treasured ones have been urged on friends. And loan oft loseth both itself and friend.

UNDERGROUND NEW YORK

A Chicagoan who finds it necessary to visit New York every week for business conferences made the amazing statement as he sat in his hotel room that during three consecutive calls in the metropolis he had not set foot on the street. His arrivals in the city, walks to his hotel, journeys to his company's office in downtown Manhattan and his departures for the West had all been negotiated underground. His experience might well be entitled "Troglodyting It in New York."

One sure proof of familiarity with New York is a practical knowledge of its underground ramifications. They are bewildering to a large percentage of the resident millions, and often the experienced visitor knows them better than the native. Underground passageways lead from the railroad terminals to hotels, department stores and a number of office building in their vicinity. Without having to go to the street level, a traveler arriving in either terminal can proceed to the subway and journey down to the financial district to emerge in the basement of an office building without having seen daylight.—[New York Correspondence Philadelphia Ledger.

Fifty-Fifty

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a citizen of the United States, but not of California, I am impressed by your fervid appeal to all classes that they telegraph to members of Congress urging an appropriation from the Federal Treasury to build additional levees against the Colorado River to protect the Imperial Valley of California from threatened inundation and disaster.

You rightly call it an "emergency," but it fails to note what seems to me an important, and perhaps the most important, feature—namely, what are the people of California doing or proposing to do to protect their own Imperial Valley?

Your State Legislature is now in session. California is a rich State and rapidly growing in wealth. The Imperial Valley is your own.

If the California Legislature would promptly appropriate $1,000,000 for immediate use in protecting the Imperial Valley that would serve for an excellent suggestion to Congress to match it with another million—the actual expense to be met one-half by each.

There is ample warrant for such dual appropriations fifty-fifty in numerous other instances, such as improvement of the ship channel at Houston, Tex.

The work ought to be placed in the sole control of government engineers to avoid politi.. influences in carrying it on.

Waiting for Election Day

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Very often we read in the daily press that large numbers of "well-known gunmen" are coming to Los Angeles and we are also told that many "well-known gunmen" infest this city now and that their haunts and hang-out places are "well known."

Such reports, coming so frequently and considered in connection with the numerous crimes committed, create uneasiness and arouse suspicion.

Why are desperate "well-known" criminals of this type permitted to remain here and who gives them permission? Who is protecting them? What is the consideration and who gets it? Why is not the decent, law-abiding citizen and taxpayer given some protection from these "well-known gunmen"? Have our officials no duties to perform, except to make fine speeches to the ladies, head reception committees and draw their salaries? Is the time near at hand when respectable people will be compelled to protect themselves through vigilance committees?

A better method is at the ballot box. A lawful ballot is preferable to an unlawful rope, but—when is the next election of city and county officials? G. E. MOREY.

Then Laugh That Off

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's Times I read with interest the article entitled "Tyranny of Fashion." The paragraph beginning "About nineteen inches have been sheared off the bottom of a fashionable damsel's dress" particularly interested me.

Evidently it hasn't occurred to you that this has been compensated for to the manufacturer by the greater breadth of male attire. Then take a look at your own or some other man's trousers—then laugh that off.

Yours for equal rights. A. K.

Take That, Mr. Rogers!

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] William Rogers is getting worse. He is supposed to be funny, but I can't see it, and I laugh easily. His strained effort to say funny things is laughable, however, but it is going to seed.

His statement regarding the farmers' problems would be a real joke if it would not be so serious. It shows that he is not thinking constructively, not even as an honest critic. I am giving him credit of knowing more than he lets on.

He recommends knocking the Middle-States farmer in the head with a hammer right between the eyes, thinks it might dent the hammer a little, however, because, as he says, he will raise nothing but corn and wheat. He forgot to mention oats and hay. He also stated that rotation of crops and less automobiles will relieve them whenever they decide to try it.

His suggestion about the automobiles is rather funny. I take it that he thinks the farmer is about the only person who ought to get along without an auto as a means of transportation. He should go back to the spring wagon with old Dobbin hitched to it, while his city cousins just must have an auto, although they have a network of street cars to dodge. Let it pass at that.

Speaking of rotation of crops, I wonder where he got that new idea? That has been practiced by every farmer I knew in Illinois for, lo, these many years, and they have raised corn, wheat, oats and hay, properly rotated with all the hogs and cattle that the market would handle. What else can he raise? Cabbage, onions and such garden truck is a drug on the market already, as well as the rest he raises, which is just about the real trouble as it now stands. If the farmer could be induced to put just half of his farm into cultivation instead of all of it and cause a real hunger for what he has to sell, then Mr. Farmer would become as popular as he was during the war when he was urged to raise more wheat and win the war.

The smart lads are inclined to sneer at men who go year after year, along the pathway of routine, who seldom change an act or scene, but make today the same old stunt that they were making yesterday. They toil along through rain and shine and don't run off with others' wives or disappear between two days with all such coin as they can raise. They're so respectable and sane they give the gifted ones a pain; in magazines and books and plays as being barren-minded dubs; the only shine at luncheon clubs, whose lives are bounded by the mart, who do not care a hoot for art or any of the higher things which stir men fit to walk with kings. The smart lads sneer at all the rows of bankers, grocers, plumbers, clerks, who go each day the routine round and strive to gain an honest pound, whose lives are clean, unspoiled, redeemed, an open book to all mankind. Because them the country thrives, and we have comforts in our lives; they set the pace, which pace must be concerned with true business; they've made our towns the best on earth and filled our homes with harmless mirth; they've built up things so your credit's good, the suit of clothes of load of wood you have shows you mean to pay when your old bean begins to play. I wonder what the cynic boys who are so witty and so wise, who write for highbrow magazines and madly strive to spill the beans, I wonder what they've ever done to find us places in the sun. The village banker preaching thrift is more to help us and uplift than the sore-eye scribes who pen their libels on much better men.

When the sun goes down and the stars come out
And the breeze has died away,
And the cares of day have been put to rout,
As the shadows join to play,
A face comes to me through the gathering night—
A face that oft seems so near—
I can plainly see in the fading light
That the face is yours, my dear.

What matters it though life's years should be swept
By heavy and grueling hands,
True, patience and strength are given and kept
To meet all of life's demands.
Nay, more—though I help on a broken crutch
Where life's swollen billows roars,
Should I thrill to a gentle touch,
I would know the hands are yours.

State Labor Commission Office Moved

She's Right on Their Heels

Chief Deputy Labor Commissioner Baker receiving first complaint in new offices from Miss Louise Nelson.

THOSE who seek to force employers to pay unpaid wages must now go to Room 465, Subway Terminal Building.

Which is to say that the offices of the State Labor Commission yesterday were moved from the stand they have occupied for several years on the ninth floor of the Sun Finance Building.

State Labor Commissioner Mathewson was on hand to lead the trek from the old offices to the new. He declared he is pleased with the move, which is a step forward for the commission.

It was through the efforts of Chief Deputy Commissioner Barker that the new offices were obtained. One of the first acts of the Young administration was to approve the step in view of the steadily increasing volume of work transacted in the Los Angeles office.

Miss Louise Nelson filed the first labor complaints in the new office.

Self-Defense Plea Made in Film Shooting

Standing by his original statement that he had shot in self-defense, George "Scotty" Wonderly, in charge of bloodhounds at Universal City, yesterday was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

The charge against Wonderly originated from a shooting affray Wednesday on the motion-picture lot in which George Emerson, trainer of lions at the studio, was seriously wounded and is now in a precarious condition at the General Hospital.

Flanked by Attorneys Cantillon and Hamilton, the defendant appeared before Judge Ballard with practically the same story he told officers when he was arrested following the shooting. He said that he had shot Emerson after the latter had fired at him while they were talking in the "bullpen."

Judge Ballard set preliminary examination for March 1, next, and fixed bail at $5000.

DRUG CURE COMPOUND RECEIVED

New Narcosan Treatment Test for Dope Addiction to Begin Next Week

With the arrival from New York of the first shipment of the compound, tests of a new cure for drug addiction, known as narcosan, will be started next week under the direction of Drs. E. H. Anthony and Benjamin Blank and a committee composed of judges, peace officers and other physicians, it was announced yesterday.

Any person addicted to the use of habit-forming drugs may take the new cure free of charge by applying at the offices of Drs. Blank and Anthony in the Quinby Bunilding, Seventh street and Grand avenue, they announced.

According to the two physicians, who are to supervise the tests, about twelve or fifteen addicts are ready to undergo the treatment. The physicians and the committee are desirous, however, of administering to at least twenty-five for the tests.

It will require approximately three weeks 'time for the treatment, according to the physicians, during which time the patients will be under the direct care and supervision of the two physicians and graduate nurses.

UNIVERSITY SEPARATION ADVOCATED

Dr. Kelly of New York, on Mission Here, Tells of Aim to Segregate Sexes

DR. ROBERT L. KELLY.

Except in those institutions which are supported by tax funds, such as State universities and the like, the modern tendency in higher education is away from the co-educational system and toward separate colleges for men and women, according to Dr. Robert Lincoln Kelly, New York educator who is here to advise the trustees of Occidental College on its expansion plans.

As has been announced, one of the plans of Occidental is to split its facilities into two colleges, one for each sex and in different locations, and, with some exceptions, different faculties and with curricula especially adapted to men and women, respectively. This plan has the approval of Dr. Kelly.

"It is not that educators are abandoning co-education because of any inherent objections to that system," said Dr. Kelly. "Nor would I say that co-education is on the way to be discontinued. But modern educational requirements are becoming so complex and diversified, the demand for specialization so insistent, that separate schools for the sexes, each especially designed for the particular needs of its students, often are found best to suit many communities."

Duke University, supported by the foundation created by the tobacco magnate and said to be the wealthiest institution of its kind in the world — it has some $140,000,000 to spend and may get twice that later —is the outstanding example in this country of this idea of segregated education, though the system is growing throughout the United States.

Dr. Kelly was the founder and first president of the Association of American Colleges, of which is the permanent executive officer. The association now has a membership of 874 colleges and universities, including all the important institutions in the United States. Its general purpose is to promote efficiency in college work, to keep its members abreast of the most modern methods and ideas in education and to aid those institutions of higher learning better to meet the increasing demands made on them by an increasingly complex civilization.

Dr. Kelley expects to make his report to the trustees of Occidental about March 1.

HORSE GETS GOAT SO SHE GETS HORSE

Owner of House Finds Old Equine Parked Therein and Winds Up by Purchase

At first it appeared as though Mrs. Ida Barry of 124 South Main street was going to be made the goat, but it proved to be a horse. She bought the horse for $5 and ultimately the laugh was on Mat Shepard, 60 years of age, Covina gardener. The story is told in three chapters:

Chapter I—Shepard drove his one-hoss shay to Los Angeles last Tuesday to attend the funeral of a one-time friend. Caught in the rain he unceremoniously parked his horse in an unoccupied house at East Second and Lorena streets. Both the horse and Mat had pleasant dreams.

Chapter II—Mrs. Barry, owner of the house, took a prospective tenant to the place Wednesday afternoon, discovering an aged and infirm horse in the living room. Chagrin turned to anger and she had the critter removed to the Snowden Livery Stables at 401 Aliso street; then she visited the District Attorney's office. Damage to the extent of at least $25 had been done her dwelling, she maintained.

Chapter III—At Hollenbeck Heights Division Mrs. Barry and the gardener met, exchanging certain well-defined opinions of each other. Shepard said his horse was worth something. Yesterday, Mrs. Barry gave Shepard $5 for his horse and the controversy was at an end.

Wife Fades Out of Andy Gump's Hot Dog 'Dump'

Marian G. Turner, by decree of Judge Summerfield, is out of "Andy Gump's Dump" in El Monte. She passed out yesterday at the same time that Beryl R. Turner passed out of her life.

MARIANG TURNER

Mrs. Turner was awarded a decree of divorce on charges that her husband wounded her feelings by calling her a "bum sport" because she would not drink or smoke.

When the case came to the point of a division of the community property, it developed that the Turner family fortune was based on an El Monte hot dog emporium rejoicing in the name of "Andy Gump's Dump." Started on a few dollars, the Turners have run up a community estate of $3000 out of the profits of the "Dump," the wife testified. So Judge Summerfield awarded the "Dump" to the husband and gave Mrs. Turner judgment for $1500 for her share. She was represented by Attorney A. C. Galloway.

Women's Hygienic Advice

New way discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THERE is now a way in woman's hygiene that ends most of the bothers and worries of old ways. A new way called Kotex. 8 in 10 better class women have adopted it.

You dispose of it as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry or disposal problem.

You wear lightest, filmiest gowns in safety and without fear. For Kotex protects absolutely under all conditions. Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

You obtain it at any store, without hesitancy, simply by saying Kotex. Many stores have it already wrapped for you to pick up, pay for, and take home without even asking.

Package of 12 costs only a few cents. Once you try it, you'll never risk the dangers of old ways again. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

In honor of Mrs. John McHugh of New York City, Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles of 1836 Curson avenue, Hollywood, is entertaining with a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Mayfair in West Seventh street, Friday afternoon, the 25th inst. Seventy-five guests have been bidden and a dozen intimate friends of the hostess have been asked to assist. Mrs. Wattles is planning to go abroad in April, while Miss Margaret Wattles and Miss Mary Louise Wattles, who have been traveling abroad for some months, are planning to return aboard the S.S. Resolute, and will reach Los Angeles about March 16.

Delightful Affairs

Combining the educational with the pleasurable, Miss Marcorets Hellman, attractive subdeb daughter of Marco Hellman, is entertaining a small coterie of intimate friends tomorrow. She is taking them first to the Aline Barrets Greenwood talk on current affairs in the music room of the Biltmore and later they will motor out to the Hellman home in Wilshire Boulevard, while a matinee party is scheduled for the afternoon. Those included are Miss Isabella Arnold, Miss Elizabeth Bell, Miss Burton Green, Miss Laura Anne Lisk, Miss Betty Edwards, Miss Jane Woodin, Miss Martha Woodin, Miss Barbara Mangenheimer, Miss Mary Ford, Miss Patricia Leack and the hostess.

Benefit Dance

Miss Mary Jean Rogers, attractive daughter of Dean and Mrs. Lester B. Rogers, members of the faculty family at the University of Southern California, is to be one of the student hostesses at a benefit dance to be given by the alumnae of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Epsilon chapter this evening. Miss Rogers is a senior at University of Southern California.

The affair is to take place at the Surf and Sand Club at Hermosa Beach, and other Southern California co-eds who are active in arranging for the soiree include Miss Eleanor Veale, Miss Alda Mills and Miss Betty Budd.

Patrons and patronesses will be Judge and Mrs. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. William Evans Bard and Miss Stanton Thompson.

Alpha Chi Omega sorority will grace the decorations, being scarlet and olive green.

Two hundred and fifty guests will be present at the gay gathering.

Dancing Party

The St. Valentine motif was effectively used for a delightful dancing party at Cumnock Academy recently. Artistic decorations were made in red and silver, and the orchestra was hidden behind a huge red heart. Miss Anne Coleman, president of the academy student body, and Miss Helene Swallow, chairman of the social committee, were in charge. Among the patronesses were Mrs. Anna Brooks Wyckoff, Mrs. Edwin Hill Brooks, Mrs. Bertha Lewis and Miss Louise Hairline.

Concert Postponed

Owing to the fact that the Philharmonic Orchestra is marooned at Oceanside, and it does not seem possible for them to return here before Sunday, the chamber music concert which had been scheduled for this evening in the library of the William Andrews Clark, Jr., home in West Adams street has been postponed.

Bridge Party

Mrs. Ethel K. Holland entertained Monday at her home with a bridge party in honor of Miss Maude Elizabeth Richards, who is leaving shortly for a year of travel, going to the Orient and other points of interest. The house was gay with pink candles and yellow flowers and many old friends were bidden, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heidt, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. D., who is wintering in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Charlotte Beamer, who has just returned from a year's visit in the north. The decorations were effectively carried out in the pastel shades of spring flowers, the tables being centered with spring blossoms and ferns and bridge featured the entertainment after the luncheon. Tupper-Koenig

At a simple yet beautiful home wedding at high noon, Wednesday, Miss Carlisle Tupper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wells Tupper, became the bride of Frederick William Koenig of Omaha, Neb. The marriage lines were read by Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper of Philadelphia, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents, 1160 Embury street, Pacific Palisades. Acacia Balleyana, ferns, and butterfly roses intermingled in the decorations of the home to form an effective floral setting for the bride, who was lovely in a gown of white chiffon embroidered in silver sequins by Patuet of Paris. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and orchids and was assisted by a life-long chum, Miss Henrietta Tronser of Chicago, as her maid of honor. Leonard Trotter of Omaha, a life-long friends, was to have served Mr. Koenig as best man but at the last minute a business situation interfered and prevented his presence. Ottis Macintosh sang "How I Love Thee" (Frank La Forge) and "Silent As Night" (Carl Rohm.) Among the guests was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Richard Guttman of Vienna, Austria. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast after which the Mr. and Mrs. Koenig left on a short trip. They will return for a reception to be held in their honor the 22nd inst., at the Dean and Mrs. Lester B. Rogers, members of the faculty family at the University of Southern California. Miss Rogers is a senior at the university this year. Other co-eds active in arranging for the soiree include Miss Eleanor Veale, Miss Alda Mills and Miss Betty Budd.

The Baked Taste Tells

A baked potato tastes like nothing else but a baked potato. Same way with beans. Beans that are really baked taste like nothing else but baked beans. Slow, careful baking in the dry heat of real ovens imparts a distinctive baked flavor.

It is this distinctive baked flavor that makes Heinz Oven-Baked Beans taste so good. They are baked tender, baked mealy, baked golden brown, baked good to eat.

Heinz Beans are labeled "Oven-Baked" because they are baked in real ovens.

YOUR BABY By Myrtle [illegible]

Very frequently it happens that [illegible]-fed babies are overfed. This is almost naturally because the baby's food is always ready, always warm and when he cries the mother doesn't know what else to do so she throws [illegible] system and regularly to the winds and comforts the baby with a [illegible]

This does not happen so often with [illegible] babies, that is in quite [illegible]. The mother may overfeed because she offers more milk at [illegible] than the baby needs, or may give a stronger formula, but [illegible] prepares five feedings a day for [illegible] bottles she isn't very likely [illegible] the baby an extra feeding [illegible] the hasn't it ready for him. [illegible] would cause her trouble to [illegible] extra bottle.

[illegible] there are a lot of things [illegible] the bottle-fed baby suffers [illegible] the breast-fed one is spared.

CARELESS METHOD

Mothers do not feel that they have [illegible] time "giving" the baby the [illegible]. They prop the bottle up with [illegible] and leave the baby alone [illegible] to struggle and strain. [illegible] his neck at uncomfortable angles [illegible] a bow on the nose from [illegible] slipping bottle. This is [illegible] and discomfort.

[illegible] the way it should be [illegible] prepare the bottle by standing [illegible] on a small piece of wood in [illegible] saucepan of cold water. [illegible] the water is hot shake the [illegible] and it will be found that it [illegible] raised to about blood heat [illegible] length of time. Test it by [illegible] a drop or two on the inside [illegible] of the arm. If it feels too hot [illegible] by running cold water over [illegible] bottle.

...ING AIR FOR BABIES

...ing the cold weather, you must ... remember to have the babies and children covered sufficiently at night to keep them warm. If necessary, pin the covers down loosely with the big blanket safety pins. Do not pin them tight for that causes discomfort and may cause deformities if over the feet.

Eiderdown quilts are very warm but very light, and if you can, you should have some of them. It's a good plan to use the little knitted jackets or have a small shawl pinned on over the shoulders and around the neck to keep the cold from getting in.

It is just as necessary to have fresh air in the cold weather as in the warm and the windows should be opened and in such a way as to keep the air in circulation, but the baby should not be in a draft.

Tomorrow: Tobacco and Gastro-Intestinal Disturbances.

My dear Fellows: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and quinine is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column to come as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. WATER BUREAU GIVEN LASHING

Bishop Commerce Chamber Charges Unfairness

Misuse of Road Resolution by Board Asserted

Propaganda Stated to Have Been Employed

A heated charge that the Los Angeles Bureau of Water Works has made much misuse of a recent Lone Pine Chamber of Commerce resolution is contained in a resolution just received here from the Bishop Chamber of Commerce.

The Lone Pine resolution, according to the Bishop Chamber of Commerce, was intended only to thank the Los Angeles bureau for co-operation in building a road in Owens Valley to Los Angeles dam sites at Cottonwood Lakes and for such advertising of the valley resorts as has been done by the Los Angeles bureau.

This resolution, it is asserted by the Bishop body, was seized upon by the Los Angeles bureau as a means of disseminating propaganda that makes it appear that "the water board's contributions thus have settled the whole problem of damage done to Owens Valley towns and remaining farmers" by reason of the bureau's acquisition of water in the valley for Los Angeles municipal purposes.

"We go on record as saying," reads the resolution of the Bishop body, "that the methods used by the water board to cloud the issue between the people of Owens Valley and the citizens of Los Angeles are cheap, insincere, unfair, if not entirely malicious."

The Bishop Chamber of Commerce says that the bureau has not yet carried out its part of providing cooperation in building the proposed road and that the bureau's advertising of the valley is a small thing compared with the work of valley citizens in that respect.

The resolution condemns also a Los Angeles paper through which it asserts the water bureau has been putting out "this trash."

A high opinion of Los Angeles citizens is expressed by the Bishop Chamber of Commerce, but it expresses the opinion that they generally are uninformed as to the real situation in the valley and blames the bureau for misleading them.

PROSPECTOR FADES AWAY IN ALASKA

Seattle Capitalist Says Fisheries Not Gold Has Call in Yukon Regions

The old-time prospector, who could, and often did, live for protracted periods on atmosphere, inferior flapjacks and a yearning for gold, is fast passing from the ken of men in Alaska, according to J. E. Chilberg of Seattle, mining man and the president of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition conducted in Seattle several years ago.

Mr. Chilberg, who is accompanied by his son, E. R. Chilberg, arrived at the Biltmore yesterday. "I have spent most of my time for the last year or two in Alaska looking after mining interests there and have come to California for a short vacation," said Mr. Chilberg.

The only industry in Alaska in a really prosperous condition at the present time is that of the fisheries, according to the mining man.

"Mining has declined with the passing of the rich gold placers," he observed. "A good deal of copper is being produced by large interests and there is also some gold dredging. No doubt there are still many placer districts that have not been discovered for much of the territory is as yet virtually unexplored. But the old prospectors have disappeared and their place is not being filled by new blood."

WIFE'S SUIT SURPRISE TO TILE MAKER

Complaint First Hint of Domestic Discord, States H. H. Fillmore in Answer

First news of domestic difficulties between himself and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, former film star, came to him through newspaper accounts of her filing a divorce suit, according to an affidavit filed yesterday by Hugh H. Fillmore of the Fillmore-Wiley Company, tile manufacturers. The affidavit opposed an order obtained by his wife to show cause why he should not pay her alimony. Other assertions in Fillmore's affidavit are that he was living with her until the 14th inst., that he never struck her or smothered her with a blanket; that she is very nervous and burdened with business troubles of her own and in caring for the property of her mother, Charlotte Shelby Riley, and her sister, now touring in Europe, and that the strain of business worries has caused her to be easily irritated and imagine things are far worse than they are.

Added worries, Fillmore asserts, have grown out of a bequest left her by her grandmother, consisting of a large plantation in Louisiana, which, he declares, is being contested. Another cause of worry, he says, is her management of a $300,000 apartment house.

Answering the charge in her complaint that their community property is valued at $25,000 and Fillmore has a separate estate of $50,000 and an income of $1000 a month, Fillmore's affidavit sets forth that he receives an income of $350 monthly, owns notes totaling $1400, has $45 in bank, an equity in an automobile and 100 shares of stock in the tile-manufacturing concern, which is in escrow.

Last night Mrs. Fillmore, through her attorney, Arthur C. Fisher, issued a statement denying that either her mother or sister had any connection with the divorce action or knew anything about any of the facts pertaining thereto and asserted that she has not lived with Fillmore as man and wife since September 1, 1926.

PARAMOUNT ORGANIZES STOCK

All Players Except Stars Included in New Line-up; Harold Lloyd and Wife, Mildred Davis, Go East; Warners Assign Bretherton to Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Giving unqualified approval to plans just perfected to create a Paramount stock company for the development of the screen possibilities of nearly 100 featured players and their preparation for stardom, Adolph Zukor, president of Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, and Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production, today authorized by telegraph organization of the body.

In telegrams to B. P. Schulberg, associate producer in executive control of West Coast studio, Zukor and Lasky commended Him for conceiving the plan to bring new faces to the screen and prepare talented players for stardom. They urged that immediate steps be taken here and in New York for organization of the stock company, and pointed out that the plan constitutes one of the most important moves ever made within the film industry for bringing new talent to the screen.

As a result of the move, scores of actors will be given a wider range of experience before the motion-picture camera and new avenues will be opened for them to attain stardom.

The new organization will include every player under contract to Famous Players-Lasky, excepting, of course, the stars, and scores of players whose possibilities of screen development and whose screen performances will lead to contracts with Paramount.

In the event that there are not sufficient roles for the players at Paramount studio, they will be loaned to other concerns, Schulberg stated, as they would profit immeasurably by being cast in varied types of roles calculated to give full play to their talents.

Schulberg announced that Felix Young, young theatrical and motion-picture man, who has been in the production department of Famous Players-Lasky on the west coast for the last five months, has been given the personal supervision of the stock company, and it will be Young's duty to carry out the policies established for the new organization.

Paramount has long held to a policy of developing players within its organization. Its first outstanding move in this direction was the Paramount Pictures school, conducted more than two years ago, from which were graduated such young players as Charles Rogers, Jack Luden, Mona Palma, Josephine Dunn, Iris Gray, Walter Goss, Marion Ivy Harris and Thelma Todd, all of whom are now playing either leading or important roles in Paramount productions. Following the successful establishment of the school, the company further extended its new-faces policy by issuing instructions to every director on its staff to develop promising young players, which resulted in the addition of other excellent prospects to the contract list.

The Paramount stock company, as now constituted, includes the following fifty-eight players: Richard Arlen, George Bancroft, Warner Baxter, Noah Beery, Chariot Bird, Sally Blane, El Brendel, Mary Brian, Clive Brooks, Louise Brooks, William Collier, Jr., Chester Conklin, Ricardo Cortez, Lil Dagover, Josephine Dunn, Susan Fleming, Douglas Gilmore, Walter Goss, Iris Gray, Lawrence Gray, James Hall, Sterling Holloway, Neil Hamilton, Einar Hanson, Marion Ivy Harris, Raymond Hatton, Doris Hill, Ione Holmes, Betty Jewel, Tom Kennedy, Donald Keither, Sue Kilbourne, Irma Kornelia, Blanche LeClaire, Jocelyn Lee, Jack Luden, Ginette Maddie, Arlette Marchal, Alyce Mills, Marietta Millner, Margaret Morris, Jeanne Nazelle, Guy Oliver, Mona Palma, Nancy Phillips, William Powell, Imboden Parrish, Margaret Quimby, Charles Rogers, Larry Semon, Ann Sheridan, Edward (Gunboat) Smith, Ford Sterling, Philip Strange, Iris Stuart, Lotus Thompson, Thelma Todd, Vera Veronina, Gary Cooper and Fay Wray.

Comedian and Wife Depart

Harold Lloyd and his wife, Mildred Davis, are going to New York to spend several weeks, according to word received yesterday. They will leave tonight. Mildred has just finished her first starring picture under her new contract with Paramount, called "Too Many Crooks."

HAROLD LLOYD

While in the East at least two notable events will occur, centering around the famous comedian and his famous wife. Mildred's birthday will be celebrated on Washington's birthday, that date being also Mildred's natal day, and Harold will be mentally working on his next story.

The comedian states that he is anxious to make a fast type of comedy as his next picture, and to insure fast movement, it is possible that he may play a newspaper reporter. He promises not to hurt the feelings of the profession by his characterization!

The pair are leaving little Mildred Gloria Lloyd in care of Mildred's mother.

Clifford Holland's New Role

That handsome and rising young actor, Clifford Holland, who recently arrived in Hollywood from the East, as the advance guard for a number of youthful players whom Winfield R. Sheehan is to exploit in Fox Films, has just been assigned an excellent part.

CLIFFORD HOLLAND

He has been cast for the leading role in "Rich, But Honest," adapted from Arthur Somers Roche's story.

Al Ray is to direct the picture. Marjorie Beebe, another young player, is to have a part, and the remainder of the cast will shortly be announced.

Holland is a college boy from North Carolina, who stepped right out of the academic shades into the light of the Klieigs the minute he had graduated. He appeared with Richard Dix in some Lasky pictures, but his only effort so far for Fox Films has been in "Summer Bachelors," in which he made a splendid impression.

Bretherton's New Picture

Several days ago when Howard Bretherton's contract was renewed by Warner Brothers, they had no special prospects in store for the director. Bretherton had just completed his first directorial effort, the handling of Rin-Tin-Tin in "Hills of Kentucky." Warner's New York office viewed the picture several days ago, when Jack Warner was there, and they were quite pleased with Bretherton's work.

Now Jack Warner announces that Bretherton has bee nassigned to direct one of the biggest pictures on their program. It is "The Black Diamond Express," written by Darryl Zanuck. Harvey Gates has been given the task of adapting Zanuck's story.

Arthur Lubin Busy

Arthur Lubin simply cannot stay put, it seems. Having just finished the role of a South American gigolo in "Afraid to Love" for Paramount, Lubin immediately discussed the possibilities of a stage appearance in "The Evangelist," a play soon to be produced by the authoress, Zelda Sears, and it is practically settled that he will start rehearsals within a few days. This activity, however, will in no way effect his screen work.

During the filming of "Afraid to Love," Lubin was forced to abandon the leading role in "The Lady of Belmont," which recently held the boards in Pasadena, and which was produced by the Pasadena Players.

Lubin appeared in the leading role of "The Traveling Man," which was last produced at the Writers' Club, and at the moment is staging two of the sketches for the March 4 performance of that club. He is directing Doug Fairbanks, Jr., in "Toward the Light," and is also directing "Six Pallbearers," a satirical playlet by H. L. Menken.

To Finish Verne Yarn

The filming of Jules Verne's "The Mysterious Island" is not to be abandoned by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, as has been reported, according to word received yesterday from the studio. It will be completed during the coming summer, weather and tide at the Bahamas permitting.

Exquisitely beautiful are the Technicolor scenes made last fall, it is said, by those who have seen it. The prologue in four reels is completed, and is all in color, showing underwater scenes taken in and around the Bahamas.

Included in the cast as principals are Lionel Barrymore, Conrad Nagel and Sally O'Neil.

LOS ANGELES CALLED CITY OF SUCCESS

Harry Culver in City Club Address Says Reward for Work Assured

Opportunity is knocking upon every door in California and those who seek these opportunities are much surer of success in Los Angeles and the State in general than in any other section of the world.

This, in brief, was the theme of an address made yesterday noon by Harry H. Culver, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board, who spoke at the City Club before an audience of about 300 people. The meeting was in the nature of a real estate day and approximately half the audience was made up of officials and members of the Los Angeles and other realty boards of the State.

Mr. Culver paid glowing tribute to Los Angeles, declaring the fact that the city has doubled in size during the past few years is ample proof of the chances for success here. "Work," he said, "continual striving toward a definite goal, is practically sure of reward."

Fred E. Reed of Oakland, former president of the California Real Estate Association, as well as of the Oakland Realty Board, was another speaker. Mr. Reed urged all those in attendance to attend the State-wide city planning conference, in Oakland next month. A number of members of the City Council, headed by President Boyle Workman, were in attendance and a resolution was passed following Mr. Reed's address asking them to attend the parley. The resolution also included the County Supervisors.

C. W. Clegg, member of both the realty board and the City Club, acted as chairman of the meeting.

Baldwin's Tour 'Nothing to Me' Wife Declares

"It means nothing to me: I have absolutely nothing to say," was the only comment of the wife of Baldwin M. Baldwin yesterday on reports from New York that Baldwin and Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, intend to sail for France tomorrow. The New York reports also intimated that Baldwin, who is the heir to the "Lucky" Baldwin fortune, might seek a divorce in Paris.

The Baldwins have not been living together fo rsome time. They have two little girls, twins. Mrs. Baldwin lives at Pasadena.

The New York reports credited Miss Lenglen's interest in affairs of the heart with breaking up the C. C. Pyle troupe of tennis performers. Miss Lenglen, it was said, has terminated her contract and does not intend to enter another. Baldwin, it was stated, is slated to manage her on a tour of France.

DEFENDANT ABSENT

Woman Accused in Hair-Bobbing Case Fails to Appear for Trial

Mrs. Florence Nutt who was charged with mayhem in connection with the asserted forcible hair-bobbing November 2, last, of Evelyn Thompson of Whittier, yesterday failed to appear in court when her case was called for trial and Judge Baird ordered her bail of $500 forfeited.

Charles Jones, bondsman for Mrs. Nutt, assured the court, however, that there must be a mistake somewhere and promised to produce Mrs. Nutt in court today. In view of this promise, Judge Baird ordered a bench warrant for Mrs. Nutt withheld from service until today, it being stated that if the woman appears this morning the order forfeiting her bail will be rescinded.

Lucille Rouiston, who originally was named as co-defendant in the case, is reported now to be in the Orient.

Actor Pursues New Whim of Going to Dogs

Harold Lloyd is going to the dogs! This time, the expression should be taken literally, not figuratively.

For "The Kid Brother" hero now causing wave after wave of laughter to sweep the interior of the Million Dollar Theater in his latest comedy has acquired a new hobby. He is going in for dogs now.

For the time being, at least, handball, golf and other favorite pastimes are playing second fiddle.

With characteristic thoroughness, Lloyd is pursuing his new whim with whole-hearted enthusiasm, assembling what is conceded the "biggest" collection of pedigreed canines on the west coast, as his kennels are to contain only Great Danes and St. Bernards. Already there are eighteen boarders and every one of them is certain to be prominent in future dog shows.

Lloyd counts on two of his collection to win many honors. Prince, a golden brindle Great Dane purchased from Francis X. Bushman, is already well on his way to the championship class. Considered the largest dog of the breed in the west, at thirteen months, with eighteen more to grow, he weighs nearly 145 pounds and stands thirty-five inches high at the shoulders. Zamper, another member of his kennels, recently won "the best in the show" award at the Ambassador Dog Show.

W. C. Fields is 'Big Glass Man' in Uptown Film

The American glazier is one personage the movies have not yet seen fit to glorify. But W. C. Fields has taken him out of obscurity and placed him in the cinema spotlight.

"So's Your Old Man," Fields's latest comedy, which opens at the West Coast Uptown Theater today, presents the star as a small-town glazier. But this man is not a bit the ordinary glass manufacturer. No sir. He's a character!

In fact, he's so much of a character that he chases his daughter's wealthy fiance away because of his sloppy habits. Then, just to show that he isn't as dumb as he looks, he invents a new kind of glass.

The adventures he passes through and the troubles he meets before finding a way to market it, provide a series of laughs which never let up, it is said.

The picture brings Alice Joyce her first role as a comedienne. Other members of the cast include Charles Rogers, Kittens Reichert, Marcia Harris and others.

The story is an adaptation of Julian Street's "Mr. Bisbee's Princess," which won the O. Henry Memorial Prize as the best short story of 1925.

LIGHTING SCHOOL MAY BE CONDUCTED

A school of lighting effects may be started at the De Mille studio under the tutorship of Peverall Marley, according to reports.

In a nation-wide research for critical opinions, lighting was blamed for defections in practically every motion-picture released.

Marley, Cecil B. DeMille's chief cameraman on "King of Kings," is considered a master of lighting. Many of his effects have been used to add realism to the new De Mille production.

The lighting class, if started, will be the first ever attempted by a studio, it is said. It will number as its pupils not only the De Mille cameramen and electricians, but also the directors and assistant directors.

Avoid Excess Uric Acid!

Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

OUR bodies are continually manufacturing uric acid. This is a normal process. And uric acid is a normal constituent of the blood.

Ordinarily our kidneys filter out these bodily wastes, but when uric acid accumulates beyond the functional ability of the kidneys to remove it, such individuals are said to be "gouty." Symptoms are a soreness and stiffness of the joints and muscles, and a tired, nervous, depressed feeling. Improper kidney function is often shown by scanty or burning secretions.

The kidneys are the principal eliminants of uric acid. Doan's Pills, stimulant diuretic*, aid the kidneys to greater activity and assist them to flush away the excess uric acid. Users everywhere endorse them. Ask your neighbor!

*Diuretics are agents which increase the secretion of the kidneys—Encyclopaedia definition.

CLERGYMEN TO ATTEND PRODUCTION

Five Hundred Ministers of All Denominations to Meet the "Deacon"

Five hundred clergymen of all denominations have been invited to meet the Deacon at Hollywood Playhouse, Thursday afternoon. At the matinee they are to have a chance to see for themselves "Alias the Deacon" and to discuss the play at an open forum afterward.

The management of the new theater had an idea that the announced policy of Hollywood Playhouse, which caters to the patronage of whole families from grandfathers to children, was demonstrated in its first offering featuring Berton Churchill.

Unfortunately, the advertising posters offended one minister, who has preached against the Deacon without seeing him. Through this preacher's effort, the radio has told of the lack of reverence on the part of the stage soldier of fortune.

That is why the clergymen have been asked to see the comedy-drama.

Rotary clubs from twenty-two nearby places attended the theater recently in honor of Ed W. Rowland, general manager.

Rehearsals for New Attraction in Final Round

With Alan Brooks in the leading role of the vagabond and Kate Campbell as Violet, George M. Cohan's mystery melodrama "The Tavern," Alan Brooks directing, is going through the final round of rehearsals under the eyes of Louis O. Macloon, through whose efforts the play will be presented at the Biltmore for a limited engagement starting Monday evening.

Presented nowhere in the country it is said, outside of New York and Chicago, "The Tavern" will make its western bow at the Biltmore.

As the vagabond, Brooks has a chance for both comedy and fine melodramatic acting. Sam Sidman as Willyum, excitable and funny, runs a close second in the comedy field. F. H. Elliott has an opportunity to display versatility as the Governor while Harry Jordan, E. F. Wade, Paul Fix, Frances Sheehan, Margaret Wesner, Zeffie Tilbury, Stuart Erwin, Thomas L. Brower and others are seen in various character roles.

Kate Campbell has not been seen here since Louis O. Macloon presented "The Butter and Egg Man" and her role as Violet in "The Tavern" is said to be one of the best of her stage career.

Brooks's appearance in "The Tavern" marks his return to the stage after more than a year in pictures. He steps back onto the stage from the role of Satan in Cecil B. De Mille's screen production "The King of Kings."

O'Neil Drama Introduces New Matinee Series

Violet Wilson and Irving Pichel head the cast of "All God's Chillun" Eugene O'Neil's drama, which Dickson Morgan is presenting for three special matinees at the Wilkes Vine-street Theater Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

This drama which created such a furor when it was produced in New York, will be presented in its entirety for the first time on the West Coast. The first act of this play was cut out when it was played in New York, and in the San Francisco presentation it was omitted altogether. Because of the special character of the Dickson Morgan matinees this act will be included.

If these matinees prove successful Mr. Morgan is considering a series of similar presentations. "Wild Birds," from the pen of Dan Tothero in which Miss Wilson won much acclaim as the waif, Maisie, may be the next production which Mr. Morgan will stage.

Robert Halsted, who designed the sets for "An American Tragedy," is also responsible for the sets of "All God's Chillun."

These matinees will not in any way interfere with the regular matinee of "An American Tragedy."

FORUM CONDUCTOR WRITES SONG HIT

In writing the musical score for "Flesh and the Devil," Ted Henkel, director of the orchestra at the Forum Theater where the picture is playing, found it necessary to employ an original theme to express the friendship of John Gilbert and Lars Hanson, who with Greta Garbo constitute the trio of stars of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film.

So pleased was the public with this theme and so numerous were inquiries for the name of it that Henkel decided to expand it into a song, which he has entitled "Friendship Isle" after the Friendship Isle of the picture. The song has been dedicated to Clarence Brown, who directed the picture, and an autographed manuscript copy is being sent to him.

The words were written by Ted Henkel and Patterson Green.

PARAMOUNT GIRL GRADUATE IN CAST

"Love's Greatest Mistake," a Paramount picture, will open at the Metropolitan today. In the cast are Evelyn Brent, James Hall, Josephine Dunn, William Powell and Iris Gray. The picture was directed by Edward Sutherland.

Josephine Dunn is a Paramount junior star, having graduated recently from the Paramount School of Acting.

"Hi in the Hills" is the Jack Partington presentation at the Metropolitan this week.

BUSY DAYS FOR EINAR

With the completion of his role opposite Esther Ralston in "Fashions for Women," Einar Hanson is making preparations to begin work in his next Paramount picture. Since signing his contract with the Paramount organization Hanson hasn't had the pleasure of a day's vacation. During the first three months with the Paramount company he has appeared in three pictures, "Barbed Wire," "Children of Divorce" and "Fashions For Women."

TRIALS OF A FOLLIES QUEEN

Imagine having a Follies queen cook your corned-beef-and for you. That's the luck that comes to Lloyd Hughes in his role in "An Affair of the Follies" coming to Loew's State today.

BILLIE DOVE.

Moreover, it's Billie Dove, who during the filming of the picture demonstrated that she really could cook. She first appears as Tamara of the Follies, than as a charming bride. As a Follies queen, Tamara had millionaires for admirers. As the wife of a $50-per-week clerk her only admirers were the iceman, the grocery boy and the landlord!

But, of course, she was sought out finally by one of the millionaires, and then the trouble began.

Lewis Stone, Billie Dove and Lloyd Hughes are featured in the picture, which was directed by Millard Webb for First National.

Doris Eaton and the Serpentine girls will be held over for a second week at Loew's State, the feature of the Pantchon and Marco presentation, it was announced. In addition to Miss Eaton and the girls, Edna Covey, late of Ziegfeld Follies and "Louis the Fourteenth," will appear.

COMPLETE WORK

John Stone, scenarist, has just completed his first assignment with the Lasky organization. Several weeks ago, Stone severed connections with the Fox company, after a stay of seven year's duration, during which time he wrote such features as "Three Bad Men," "The Auctioneer," and numerous others.

'Devil's Island' Depicts Bleak Life in Prison

Not since her "Madame X" has Pauline Frederick had as powerful a role in a screen play as that of Jeanette Picto in Leah Baird's story "Devil's Island," which is to have its western premiere at the Figueroa Theater tomorrow, according to the theater management.

As is usual with this emotional actress, she is said to dominate every scene of the many in which she appears. It is a role that calls for versatility. Broken in spirit at the conviction of her husband as a traitor, joyous at their reunion, gay and happy in their new prison-camp home, bitter and hateful at her husband's death, strong and resourceful in her struggle for her fatherless son, Miss Frederick is said to run the gamut of emotions.

"Devil's Island" is a picturization of life on the island of that name, the French prison settlement, which was the storm center of the Dreyfus case of a generation ago. Never before, it is said, has a producer attempted to depict this most unique colony of the world. Richard Tucker, George Lewis, Marion Nixon, Leo White and John Miljan are members of the supporting cast and the picture was directed by Frank O'Connor.

Santaella's concert orchestra of twenty artists on the stage, a comedy and news and novelty reels complete the new program.

"The Music Master" with Alec Francis has its final showings today and tonight.

PUBLIX EXECUTIVES HONOR PARTINGTON

Led to the Biltmore Hotel last evening under the representation that friends wanted to see him, Jack Partington, presentation director at the Metropolitan Theater, found that he was the central figure in a surprise dinner given in his honor by executives or the Metropolitan and Million Dollar Theaters. The occasion was the first anniversary of Partington's coming to Los Angeles to stage the Metropolitan presentations.

Frank L. Newman, managing director of the Los Angeles Publix Theaters, acted as toastmaster. Among those present were Mort Harris, Joe Kornbleth and L. Goldstein of the presentation department; Bob Nelson, Ben Black, Louis Berkoff, F. T. Thomas, manager of the Metropolitan; Bernard J. Haynes, assistant manager; Gus Eyssell, manager of the Million Dollar; George Shely, Leo Forbstein, Paul Oscard, representing the New York presentation department of Publix Theaters; Mel Riddle, J. M. Loughborough, George Holl, Earl Simmons and Earl Hamilton.

NEW YORK LIKES "McFADDEN'S FLAT"

Blase New York has given its stamp of approval on Richard Wallace's production, "McFadden's Flats." According to information received last night from the eastern metropolis, this First National picture, which was produced by Asher & Small, has literally taken the town by storm at the Strand Theater where it has been shown for the past two weeks.

A significant feature is the announcement that for the fourth time in the history of this playhouse, a picture is to remain for three weeks, with possibility of a continuance.

The high-light of this comedy drama, it is said, is the direction of Wallace. His handling of Charlie Murray and Chester Conklin is quite apparent throughout the opus, it is said.

VALUABLES STOLEN

Valuable motion-picture wardrobe and several Navajo rugs belonging to Raymond Hatton were stolen from the actor's beach cottage at Mussell Rock last week. The thieves made their entrance by crashing through

"MOTHER" ASSIGNED ROLE

Ruth Cherrington, the woman who has played more "mother" roles than almost any other actress on the screen, was today assigned to an important role in Paramount's "Too Many Crooks," the picture which ushers Mildred Davis's return to the screen. Lloyd Hughes, George Bancroft and El Brendel are also in the cast.

Officers of Infantry Guests at Presentation of War Drama

The officers of the One Hundred Sixtieth California Infantry, including Brig.-Gen. W. P. Story, Col. Harcourt Hervey, Lieut.-Col. E. Howard, Capt. B. M. Eskridge, Capt. Ralph C. G. Nemo and Maj. D. H. Cowles, together with their wives and families, were the guests of the Playhouse last evening at the presentation of the American war picture, "What Price Glory."

The above-named army officers were also the guests of the Playhouse for the initial appearance of Louis Wolheim, the actor from New York who created the role of Capt. Flagg in the eastern metropolis. He was secured for the role at the Playhouse through special arrangements with John W. Considine, Jr., of the Joseph Schenck organization, affiliated with United Artists.

Indian Singers Heard Tonight at Auditorium

Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer of Indian songs, will appear at Philharmonic Auditorium tonight to honor Os-ke-non-ton, baritone, and Princess Tsianina, soprano, whose concert was postponed from last night.

Stalled at Yuma, Ariz., by floods occasioned by the heavy rains, the singers wired L. E. Behymer that they would positively reach Los Angeles today in time for their appearance tonight.

Os-ke-non-ton's baritone was heard in support of Princess Tsianina, who sang the title role of "Shanewis," Charles Wakefield Cadman's American Indian opera, performed in Hollywood Bowl last summer.

The singers have appeared together in London and other cities abroad in recital, but tonight marks their first Los Angeles joint song recital.

EVA DOES CARE FOR BRAND NEW HUSBAND

Now it's "We do care" instead of the words, "I don't care," which was made famous by that dynamic vaudeville actress, Eva Tanguay, who will be guest of honor and introduced on the stage at Pantages Theater by her old-time friend, Francis Renault.

The youthful husband, Atlan Parado, will also be present and introduced to the friends of his recently acquired wife. He is only 26 years of age and it is reported that Tanguay is—? Anyway, she doesn't care. Allan Parado is Miss Tanguay's Hungarian accompanist in her vaudeville act.

The pair have consented to make a bow on the stage with Francis Renault for tonight only and will soon depart from California to Europe, as they are now on their honeymoon trip around the world.

BOOSTERS MAKE FOR PROGRESS

Co-operation of Citizens is Needed

Los Angeles Man Talks to Pasadena Club

Cites Need of Active, Alert Chamber of Commerce

PASADENA, Feb. 17. — Foresight, co-operation and devotion of time and thought by many citizens to a city's welfare are necessary to the proper growth of any community, said Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in addressing the Pasadena Kiwanis Club today.

Successful and well planned cities do not "just happen," he said, declaring that a Chamber of Commerce which is constantly looking ahead and planning for the years to come is the most valuable possession any community can have.

As an illustration, he pointed to the development of the Los Angeles Harbor, started soon after the organization of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. In the early days, people scoffed at the idea that the harbor would ever be very valuable, saying that it was too shallow and would have to be irrigated every summer. Now, the speaker said, it is second only to New York in this country in total tonnage and foreign shipping, as the result of the vision of those who insisted on its development.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis, noted New York and Philadelphia publisher, who is spending the winter in Pasadena, was a guest of the Kiwanis Club today and greeted the members in a brief talk.

Flood Prevents Witness From Attending Court

SANTA ANA, Feb. 17.—Rain and floods of the last several days interfered with plans for the trial of Edward Driscoll, Huntington Beach oil worker, which was scheduled today before a jury in Superior Judge N. G. Ames's court. The trial was reset for February 28 and March 1.

While most of the jurors were able to straggle in from their homes to report for duty in court, the prosecuting witness against Driscoll was in San Diego and could not reach Santa Ana, it was announced.

She is Jean Brunswick, 20-year-old Santa Ana divorcee, who says she was attacked by Driscoll at Huntington Beach, where she went to attend a dance.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett and Defense Counsel O. A. Jacobs agreed upon a date for the postponed trial, which date was accordingly fixed by Judge Ames.

A BIT WORRIED

Man Falls to Return With Rented Automobile

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 17.—Unless Dr. George Frazier, whom Mayor H. A. Adrian met in Los Angeles last week, returns to Santa Barbara today, Silas Davis will ask Sheriff James Ross to look for him.

According to Davis, Dr. Frazier rented a new sedan from him Monday. He has not been seen since that time. He left another car in the Barbara Hotel garage, which he drove here from Los Angeles. He also left some clothing in his room in the Barbara Hotel. Manager Frank Miratti of the Barbara said last night that the doctor had not checked out and he was looking for him to return. He said Frazier secured $30 in cash from the clerk before leaving.

Frazier, who introduced himself to the Mayor as a New York physician, was a guest of the Mayor at the Chinese banquet Saturday night, but failed to keep an appointment with the city's executive Monday night.

PRESENTS LEGION BUILDING SITE

EL MONTE, Feb. 17.—El Monte Post No. 261 of the American Legion has lately become the owner of a beautiful wooded half-acre of land in the Savannah district just west of town through the gift of Francis Marion Guess in honor of his brother, Sergt. John Guess, who was killed in action in 1918.

This land, with a frontage of something over 150 feet on a fine street, will be used as a building site for the Legion as well as a meeting place for the Boy Scout troops of the El Monte township. The Legion has named a building committee and hopes to have construction started before the end of the year. It is planned to call the plot Camp John Guess and the Legion hopes to have a fitting dedication ceremony in the near future.

GRAND JURY FAVORS INCREASED SALARIES

HANFORD, Feb. 17.—The Kings county grand jury handed in partial report yesterday. It contained only recommendations in regard to salary increases made to Assemblyman Jewitt and Senator Wagy of this district to have included into the county government bill when the Legislature renconvenes.

Increased salaries of all deputy sheriffs is recommended; increase in salary of District Attorney from $2700 to $3000 per year and of Superior Judge from $4000 to $5000; that constables be allowed 8 cents a mile both ways when serving papers instead of 8 cents one way as at present. The jury is continuing its investigations but expects to conclude them this week.

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 17.—Approximately two feet of mud blanketed this city's business section today following recent rains. The heavy precipitation washed tons of dirt into the town from the surrounding hills. Business is at a standstill. Roads between Laguna Beach and Serra, to the south, are impassable.

SAYS BURNS FROM X-RAY WERE FATAL

Widow Sues Doctors and Hospital for $30,000 for Death of Husband

SANTA ANA, Feb. 17. — Charging that "negligent and unskillful" application of the X-ray by physicians attending M. J. Hanmore, Fullerton oil worker, resulted in severe X-ray burns that caused the death of Hanmore, suit for $30,000 damages has been filed in Superior Court by the widow, Alice Hanmore, and her two sons, K. Guilford and Heath Hanmore.

The action was brought against Drs. Claude E. Steen, Emerald J. Steen and John A. Wahlen of Brea and Fullerton, the College of Medical Evangelists and the White Memorial Hospital of Los Angeles. The hospital is said to be controlled by the College of Medical Evangelists.

Hanmore became a patient of the Brea and Fullerton physicians in March, 1926, when he suffered stomach pains and loss of appetite, it is stated in the complaint. After several days of X-ray treatment he was sent by the physicians to the White Memorial Hospital for further diagnosis and treatment, it is said. His death took place August 23, 1926, and is attributed by his family to the X-ray treatments.

Attorneys Harvey & Harvey and W. F. Menton of Santa Ana are counsel for the plaintiffs in the damage action.

POMONA, Feb. 17.—After an asserted attempt to take her own life by swallowing a vial of poison as a result of marital difficulties, Mrs. Sylvia Vercheval, 805 West Holt avenue, is today recovering in Pomona Hospital after having spent a restless night in the institution.

At the time of the act last evening Mrs. Vercheval was sitting in an automobile at the rear of her husband's restaurant. Her screams after swallowing the liquid brought aid and an ambulance was called. Upon her arrival at the hospital first aid was administered and the patient pronounced out of danger. It is said that the couple have been separated for some time.

PROPOSED HIGHWAY

Promoters Advocate Road to Imperial Valley

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 17.—A new and shorter route from Riverside to Imperial Valley was brought to attention of the city Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors last night by a Los Angeles realty company, which is improving several thousand acres in Borego Valley, southwest of Hemet. While the board took no action on the proposed new road to lead south from Hemet and through Bautista, Borego Valley, Coyote Canyon and Brawley, the proposition brought forth much discussion.

Members stated that much development has been in progress along the proposed route and that within the near future a highway through that section will be necessary to tap the thousands of acres of highly developed fruit land and is also feasible as a main traffic line to Imperial Valley.

CELEBRATE FOUNDING OF SMALLEST COUNTY

CORCORAN, Feb. 17.—The Kings County Chamber of Commerce will hold a big get-together dinner at Hanford on March 11, the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of Kings county.

The county is one of the smallest counties of the State, and was for many years known as "Baby Kings." It was one of the last counties formed under State statutes, taking off parts of Kern, Fresno and Tulare to make up its territory. At the next session of the Legislature new provisions were adopted relating to the formation of new counties and the result has been no new counties have since been created.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce have voted to send its secretary and the chairman of its highway committee to Sacramento to look after the highway interests of the county.

OWENSMOUTH STILL SECTION OF FARMS

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 17.—A large part of the Owensmouth population still gets its living out of the soil, a survey just completed shows. Questionnaires turned in by 136 families indicate that only fifty-one do not engage in some kind of farming or poultry raising. Of the remainder, fifty-seven raise chickens, twenty-nine grow fruit, twenty-two are market gardeners, while thirty are divided between field crops, animal husbandry and the plant-nursery business. The figures show that the growing of field crops in San Fernando Valley is steadily decreasing in acreage.

ELKS STAGE FROLIC

Organizations of Porterville and Lindsay Make Success of Two-Day Fete

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 17.—A "hair raising" finish marked the end of the "Whiskerino" contest, special feature of the Porterville Elks' pioneer night celebration at the Green Mill Pavilion this evening.

Postmaster Edward F. Halbert and other prominent citizens are vying for honors in the hirsute race. The Green Mill has been converted into the popular version of a dance hall of '49 days.

Here cowboys with sombreros, colorful kerchiefs and gay shirts, rubbed shoulders with miners, dance-hall sirens, gamblers, sheep-men and early settlers. The two-gum hombres also will be in evidence and old-time tunes and dances will be the vogue, while modern flippers and sheiks will display their prowess in the Charleston and Black Bottom.

Tomorrow evening senoritas of old Spain will work their magic spell on toreadors, dons, tired business men of ye present day and "lounge lizards." For this event the Green Mill will have a Spanish setting, providing a fitting background for a Spanish fiesta.

Porterville and Lindsay Elks united in a body to make the two-day fete a success. A record attendance is expected from other valley points. Gratian Guerin, local musician and composer, is chairman of the entertainment committee. Elton Wilcox is Exalted Ruler of the Porterville Elks' Lodge.

HANFORD, Feb. 17.—Daisy Young, pretty 17-year-old Chinese girl, a sophomore in the high school of this city up to the time of her arrest recently in Oakland charged with conspiracy to violate the narcotic law, is the cause of an action brought in the Superior Court of this county to have her declared a ward of the local juvenile court.

She had her preliminary examination Monday and Tuesday of this week in the United States Attorney's office in San Francisco, at which there was only casual inquiry into the charge against the girl, but representatives of two banking institutions of this city presented records which they had been asked to show.

Two Federal officers were here when the petition was filed to have Daisy put in charge of the county probation officer, and it is understood the action was taken with their approval.

Her mother, an elderly Chinese woman, resides here.

Horse Struck by Automobile Falls on Boy

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 17.—Ralph Hatcher, 16-year-old high-school boy injured Tuesday when playing cowboy on a stray horse, died at the General Hospital today. Hatcher and his companion, Floyd Daley, were hurt when the horse was run down by Lynn Miller, a motorist. Daley was not badly hurt.

Hatcher and Daley caught the horse as it trotted through the streets in the residential district. Without a bridle or halter, the two boys mounted the horse and were galloping along when the animal became frightened and ran in front of Miller's car.

The horse was knocked down and fell on Hatcher. The youth received internal injuries. Late yesterday, when it appeared that Hatcher was failing, Dr. E. L. Tisinger performed an emergency operation in a final attempt to stay death. The injured youth was conscious only at intervals since the accident.

COURT FOR VAN NUYS

Valley Lawyers Hope to Establish Branch During Year

VAN NUYS, Feb. 17.—When Judge Carl Stutsman, presiding judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, makes an address in San Fernando Valley next week, something definite will be learned whether a branch of the Municipal Court is to be established here. Judge Stutsman will be the chief guest of the San Fernando Bar Association, of which Robert L. Hanley is president, when the association has its meeting at the Encino Country Club on the 23rd inst.

For some time there has been a move on by valley lawyers to have a branch court as a means to expedite local legal affairs. There is nothing of the sort in any town or community of the valley.

Recently Capt. C. A. Hodson, commander of the valley police, filed his new budget with Chief of Police Davis. One part of the budget asked for the provision of courtroom space at the present police quarters. According to Hanley, who has been in conference with Judge Stutsman, the court will be established in Van Nuys, for all of the valley as soon as certain legal phases are gone over and the matter of financing the court will have been arranged with the City Treasurer.

MISSION ACRES, Feb. 17.—One part of a large section of land near here would have been flooded with the overflow of the rains of yesterday but for an accident that happened to a large truck that sunk body deep into the mud on one side of a road leading into town.

In a short while an embankment of mud formed up against the side of the truck diverting the waters from the right to the left, making a channel in the latter direction and sending huge volumes of water over land that usually is dry after each rain.

When the owner of this land later came out to see what was causing the great amount of water on his property he found the stalled truck, and also saw that the land on the other side of the road which is usually a foot deep after each downpour was virtually free of flood waters.

TOLD TALES OF DEATH

Process Server With Bright Ideas Comes to Grief in Alhambra Court

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 17.—B. B. Dillon, Pasadena "death ruse" process server, who was accused of visiting several homes in Alhambra, San Gabriel and vicinity and frightening women with his stories of husbands or sons having been killed, was fined $150 in Judge W. M. Northrup's court today. The alternative was seventy-five days in jail. The fine was paid.

Dillon was tried on the specific charge of disturbing the peace, the complainant being E. P. Bowling, 940 South Palm street, San Gabriel, one of the asserted victims of Dillon's grewsome stories. The process server is said to have called at the Bowling home in search of information as to the whereabouts of one of the sons. He is said to have stated that a body thought to be that of the Bowling youth was in a Pasadena morgue. He told his story in such a forcible manner that the father visited the morgue, only to learn that he had been cruelly hoaxed.

Another charge of a similar nature brought by Mrs. Ellen George of Wilmat was continued by Judge Northrup, pending the future conduct of the defendant.

Dillon offered no defense for his actions. He is in the employ of a Pasadena attorney, and in each case sought to locate persons to serve a summons in a civil case. The death stories were used to obtain information as to the persons he wanted to serve with the papers. He was arrested in San Gabriel on the 11th inst. by City Marshal A. E. Manser of that city.

CRISIS PAST IN FIGHT OF FILM STAR

Mabel Normand Reported Out of Danger But Weak as Result of Attack.

With the crisis of her illness passed, Mabel Normand, film actress, was declared out of danger last night by attending physicians. She passed the crisis at 8 o'clock last night, they stated, and her temperature is again normal. She is very weak, but smiling and her friends have nothing to fear, according to a statement by Dr. George K. Dazey, Santa Monica specialist, after a consultation with Dr. H. Clifford Loos of Los Angeles.

She spent a restful forenoon yesterday, partook of fruit juices and coffee for breakfast and her condition had so far improved by afternoon that her husband, Lew Cody, left the Santa Monica Hospital and returned to his home at Beverly Hills. He is in constant communication with her by telephone.

Early yesterday morning, after her temperature dropped, she enjoyed a restful sleep.

Her secretary, Julia Brew, is in attendance at the hospital and answers all telephone calls and receives all visitors who are not allowed to see the patient.

The film comedian was taken to the Santa Monica Hospital on Tuesday, last, suffering with bronchial pneumonia and believed to be suffering with an abscess of the right lung. This, however, has proved to be nothing more than a congested condition, her physicians said.

WIFE MUST SHARE IN DOG SALE

Court So Rules After Husband Uses Money to Meet His Attorney's Fee in Action for Divorce; Car Disposed of to Pay Her Legal Bill

Charles Haver's sale of the community dog, as he explained in great detail to Judge Bowron yesterday, was the last of a series of financial operations, each one of which was absolutely necessary, but the total result of which was practical insolvency.

Haver was before the court on the application of his wife, Myrtle Haver, for an order requiring him to pay her half the proceeds of the sale of the dog. A divorce action is pending.

"Judge, we used to have a radio, an automobile and a dog, all community property," Haver testified. "Then Mrs. Haver started this lawsuit. A while back the court made an order giving me custody of the dog, and so far that is all I have got out of this suit, and I don't have that any more.

"I sold the radio to raise a payment due on the automobile. Then I sold the automobile to pay the fee of Roland Maxwell, attorney for my wife.

"Finally I sold the dog and paid my own attorney, William Kendrick, Jr."

"What!" exclaimed Judge Bowron. "Does Attorney Kendrick only get the price of a dog out of this?"

"Your Honor, it was a very good dog," put in Attorney Kendrick. "It sold for $100, which is a very fair payment on account of counsel fees, just to start off with, as these things go."

"Well, that sounds better," remarked the judge. "But just the same Mr. Haver had no business paying his own attorney with money belonging to his wife. He can pay his wife's attorney with his own money, of course, but that is an entirely different matter. The dog was half hers, being a community dog, and she is entitled to her half of the sale proceeds. Mr. Haver will have to pay her $50."

As Haver did not have the $50, Judge Bowron extended him a line of credit on the account, and called for the next case.

A resolution similar to the one passed by the Bakersfield Club was indorsed by the West Side unit, and will be forwarded to Senator James J. Wagy and Assemblyman Robert L. Patterson, with requests to present the project before the State Legislature at this session of the State governing body.

The movement was started here by C. A. Barlow because of the fact that the Breed bill now pending before the Legislature does not include the Tehachapi highway as a primary road.

Telephone Man Meets Death by Electrocution

VENTURA, Feb. 17.—While repairing a telephone line of the Southern California Edison Company, a mile and a half from Moorpark, yesterday afternoon, Carlton L. Lippert, 27 years of age, of Santa Paula, was electrocuted when he accidentally picked up a wire which crossed a 60,000-volt power line of the company.

Lippert was taken to the Edison company warehouse at Moorpark, where doctors and workmen strove for more than three hours to revive him.

Lippert and Wayne Gurmann and another lineman of the Edison company had been working on lines that had been damaged in the storm when the accident occurred. An inquest is to be held in the Diffenderffer mortuary at Oxnard tonight by Coroner Reardon. The electrocuted man is survived by his wife and small son, who live in Santa Paula.

NEW BASEBALL COACH FOR PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 17.—C. L. Eggleston, a new member of the staff of Porterville Union High School this year, will act as coach during the baseball season. Eggleston has had considerable experience with the game and is known as a good coach. He declares the baseball season will start as soon as basketball is over. Those who are not turning out for track will be rounded up for baseball, an effort being made not to interfere with track men this year.

CONDOLENCES SENT CHAMBERS FAMILY

Members of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted a resolution deploring the death of the late Edward Chambers, vice-president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who was killed in San Francisco a few days ago when he leaped from the window of a hospital during a temporary fit of insanity. The resolution will be forwarded to officials of the Santa Fe Railroad and members of Mr. Chambers's family.

VALLEY GETS NEWS VIA AIR

Storm Editions Go to Imperial in Plane

Flyer Carries "The Times"

Maj. C. C. Moseley (in plane) and mechanic receive bundles of The Times from C. G. Magee (lower left) and E. J. Wiltman, prior to departure for Imperial Valley.

THE hum of an airplane motor over Imperial heralded the arrival of the first late news of the storm at noon today when Maj. C. C. Moseley, general manager of the Western Air Express, circled the city with his ship loaded with copies of the Los Angeles Times.

A landing was made on a muddy field four miles out of Imperial. Hundreds of persons had gathered and eagerly sought the latest stories and photographs of storm-wrecked districts, which appeared in The Times.

Maj. Moseley left the Los Angeles air port at 10:48 o'clock in the morning with his plane loaded with nearly 600 pounds of Times copies and arrived in Imperial Valley at 12:15.

The Los Angeles Times brought the first newspaper into the valley which contained full reports and pictures of the storm.

Seven inches of rain fall within forty-eight hours north of Springville.

Several rivers and creeks in the vicinity of Santa Barbara overflowed, damaging farm lands and highways. Stearns wharf was damaged by high tides and Peabody Stadium was overrun with flood water and covered with silt. One Mission Ridge water main was reported destroyed.

The entire San Dieguito Valley was reported flooded late yesterday, with Del Mar, Solana Beach, Cardiff and Encinitas virtually isolated at the close of a record-breaking rainfall of seven and one-half inches in that section. Ten inches of rain fell at Lake Hodges.

A large water main supplying Del Mar, Solana Beach, La Jolla, Cardiff and the Mission Hills district of San Diego was carried away in the flood. Del Mar has six weeks' water supply in a reservoir. The town has seen neither mail nor newspapers for two days.

Three hundred and fifty persons, including ninety-four members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, were marooned at Oceanside yesterday. They were being cared for at private homes, while every effort was being made to re-establish transportation facilities.

HEMET ISOLATED

The city of Hemet also was isolated because of the torrents roaring down the mountainsides. Unverified reports said that the Perk dam which confines Lake Hemet had broken. Aviators flying over the territory could not verify the report because of the rain squalls and low hanging clouds. The last report, however, said the dam still was holding.

Thermal was flooded with four feet of water and Coachella was threatened with inundation when a raging flood swept down Whitewater Wash. The dike on the Indio side stood firm, although crews of men labored throughout the night to strengthen the levees.

The outstanding tragedy of the storm occurred at Camp 72 of the Edison Company on Big Creek, sixty-three miles east of Fresno, where five were killed, twenty-three injured and eight missing in a huge snowslide. Rescue workers were searching the snowbank for the missing men who were buried into its depths Tuesday.

DAMAGE $50,000

Damage to city bridges and approaches was estimated at approximately $50,000 yesterday by R. W. Stewart, chief deputy of the City Engineer's department, following a two days' tour of inspection. All of the damaged structures, he said, were of wooden construction, the newer concrete bridges having stood firm. Stewart was accompanied by M. Butler of the bridges and structures division on his inspection trip.

Perhaps the most serious damage was caused when the wooden bridge at Pass avenue in Dark Canyon was carried away and crashed into the Victory Boulevard bridge, tearing away nearly 150 feet of that structure. This bridge had not yet been opened to traffic.

A large gang of workmen were sent to repair the San Fernando Boulevard span yesterday and it is believed it will be opened to traffic this evening. Actual damage to this bridge was slight, Stewart said, but it was ordered closed as a measure of safety. A wing dam must be built to protect about fifteen houses in the vicinity of Glendale Boulevard bridge, where high water cut a wide channel behind the county flood control levee. Part of the piling was washed away. Work on this is to be started immediately and the city will help the county in making repairs if necessary, Stewart said.

MANY LANDSLIDES

Heavy landslides were reported along Mulholland Drive and many hillside roads are entirely blocked, particularly in Laurel Canyon. Inspectors said they had not been able to reach the hill region yesterday, but expect to do so today.

M. M. Meyer, general superintendent of street maintenance, had not completed his investigation last evening and could make no accurate estimate of the damage in his division. However, he said it probably would amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

Balancing the storm damage against the benefits, County Forester Turner said yesterday that on the whole the storm was of great benefit to the forest areas in the county.

"We have just about completed the season's work of reforestation and seed planting in the mountains and foothills and the rains are of tremendous value to that work," said Mr. Turner. "We have planted tens of thousands of pines and have seeded thousands of acres to brush seed of various varieties. The rains came just in time for this work."

On the other hand, according to Mr. Turner and his chief assistant, Joe Davis, considerable damage was done to the department's fire trails and roads into the otherwise inaccessible mountain areas, which will require about $50,000 to repair the damage and put the trails in shape again to handle possible fire emergencies in the summer. A number of forestry camps are marooned and pack trains have been pressed into service to carry food and supplies to them, one at Grimly Flats, another at Gold Creek and one back of Sister Elsie Peak. The trail camp near Big Pines was washed out and all but blown away last Tuesday.

Storm water pounding at the gas mains of the Southern California Gas Company caused seven breaks in the system, which were repaired without interruption of service. A crew of service men were marooned two days in Carbon Canyon, where they had been repairing a break when the roads washed out above and below them.

ADDED SHIP TRIPS

In addition to chartering the S.S. Avalon for two round trips to San Diego for the special accommodation of travelers during the interference to rail and motor travel caused by the storm, the Los Angeles Steamship Company has changed its schedule of the S.S. Yale, putting her for a special run to San Diego Sunday afternoon.

The Avalon, sailing at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Yale-Harvard dock at Wilmington, will sail on her return trip from San Diego at 9 a.m. Monday. The Yale will sail from Wilmington at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, arriving at San Diego at 8 p.m. Returning, this liner will leave San Diego at 9 a.m. Monday, to arrive at Wilmington at 2 p.m. She will again leave for San Diego at 3 p.m. Monday, returning from the Diego at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and arriving at Wilmington at 2 p.m. The same afternoon she will sail for San Francisco at 4 o'clock.

With the Harvard back in service following her annual overhauling, the Yale and Harvard will resume their regular schedule of four sailings weekly to and from San Diego and San Francisco on Tuesday.

BRIDGES SUFFER

Preliminary surveys of Los Angeles county's highway system, conducted by O. P. Cooley, assistant road superintendent, showed a number of bridges throughout the county wholly washed away by the storm waters while nearly all suffered more or less damage. Waters of the Los Angeles River in the Atwater section were receding from the 100 homes which were inundated.

MONROVIA

A dozen orange groves in Duarte were flooded when two flood-control canals became clogged, but the water spread over such a wide area that little damage was done. Three automobiles were washed from Huntington Drive into Sawpit and Santa Anita washes but none of the drivers was injured.

SANTA ANA

Two new breaks in the banks of the Santa Ana River caused alarm during the storm. The most serious occurred a mile north of Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, where the river poured over its banks into the Baltz Ranch and into orchards lands. Two houses were swept into Santiago Creek.

LONG BEACH

The first death resulting from the storm in Long Beach was reported yesterday, when Joseph Biddlecome, Jr., 4 years of age, was drowned in a flood-control channel near Long Beach Boulevard. The boy was playing along the channel bank when he slipped and was borne away by the swift current. The body was taken to a Long Beach fire station and a pulmotor used but life was extinct.

City Manager Henderson estimated Long Beach's storm damage at $75,000.

REDLANDS

Streams in the vicinity of Redlands rapidly are returning to normal, while gangs of men are busy repairing the highways and telephone and telegraph systems, which were damaged.

PASADENA

Eighty-five feet of water lay behind Devil's Gate Dam in Arroyo Seco, bringing the impounded flood waters to the highest level reached since December, 1922. Flood waters begin to run through the spillway when they reach the ninety-foot level. The lake back of the dam now contains approximately 4,500 acre feet of water.

Samuel B. Morris, superintendent of the Pasadena water department, declared the storm had been of an immense benefit to the water supply of the Crown City. He said the dam served a double purpose controlling the flood waters and retaining a future water supply.

SANTA BARBARA

Many homes were flooded on the lower east side of Santa Barbara, Stearns's wharf was damaged by high tides, Peabody Stadium was overrun with flood water and covered with silt, a Mission Ridge water main was destroyed and all foothill and mountain roads were damaged by the storm. Several bridges were washed out or damaged so that they were closed to traffic. The Santa Maria River overflowed its banks and all lowland sections in the vicinity of Santa Barbara are under water.

BURBANK

Because of the efficiency of numerous check dams installed in Stough Canyon above the city, minimum damage resulted from the storm. The 6.6 inches of water which fell flowed off evenly and did not leave the usual wake of debris and gravel.

POMONA

Careful check of the storm's damage here indicated that it is not as great as had been feared. Damage to city streets is estimated at $6000 and it is expected it will cost $3500 to remove debris throughout the city. Ganesha Park was damaged considerably, 100 feet of wall lining the banks of San Jose Creek was torn away and roads were damaged badly in places, according to city officials.

BRAWLEY

Trains and stages are tied up south of Banning and near Indio, but there is no service to Los Angeles. Power lines are up again and telephone and telegraph wires are working. Some damage was suffered by lettuce, but because there has been a curtailment of the output and shipments, the market is expected to react under the adverse conditions.

VENTURA

The sun shone brightly again yesterday after the longest wet spell experienced in the county this season. Rain ended Wednesday night at 6 o'clock, 4.89 inches having fallen during the storm. The total for the season was 13.54, as against only 10.48 inches at this time last year.

ANAHEIM

The dike which protects this city from the Santa Ana River broke Wednesday night and yesterday a small stream of flood water was coursing through the streets. The break is five miles east of the town and about a half mile of the dike is out. Sand bags have been thrown up by 100 men and the situation is expected to be handled without difficulty. The main highway to Santa Ana was opened yesterday morning and water in the flooded areas in Anaheim and in Fullerton is receding. Rainfall during the storm was 6.82 inches; the season, 13.33, and last year, 6.15.

STORM HELP TO BEACH AT PORT

Man-Made Strand Improved by Pounding of Waves in Recent Rain

Pounded successively by a southeast and then a southwest gale, the man-made beach playground that is being pumped into the ocean at the outer side of the government breakwater at San Pedro was found yesterday to have withstood all the ravages of a violent surf and heavy tides that accompanied the storm just ended. A technical report made to the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department stated that the beach, now nearly ten acres in area, was improved by the heavy seas rather than washed.

The tides packed the sands that are pumped from the inner harbor side of the breakwater to make the new beach. On a day prior to the start of the rain more than 3000 adults and children utilized the beach for recreation.

Because the new strand is being covered with a deposit of shells, many of them of strange varieties and dug from inner harbor depths, children are gathering vast numbers, frequenting the playground even during the days of heaviest rain.

ANOTHER STORM NEARING COAST

Low Pressure Area from Subtropics North

Expected to Strike Today, Rain Predicted

Road and Rail Traffic Still Disorganized

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—The Bay District, experiencing its second day of comparative freedom from storm ravages which have taken heavy toll elsewhere along the Pacific Coast prepared today to combat a new storm of admittedly menacing proportions which is approaching off the Pacific Ocean.

Forecaster T. R. Reed of the United States Weather Bureau said that the extreme eastern edge of the last of three low-pressure areas which have been in sight for more than a week, probably will reach the Northern California coast by tomorrow and rain is to be expected, accompanied by winds of varying velocity. The real strength of the storm should make itself felt in the next thirty-six hours, he predicted.

TREMENDOUS SCOPE

The weather chart shows the approaching low-pressure area to be of tremendous scope, extending from a point in the subtropics north to the Aleutian Islands. The barometer in San Francisco at 8 p.m. today was as low as 29.7. A report from the steamer West Chopaka, in longitude 153 west and latitude 43 north (almost due west of Portland,) reveals a barometer of 29, which is extraordinarily low.

A high-pressure area is advancing to meet the low from off the upper Canadian reaches, bringing cold weather with it, but it probably will have little effect along the Pacific Coast as it undoubtedly will be deflected eastward by the Rockies before it can check the low.

FIRST DEATH REPORTED

The first death attributed indirectly to the storm in the bay area was reported today. Mrs. Sarah Starkey, 83 years of age, was fatally injured by an automobile at Palo Alto last night while crossing a street with an umbrella raised. She was unable to see the approaching car, it was reported.

Intermittent rain fell throughout Northern and Central California, bringing all weather stations to above normal precipitation for the season.

San Francisco, so far this season, has had 18.69 inches, which is 9.67 above normal. During the week to date 2.36 inches have fallen and since February 1, precipitation has been 4.74. Normal rainfall for the entire month is 3.14.

San Jose reported 9.89 inches for the season, or 6.10 above normal. Stockton, with 9.96, is .36 above normal.

SIGNAL CARGO LOST

Trans-bay shipping is proceeding with the utmost caution tonight. Although bay waters are calm, more than 200 cases of airway parachute flashes for the guidance of airplanes and smoke puffs, are believed to be afloat and probably well spread. They broke loose from the explosives carrier Paul Noyes yesterday when the barge listed heavily in a swell and lost part of its cargo while en route from Fort Mason to the Bolinas arsenal. There is no danger in the parachute flashes, Commandant C. E. Partridge announced, but the smoke puffs, which contain black powder, may explode if struck.

The California Automobile Association reported today that both the inland and coast highways are open to traffic, but unnecessary trips are held inadvisable. The Redwood highway still is closed by a landslide near Scotia.

Transcontinental rail traffic also was interrupted by slides in the mountains. Two hundred feet of Southern Pacific track went out at Blue Canyon in the Sierras. The Western Pacific experienced a slide at Rich in Plumas Canyon that managed to clear the tracks and get trains through behind schedule. All available work crews are rushing clearance on the Southern Pacific and it is expected to resume traffic tonight.

HEAVY SNOW IN SIERRAS

Two feet of snow has fallen at Summit station in the high Sierras in the last twenty-four hours. Average depth is now 184 inches. There are 40 inches at Blue Canyon, 92 inches at Lake Tahoe and 73 inches in Sequoia National Park.

Following are the rainfall measurements, in inches, reported by Northern California stations at 5 p.m. today:

VENICE COOK CUTS THROAT IN LOVE ROW

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Feb. 17.—Nervous from working all night in the threatened flood area here, and despondent over a love affair, Jack Staples, 23 years of age, of 1710 Speedway, a restaurant cook, today slashed his throat with a razor blade. Gus Mareus, a fellow-employee, carried Staples to the Venice Emergency Hospital and Dr. Saylin dressed the wound. Staples will recover.

RAIN AIDS POWER SOURCES

Bay District Companies Report Favorable Outlook in Streams High in Mountains

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (Exclusive)—Exceptionally favorable conditions throughout their systems are reported by Bay District power companies in the wake of the unusually heavy rain storms throughout California.

A canvass of the Pacific Gas and Electric Corporation, Great Western Power, Sierra Power and the San Joaquin Light and Power today showed power dams at higher levels than in the past few years and power feeding streams flowing evenly and steadily.

ABOVE AVERAGE

The Pacific Gas and Electric Corporation announced that the seasonal rainfall to date at the 6200-foot watershed levels on its system, is 27 per cent above normal as computed for the past thirty-two years. Snowfall precipitation at the same level, however, is somewhat below the normal for the past thirty years and the snow cover—the amount of packed snow remaining after each successive fall—is slightly above the nineteen-year normal.

This means that the unusually heavy rains have tended to pack the snow, it was explained. At the same time, it was stated, the heavy rains are sluicing off the top covering of the snow in each successive fall so that the power streams are flowing more evenly than in the past four years.

The various dams of the Pacific Gas and Electric, it also was stated, are at higher levels at the present than they have been at this time in the last three years. The dams, however, are in no danger and even excessively heavy rains from now on will cause no worry.

CHANCE OF FLOOD

If any danger exists, it lies in the possibility of an excessively heavy snowfall in the immediate future, followed by a period of uninterrupted sunshine. Such a condition would cause the core of the snowpack to melt too rapidly and flood conditions might ensue.

The Hetch Hetchy reservoir is in no danger. At present it contains thirty and eight-tenths feet of water. Lack of snow on the watersheds feeding the Hetch Hetchy, it was stated, have kept the water level in the reservoir down to this point.

It also was stated that the Eschequer dam of the Merced Irrigation Company is in no danger. There is 100,000 acre feet of water backed up but the dam's capacity is 282,000 acre feet. Despite the excessive precipitation the water level has gone up only nine feet since the last storm.

WIRE SERVICES RESTORED

Telephone service in Los Angeles was back to normal last night and wire communication was established to all important key points north, south and east. While wire connections were temporary, both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph carried the load of messages yesterday with from fifteen minutes to an hour delay on long-distance service.

The first telephoto picture to leave Los Angeles was sent at 11:45 o'clock to New York carrying pictures of the Union Pacific train wreck. Service was disrupted at 2 o'clock and was not resumed until early in the evening.

ROUNDABOUT ROUTE

Telegraphic traffic east was being handled by two direct connections along the Southern Pacific route, according to W. R. Williams, superintendent of the Western Union. Messages for Imperial Valley were routed through El Paso and San Diego. The temporary service was heavily congested throughout the day by thousands of telegrams which were sent from the East to friends in Southern California expressing anxiety over their safety.

The Postal Telegraph Company reported its line to San Diego out at 5 o'clock last night, but recovered the connection at 9 o'clock. It has re-established communication for general service.

RAMONA STILL OUT

According to H. C. Louderback, general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, the only section on the San Diego circuit which could not be reached yesterday was Ramona. Lines into Hemet were down and a feeble connection was made on the Indio circuit, five miles from the town.

Telephone service to San Francisco and San Diego was practically normal, with communication established with Dallas, Chicago and Phoenix for transcontinental communications.

RAIN GIVES PROMISE OF HUGE CROPS

San Fernando Valley Men, Optimistic, Say Damage Outweighed by Benefits

In the San Fernando Valley area the benefits that will be received when balanced against the damage done will outweigh the damage four to one and as a result of the storm the valley will produce the greatest bumper crops in its history, according to W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the directorate of the Security Trust and Savings Bank at Van Nuys and water commissioner and C. T. Wardlaw, chairman of the directorate of the California Bank at Van Nuys. Both are ranchers.

According to Captain of Police Hodson of Van Nuys but nominal damage has been sustained on account of the storm in the various cities of the valley. None of the bridges are washed out with the exception of the Pacific Electric viaduct over the Vineland Wash in the Lankershim district and the bridge leading to Dark Canyon Pass in the Burbank district.

Bridges, however, in various sections had been taken out of service and traffic interrupted until it can be determined whether they are safe.

According to L. C. Abels of the Reseda district no reports have been received there of any loss of chickens or rabbits nor at the Runnymede district, though it is expected that the storm may affect egg production momentarily. F. W. Myrick, residing at 6310 Lindley avenue at Reseda, which section received the brunt of the flood, declared that his chickens were never in danger.

The newly laid strip of paving on Haselton avenue in Van Nuys was damaged not to exceed $1000 instead of $80,000 as reported, according to Mr. Wardlaw.

Assistant City Engineer Langworthy of Burbank said:

"The principal damage done at Burbank was to a few small pieces of paving and curbing. It can all be covered with $2000 excepting the damage to the bridge at the foot of Olive street that leads to Dark Canyon Pass. That was carried out by the Los Angeles River."

Al Geideburg, who operates an oil station at the bridge and who formerly operated a restaurant there, said yesterday that his loss will be $12,000.

Burbank officials had a steam shovel and a tractor on the job yesterday starting the preliminary work to put in a new bridge.

Five acres of ground was snatched away by the river from the First National Pictures acreage but no buildings were lost, officials said yesterday.

Two Routes to Coast Blocked by Landslides

COALINGA, Feb. 17. (AP)—Two routes to the coast from Coalinga, Fresno county, have been closed as the result of landslides in the hills west of here.

A slide on the Parkfield Grade, sixteen miles west of Coalinga, and the rising waters in the creek at the junction of the Parkfield and Warthan Canyon roads have made travel impossible.

On the Peach Tree Mountain road, a portion of the Sierra-to-the-Sea Highway route, another slide has closed the road to travel. A week will be required to clear the roads, it is reported here.

During the present storm more than six inches of rain has fallen at the top of Parkfield Mountain.

DIGGERS IN SLIDE FIND ONE VICTIM

Body of Camp Caretaker Recovered as Rescuers Brave New Avalanche

FRESNO, Feb. 17. (AP)—The body of Frank Finn, 48 years of age, caretaker at Camp 72, which was partially wiped out by the snow slides of Tuesday morning, was recovered by rescue workers at the foot of the slide today. Finn has been listed as killed, but missing, so that the death list still stands at thirteen, six of the dead having been found.

Word of the finding of Finn's body was sent to Coroner Kennedy today by officials of the Southern California Edison Company who are directing a force of fifty men in an effort to find the seven missing bodies.

Intrenching themselves at the foot of the slide, which moved about a half mile altogether, members of the crew began today a systematic search for bodies of the victims.

Tractors are being employed to make paths for the workers, so that in the event of another slide, they may run to safety behind the trees at the edge of the slide area.

Finn's body was located on Tuesday, between the first and second slides, by the first rescue party, but could not be removed before the second major slide came. It was located again today some distance down the mountainside.

RAIL WRECK DEATH HELD ACT OF GOD

Jury Finds Union Pacific Used Due Care to Avoid Puente Creek Disaster

"An act of Providence" was held responsible yesterday by a Coroner's jury for the death of Charles Ireland, killed in the Union Pacific train wreck Tuesday. The jury found that "excessive storm waters" had so undermined the bridge at the place that a girder collapsed and ground Engineer Ireland to pieces, and that this was an act of Providence.

Deputy Coroner Monfort and the jury were told by witnesses that an hour before the Los Angeles Limited crashed through the bridge a 2000-ton freight train with sixty or seventy cars safely passed over the structure, that the Limited was traveling thirty or thirty-five miles an hour at the time it ran onto the bridge, that railroad inspectors had taken extra pains in examining the track because of the recent rains, but that the weakening of the bridge was hidden beyond even cautious inquiry.

Witnesses examined were Conductor J. I. White, Head Brakeman Charles B. Crawley, Deputy Sheriff Croushorn and H. O. Russell, an Ireland family friend, who provided the identification.

"No others were killed—all passengers and members of the crew have been accounted for," White testified.

Each of the seven persons injured in the accident was reported at their hospitals last night to be recovering.

Funeral services for the wreck victim will be conducted from the chapel of Cunningham & O'Connor, 1081 South Grand avenue, at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow, and requiem mass at 9 o'clock tomorrow, from St. Mary's Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Ireland was born in California, and resided here all of his life. Besides his widow, he leaves two daughters, Margaret M. and Dorothy Ireland.

TWO SAN DIEGO ROADS CLOSED

Paving Washed Out and Bridge Missing

Highway North Passable But Held Dangerous

Several Towns Isolated by Rising Water

Both the coast and inland routes to San Diego remain closed, according to reports received from the San Diego office of the Automobile Club of Southern California late yesterday. On the coast highway 600 feet of pavement has been washed out just north of Oceanside, according to the advices, and the bridge north of Del Mar is reported washed out. At a point fourteen miles south of Santa Ana 200 yards of pavement is washed out and almost twenty feet of the roadbed has been cut away.

The inland route is closed at three points, the Auto Club stated. Slides and washouts just south of Escondido and north of Fallbrook, and deep water making the road impassable between Elsinore and Murrietta were the causes of trouble on this route.

ROAD TO NORTH OPEN

The Coast highway north is reported open and passable this morning, although some slow driving is necessary between Ventura and Santa Barbara and in the vicinity of Santa Maria, where the Santa Maria River has overflowed its banks.

The Ridge road is open between San Fernando and Bakersfield, but the only road available from Los Angeles to San Fernando is by way of Ventura and Van Nuys boulevards, the San Fernando Road being closed at Pacoima Wash.

Roads into the Imperial Valley by way of Foothill Boulevard and San Bernardino are open and passable the entire distance to El Centre, it is stated, but the route is in poor condition in places. It is possible to get into Palm Springs by leaving the Imperial Valley road at Garnet Station.

Up to a late hour yesterday afternoon the Valley Boulevard still was closed because the bridge had not yet been repaired at Spadra, it was reported to the Automobile Club touring bureau.

BRIDGE WASHED OUT

The bridge was washed out by the storm at the entrance to Mill Creek Canyon, closing the road to Forest Home and Seven Oaks.

Due to disconnecting phone lines no report on conditions at Big Bear Lake and vicinity had been received.

Waterman Canyon road to Arrowhead Lake was reported open last night, but in poor condition. Santa Ana Canyon road still is closed because of slides.

Due to congestion on Los Feliz Boulevard, motorists residing in Burbank may reach that section more quickly by driving by way of Cahuenga Pass to Lankershim and Victory Boulevard on Magnolia avenue, the Auto Club advised.

Reports now state that the road is open and passable into the Owens Valley as far as Bishop, but is still in poor condition. Westgard and Montgomery Pass routes are not advisable for travel.

TOWNS CUT OFF

At a point one-fourth of a mile west of the Big Tujunga bridge on the San Gabriel-San Fernando road fifty feet of pavement was washed out, closing the route.

Gillespie dam on the Bankhead Highway in Arizona still is closed because of high water.

Reports from the vicinity of Perris indicated that the San Jacinto River has overflowed its banks, and at a point just east of Perris the river was reported to be nearly one mile wide, closing the road between that point and Hemet. It was reported that the entire vicinity of Lakeview and Nuevo in the San Jacinto and Perris valleys have suffered heavy damage by high water. The towns of San Jacinto and Hemet are cut off from communication with the outer world, it was indicated in many attempts to call the cities yesterday.

PASSENGERS ON TRAINS RESCUED

slight, but the train was delayed six hours, officials stated. No one was hurt.

The Union Pacific expects to complete a temporary bridge within the next three days over Puente Creek, where Tuesday night a crack limited plunged into the river when the bridge gave way.

San Diego still was cut off from Los Angeles yesterday both by steam and auto transportation, according to Santa Fe officials, and reports from the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. The Santa Fe line to San Diego probably will be restored to service within forty-eight hours, it was said.

SOME STILL HALTED

On the Pacific Electric lines shortline traffic to Venice was restored by means of shuttle service at Albright City, two miles west of Vineyard, where 100 feet of track was washed out. The Glendale line still is out of service, but passengers were being taken as far as Ivanhoe, where a section of a bridge over the Los Angeles River was washed out. At this point the passengers were being transferred to buses, which operate to Glenhurst on the other side of the river to connect with trains there.

It will take at least two or three days to repair the bridge, company officials said.

The Glendora line still was out of service because of high water at Duarte cut. Passengers were taken as far as Monrovia and thence to Glendora by buses.

All service to San Fernando Valley points still was discontinued because of high water near Universal City, although local service in the valley was maintained. The Newport-Balboa line was open only as far as Gamewell, three miles north of Newport, while the La Habra line was open only to Yorba Linda and Fullerton with a walk over at Walker on the Los Angeles River where a bridge was out.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 643 The Capture of Jackson (Miss.) by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

GRANT PRESSED THE ADVANTAGE HE HAD WON AT THE BATTLE OF RAYMOND (MAY 12, 1863), AND MARCHED AT ONCE TO ATTACK JACKSON, THE CAPITAL OF MISSISSIPPI. THE CITY AT THAT TIME WAS HELD BY 11,000 CONFEDERATES OF JOHNSTON'S ARMY, AMONG THEM THE TROOPS THAT HAD RETREATED FROM RAYMOND.

ON MAY 14TH, MCPHERSON'S AND SHERMAN'S UNION CORPS MADE A JOINT ATTACK UPON JACKSON. JOHNSTON'S TROOPS MADE A GALLANT STAND, BUT WERE DRIVEN BACK AND, WHEN A FEDERAL FLANKING MOVEMENT THREATENED THEIR REAR, ABANDONED THE CITY AND RETREATED NORTHWARD TOWARD CANTON.

THE UNION FORCES IMMEDIATELY TOOK POSSESSION OF THE CITY. GRANT'S WHOLE FORCE, NUMBERING ABOUT 43,000 MEN, NOW LAY BETWEEN THE TWO CONFEDERATE ARMIES OF JOHNSTON AND PEMBERTON. GRANT PROPOSED TO STRIKE AT PEMBERTON'S ARMY AND CRUSH IT OUTSIDE THE FORTIFICATIONS OF VICKSBURG.

WHILE GRANT WAS ADVANCING ON PEMBERTON, WITH ABOUT 85,000 MEN, HE MOVED OUT OF VICKSBURG AND OCCUPIED A STRONG DEFENSIVE POSITION NEAR THE DEPOT. HERE HE REMAINED FROM MAY 16 TO THE 18TH OF MAY.

Some Don't Some Do

This world is full of things some people want—other people do not want. In many homes are surplus items—bits of furniture, bric-a-brac, garden tools. In offices are typewriters, adding machines, filing cabinets, desks. Out on farms are implements of many uses.

These things no longer serve usefully where they are; perhaps they are only in the way. Nothing wrong with them—just surplus. And SOMEBODY can use them—needs them.

To find uses for such things is the task of TIMES WANT ADS. Under the heading of "Miscellaneous For Sale" you can find most any day one or more needed articles at much-reduced prices.

A MAN LOANED ME
$10.00

That was four months ago. He also gave me a job, and out of that job I have made more money than I ever made before. Prior to that time I was a professional man, but in the four months in this new line I have found that my previous years were practically wasted. I have now been put into a position where I can employ other men in the same line and if you have any "get up and get" to you there is no reason why you cannot make better than $150 a week. I prefer young men who have previously sold something, but that is not absolutely essential. If you want to earn money and have the right amount of ambition I can put you right to work. Come in and see me today. LIEUTENANT KOHLES, 726 S. Spring.
